Guides enjoy 3-day outing

Shiking, swimming and snowshoeing. These were the highlights of the get-together by Girl Guides and Kings held recently at Killam. Girls from Viking and New Sarepta joined the Killam-Sedgewick Guides for a weekend of fun.

Arriving Friday evening at Killam Legion Hall, the girls first enjoyed a "get-to-know-you" game and then went swimming at the Aqueduct. After changing pants, enjoying a sing-song, having hot chocolate and cookies, it was time for lights out.

Saturday's activities were spent at the campsite at the Battle River on highway 26, where lunch was cooked over a campfire. Everyone had the opportunity to try their talents at shiking and snowshoeing. Coming back to the hall, the girls enjoyed a turkey meal. The turkey had been cooked by Mrs. Tiffin, and Mrs. Sandra Grant was on hand to oversee the rest of the preparations. Swimming, bowling, games, a campfire led by the Rangers, and hot chocolate brought a busy day in a close.

Sunday's main activity was attending various churches in Killam, followed by lunch, and then a choice of swimming, skating or bowling. As the flag came down at 4:00 p.m., many of the parents had already arrived to pick up their girls.

TOWN & COUNTRY DRUG MART

Get SMART by March 1st. After all, it's your income.

Open a Commerce SMART Home Ownership Savings Plan or a Commerce SMART Retirement Savings Plan, and do it by March 1st.

Because the money you deposit in either or both of these Plans between now and then, is deductible from your taxable income for 1976 within the limits of the Income Tax Act.

At the Commerce, we call that SMART, because you can Save Money And Reduce Taxes. In fact, you really save twice: once for your future (home or retirement) and again by reducing your taxable income.

While March 1st is certainly not your last chance to open a SMART Plan (you can open a Plan anytime), it's your last chance to take advantage of its 1976 benefits.

Come talk to us soon. Let us explain how the Plans work, and why they can help you save.

Last year's income may seem past history to you, but it could mean a whole new future.

Kevin Peterson
The Loughheed government, with a promise to bring more emphasis on the Three Rs to education, has begun the current Legislature session with its own list of the Three Rs: Energy, Economy and Education.

Lieutenant-Governor Ralph St. einhauer, reading the Throne Speech dressed in his native robes instead of the traditional suit, outlined a lengthy package of social and economic initiatives the province hopes to accomplish this year.

The largest concrete promise was in the field of energy: $180 million will be budgeted for work on more efficient extraction of the province's crude oil reserves, better use of renewable energy resources and research on coal mining.

Premier Peter Lougheed promised before Christmas that he would become more personally involved in education and the general legislative plan follows that up.

"There will be a re-assessment ... of our basic education system and the priorities that should be given to certain goals and objectives," the speech promised. "A shift in emphasis to basic skills may be indicated."

As part of the education program, the 21-page speech also promised Alberta's long-criticized literacy system is in for more attention with "significantly increased financial support."

The Throne speech said this may be "the crucial year in this decade" as the premier pursues his plan of diversifying Alberta's economy.

Alberta has already been lobbying for relaxed petrochemical tariffs that would allow for development of a plastic industry here that would export products to the United States. The premier made a U.S. tour during 1976 that urged business leaders there to lobby Ottawa for a change in current tariffs.

The speech also said the government will work for better access to domestic and world markets for Alberta farm products to bring stable prosperity to provincial farm producers.

Within the province the government said it would place "continued emphasis on the development of agricultural processing industries (which are) a vital part of the province's diversification strategy."

Opening day of the Legislature, traditionally a quiet if ceremonial affair devoted to

Regional fun days held at Sedgewick

44th Regional Fun Days were held in the Sedgewick Rec. Centre with 4-11's from clubs in the East Central Region participating in curling and bowling.

The Regional Meeting was held during the day in the Social Room of the Rec. Centre. Plans are underway to celebrate the 60th anniversary year of 4-11 in Alberta in 1977. Plans and displays will be made available for clubs to use in local parades and fairs.

On May 7 the Department of Highways are sponsoring a clean up of Alberta's Highways (ditches). Local 4-11 clubs will be paid on a per mile basis for the cleanup campaign.

Regional Days will be held in Hughenden July 22 and 23. These days will coincide with Hughenden's 60th Anniversary.

A discussion regarding the proposed 4-11 centre on Battle Lake was led by Mrs. Carol Aratara, Mrs. Veronica Prebst and Mrs. Dorothy Regney, President of the 4-11 Advisory Council of Alberta. This centre is still in the planning stages.

Reporter: Herb Whitten

The Throne Speech, also witnessed a rare opposition offensive.

The Seccreds rose to propose that the committee which will oversee the Heritage Fund be chaired by an opposition member. The proposal will be debated later in the session.

END IN COMPETITIONS — These Sedgewick skaters received medals at Competitions held Sunday, Feb. 27th at Sedgewick. The best club placed med in club standings, Hardisty winning 1st place. Midgets in provincials

The Sedgewick Midgets have entered Provincial D. Playdowns. In their first series they defeated Hadden Midgets 4 to 0 in one game and as a result a second game was not necessary. Scoring for Sedgewick in this game were Gary Simpson with 4 goals and 2 each were made by M. McConnell, C. Gascayne, L. Anderson, M. Mann and D. Jack. Earning assists were M. McConnell, J. Slavik and L. Anderson with 2 each. S. Tisdall with 2 and G. Simpson, O. Swanson, P. Mayo, E. Gascayne, D. Jack and K. Jacobsen earned one each. There were 8 minor penalties handed out by the referee with Midgets receiving 3 and Sedgewick 5.

In the second series, Sedgewick Midgets faced the Goodfish Lake Midgets. In their first game they defeated Goodfish Lake 6 to 0 to give them a 2 goal lead in the 2 game total point series. Scoring for Sedgewick were G. Simpson with 4 goals and J. Slavik and M. McConnell scored the other goals. Earning assists were K. Jacobsen with 2 and one each to M. McConnell, L. Anderson, C. Gascayne and D. Jack. Goodfish Lake picked up 8 minor penalties, 1 major and one matched misconduct. Sedgewick received 4 minor penalties.

It was learned this week that the Midgets will automatically advance to the Provincial C Series B final, which will be held at Ardrossan on April 2 and 3. They will still however have to complete their two game total point series with Ardrossan. The home game is to be at Sedgewick on Friday, March 18th.

Police check vehicles

Large numbers of vehicles travel Alberta's streets and highways, while equipped with faulty or inept equipment. This condition becomes most noticeable at this time of year because arduous winter driving conditions take their toll on vehicle equipment.

There seems to be a reluctance on the part of many motorists to voluntarily repair or replace such equipment. Starting Feb. members of the R.C.M.P. will stop motor vehicles and do a thorough equipment check. Written warnings or prosecution summonses will be issued if violations are found. Should violations on a vehicle be extensive, provisions exist to have the vehicle removed from the road until it is repaired.

R.C.M.P. members will also be paying special attention to driving offences such as failing to signal lane changes or turns. Improper parking of vehicles on the highway, drinking drivers and driving related offences. "Vehicle Check" will be in effect until the end of March 1977. Motor Vehicle operators are encouraged to a self-protection by checking their vehicle equipment such as horns, lights, windshield wipers, brakes, glass, turn indicators, etc. and replacing or repairing defective parts. Motorists are also encouraged to keep safe driving practices always in mind, to drive cautiously and in that way avoid accident or prosecution.

The Oldtimers held a Military Whist card party in the Daysland Community Hall on February 23rd, with 7 tables in play. The two high tables were which saw Mrs. Laddie high went to Mrs. Mary, Earl Schmidt and Mrs. Emily Hill.

First anniversary for 'losers'

The Sedgewick chapter of TOPS Inc. No. 2284 came into existence on Feb. 22, 1976. On that day at 4:00 p.m., twenty-one ladies stripped on the Health Clinic stairs. (Hereafter this procedure was known as "weighing in.") From the Health Clinic they moved to the United Church's lower hall where the meetings were to be held, weekly, on Mondays.

At this Feb. 22 meeting the request for Charter was signed, and a Sedgewick Chapter of TOPS Inc. was born. The slate of officers as elected:

Leader - Mary Ann L.
Co-Leader: Linda D.
Sec. - Treas. - Joyce B.
Weight Recorder: Jeanette H.
Asst. Wt. Recorder - Linda D.

The office of Secretary-Treas became two positions later, with Linda P. serving as Sec. for awhile. For several months now Gudrun B. has been serving in this capacity.

By April, despite serious financial problems we were able to purchase a beams lease from the Dayland hospital. A permanent home for our scales was found at the High School where our weigh-in and meetings are held. Meeting time became 1:00 p.m. instead of 4:00 p.m.

Though our group is not primarily a fund-raising organization, we do have expenses. For this reason we are most appreciative of the support we received from the public in our raffish and money making ventures.

Two raffish have been held. Articles were generously donated by Mary Ann L. and Diane C. This gave the chapter some necessary funds for operation.

A prize winning film, depicting our purpose and progress, was made and entered in both Sedgewick and Laughbreds sports day parade.

Our first Fun Night was at Thanksgiving when members each invited a guest. Games and bingo were enjoyed.

The first TOPS member to graduate to KOPS in our chapter was Florence S. on November 15, 1976. On this occasion she was presented with a long stemmed rose, gift of the chapter and a certificate from the TOPS headquarters. Our roster now boasts 4 others: KOPS' namely Harriet W. Marg S., Eleanor T. Newby and Gudrun B. Helen L. is now a KIV (KOPS in Waiting).

Many interesting features have been introduced to spice up our weekly meetings. A King and a Queen are proclaimed weekly and also monthly, for the individuals with the greatest loss of weight. "Blind-fold" weigh ins prove exceptionally suspenseful. Charms awarded for many varied achievements have added incentive. Visitation between the Harbidity and Sedgewick chapters have been a worthwhile and interesting experience.

To all of you much credit is due for having made this such a successful venture. In this shrewdness and enthusiasm, is it any surprise to find that we have succeeded in having a weight loss of 811 1/2 lbs. (in one year)?

We are now upon the threshold of our second year. May it be as successful as "Year One".

Florence Schweitzer, Public Relations.

"Tops of the Year Award"

is presented at the P.R. Days in Calgary in April.

Announcement of our choice was made at our Feb. 22nd celebration. Voted the Outstanding TOPS member at Sedgewick was Mary Ann L. whose contributions to the chapter have been unequalled. Florence S. counted the ballots and submitted a resume telling why Mary Ann was our choice, to Mrs. Wallace. It showed why. Now - we'll wait and see for Mary Ann's success as P.R. Days.

We, as a chapter are greatly indebted to our hardworking, dedicated executive who have kept our chapter operating smoothly and successfully. This first year of planning, organizing and carrying through procedures according to TOPS rules and regulations has been a difficult task.

To all of you much credit is due for having made this such a successful venture. In this shrewdness and enthusiasm, is it any surprise to find that we have succeeded in having a weight loss of 811 1/2 lbs. (in one year)?

We are now upon the threshold of our second year. May it be as successful as "Year One".

Florence Schweitzer, Public Relations.

Rapeseed, it's position in Canada

ACRI - INSIGHT

By Alberta Wheat Pool
Rapeseed, the prairie's oilseed crop, is both a major rapeseed grain and a domestic rapeseed processed seed.

Although rapeseed is a domestic rapeseed, Canada is also an importer of oilseed products, some of which could be replaced by rapeseed products.

Competition for rapeseed is numerous. High oil yielding crops are the oil palms and coconuts. Soybeans, the world's largest oilseed crop, produce more protein meal than oil. Like rapeseed, sunflowers and prunella produce about equal amounts of oil and meal. By-products of oil crops are also competitors for rapeseed. Rapeseed oil is used for everything from margarine to soap.

Soybean meal is the dominant livestock protein feed supplement in the world. About 85% of global protein meal production is from soybeans, with the United States as the major producer.

Canadians consume 750 million pounds of vegetable oil each year. One third is rapeseed oil. Livestock in Canada consume one million tons of protein meals annually. Rapeseed meal represents less than 1/5 of this amount.

Domestic oilseed processors crush 15 million bushels of rapeseed and 25 million bushels of soybeans, half of which is Ontario's production and half is imported U.S. soybeans. This means that 1/3 of the Canadian oilseed crush is rapeseed and 2/3 is soybeans. Since rapeseed yields twice as much oil as soybeans, the productivity of oil is about equal.

On the other hand, soybeans produce more meal than rapeseed. Canada's soybean crush yields three times the volume of meal as does rapeseed. Imports of soybean oil and other vegetable oils almost equal the amount of rapeseed oil production. Canada also imports soybean meal, about 1.5 times the volume of rapeseed meal produced by domestic processors. The result is that nearly 80% of Canadian livestock protein meal and vegetable oil requirements are met by imported oilseeds or oilseed products.

Rapeseed oil is utilized in three ways: in cooking and salad oils, in shortening and in margarine. Rapeseed produces an excellent cooking oil and is a fine natural salad oil. It is used in the manufacture of mayonnaise and salad dressings.

For shortening, rapeseed is blended with other oils to produce high quality baking shortening. Margarine is basically produced by blending various vegetable oils and rapeseed oil is most suitable.

Meal from rapeseed crushing is a protein supplement for livestock. It contains 36% protein and excellent levels of calcium, phosphorus, lysine and methionine. Utilization of the meal was suffered from the toxic substance which affect the thyroid glands in animals.

Meal from the Argentine variety Tower is free of these toxins and research is proceeding on a similar Polish type.

Growth of both the oil and meal markets within Canada is likely to occur. Many vegetable oil products require oil imports. Ontario is likely to continue to grow soybeans and eastern processors will crush the domestic crop and sufficient imported soybeans to maintain plant operations. As vegetable oil and meal utilization expands, it should be possible for rapeseed to increase its share of both the Canadian oil and meal markets.

A PROUD GRAIN HERITAGE

Improving and Progressing

Here are 6 truths about our present grain handling system.

- Alberta Wheat Pool's country elevator system can easily handle 355 million bushels per year.
- The two Vancouver based terminals, AWP #1 and Pacific, can unload, weigh, store, clean and put aboard vessels at least 20 million bushels of grain per month.
- The Canadian grading system requires the world's highest standards. Our terminals meet customers' specific demands. Accuracy of weight, grade and purity is the envy of world traders.
- Alberta Pool has spent $21 million on modern, up-to-date, efficient grain handling plants and equipment since 1976. The system is adequate, efficient and modern.
- The Canadian grain handling and exporting system has always been able to accommodate all the grain provided to it by producers. It could export a billion bushels next year if the challenge were there.

Westerners can be proud of the modern, viable grain handling and marketing organization called Alberta Wheat Pool. Owned by farmers, it will serve Alberta and B.C. agriculture for generations yet to come.

Sedgewick advances to finals

In Provincial Play-offs, the Sedgewick Midgets met Ardrossan on home ice on Friday March 4th, before a big crowd of hockey fans. After a hard fought battle, Sedgewick came out the victors by a 6 - 3 score.

Goal scorers for Sedgewick were Garry Simpson 2, and 1 each for D. Simpson, L. Anderson, M. Mann, D. Bonetti. Assistants were D. Jack, O. Swanson, G. Simpson, J. Slavik and L. Anderson.

The team was playing short handed, as Perry Mayne and Charlie Gascoyne are still on the injured list, after the game at Good Fish Lake recently.

On Monday, March 7th, the team returned the match to Ardrossan where Sedgewick again won, this time a 5 to 4 score. The Simpson leads led the scoring, with 2 goals each, while K. Jacobson netted a shaggy. Assistants were Laurie Anderson, Mike McClellan, G. Simpson, Don Jack and D. Simpson.

Sedgewick hereby won both the Zone 7 and Zone 1 Provincial "D" playoffs, and will advance to the Alberta Provincial final at Ardrossan April 1, 2 and 3. Sedgewick plays their first game on April 1st at 7:30 p.m. against Zone 1 which is the Peace River zone. "Pool" winners were: 1st, Bert Simpson, 2nd, Roy Simpson, and 3rd, Scotty Jack.

Restocking pheasants

A large crowd attended the general meeting of Upland Birds Alberta held in the Daysland Community Hall on Friday, February 25, 1977. Doug Thompson, representative from Upland Birds Alberta, was the feature speaker.

He gave a very comprehensive outline of the objects of the organization. Its purpose is to restock those areas in Alberta that were once natural habitat for the pheasant. They were very interested in this area and were looking for people who are interested in raising about 8 pheasants each for about 8 weeks. The birds would then be turned out to feed for themselves. The persons would be responsible to have a brooder house and a runway for the birds. All feed would be furnished by Upland Birds Alberta. Mr. Thompson showed a mass of information.

Alberta funds to Newfoundland

Sensitive to criticism that Alberta isn't helping the case against Quebec separatism, the Lougheed government has declared itself committed to Canadian unity and confident that it will last.

Premier Peter Lougheed has announced that the Newfoundland government will be loaned $50 million from the Heritage Fund. He's calling the deal a "major commitment" and a display of good faith in unity.

Meanwhile, the premier and intergovernmental Affairs Minister Lou Hyndman have offered Prime Minister Trudeau a prescription for improved and more productive federal-provincial relations.

In a letter to Mr. Trudeau which Mr. Hyndman tabled in the legislature, Mr. Lougheed says Alberta is only willing to participate in "limited discussions" on constitutional reform.

Although Alberta will collect over $100 million in interest over the loan's 21-year term, Newfoundland may have saved money by borrowing in Canada instead of New York, the main source, the premier said.

As a result of the Parti Quebecois election victory in Quebec, foreign leaders now appear to be considering Canada a high risk market and interest rates could be higher abroad, he reported.

The money is not tagged for any specific uses in Newfoundland and is not being advanced at a rate of interest below market values in Canada.

Although Mr. Lougheed and his cabinet are not being advanced an overall strategy for dealing with Quebec they appear to take a position that the best Alberta can do is show that regions can be housed within Canada.

The premier advised Mr. Trudeau that "any future discussion on the constitution... must be premised on the assumption that provinces are equals within Confederation."

"If at any time in our history this principle should be recognized it is now." Last week's throne speech said that in the Alberta government's opinion, the best way to maintain unity is to ensure provinces are strong.

Let's talk it over with Gordon

Well, let me, where have I been the last 2 weeks. I recall on the afternoon of the 14th, I met with the joint planning council of Camrose, requesting their help to organize a meeting between the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Commission and interested groups and individuals in the constituency to request the Commission to put a full time ADACC worker in Camrose. As matters now stand, the ADACC worker now drives over to Camrose from Red Deer once or twice a week, and is absolutely swamped with work. I'm happy to say that the joint planning council volunteered their help and agreed to have the Commission down to Camrose in the near future. And on the 15th I had to babysit the kids while Arnell used the car to go to the ceramics. Camrose one day two days ago and for the first time in five years, attended an evening meeting of the Battle River Junior Association in Wrayville. And really had a joy opened as to the tremendous job they are doing. As a point of interest, the Dept. of Industry and Tourism fund BHTA about $30,000 annually.

And on the weekend and again for the first time attended the annual meeting of the very active Terry Point Historical Society. Then Sunday evening represented the Government at the Annual Banquet of the faculty at Union College, Lacombe.

For this week, one full day in the city of Camrose on the west side of the city. And resulted on constituency people. Rest of the week back at work in the Legislative Assembly.

Meetings, missed that I was invited to, but because of scheduling or lack of time, availability has in mind; Battle River Electrification Association, Camrose Taximaster Club.

What are solo clubs?

Singles clubs - what are they? Why are they?

Singles clubs are organizations set up by single people for single people. The aim is simple - to provide this segment of our society with activities that they can share with people they can relate to.

Activities include dances, skating parties, bowling, picnics, card games and any variety of activities which the members themselves suggest and support.

Sharing these activities with other single people gives one a different social aspect than always being felt awkward about attending the first time, but then this is true for all persons as any present members of such a group will tell you.

If you are a single, widowed, divorced or separated and would like to know more about such clubs, then attend one of the social activities of the recently organized Flagstaff Solo Club. The second dance will be held on March 12th at the Killam Elks Hall at 9:00 p.m., or for information call the chairman, Elmer Kaiser, at 371-2881.

All activities take participation to get them organized and make them work. Remember, we never get anything for nothing. The more you put into a club, the more you get out of it.

Restocking pheasants

(Continued from front page) live and interesting film on the pheasant sanctuary in Calgary. After the talk the film many questions were answered and a great deal of interest was shown by those at the meeting. Many signed to raise the pheasant chicks and were going to spread the word around to others. It is planned to put about 2500 chicks in this area. Each rafter would have an average of 50 birds. There about 50 people interested in raising the pheasants would be required and could be a little more if the interest is there. Mr. Thompson would visit each respective rafter to discuss the requirements etc. and to answer questions. The chicks would probably arrive in two batches. The rafter would be informed of the date and time of arrival which will be in late June and early July. Any person interested in raising day old pheasants please contact Lloyd Gillespie, Box 237, Dayland, Alberta, T0A 1B0 or by telephone: 361-3787, 361-3788, 361-3789, 361-3790, 361-3791, 361-3792, The three ladies pictured above were honored Feb. 28th by members of the T.O.P.S. Club in Sedgewick. Eleanor Tweedy, Harriet Wilson and Gordon Backes (plus Margaret Silimmon who was unable to attend) became K.O.P.S. status, that is, Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly. The ladies had each reached their objective in losing the pounds recommended by their doctor.

They each received a certificate and a red rose. In the lower picture, another TOPS graduate Florence Schweitzer presents a special award to Mary Anne Lewis who had been voted "outstanding member" of Sedgewick TOPS for 1976.

Swimnastics for women

Ladies, don't you think it's about time you started doing something for yourself. After all, the housework, meals, washing, part-time or full time job, you're doing for everyone else but not for yourself.

Just for you ladies, we have arranged some time at the Killam Agri-Pool, for you to exercise in the water. What could be more enjoyable than exercising in a heated pool of at least 84 degrees and to know that you are losing inches and pounds at the same time.

The greatest thing about exercise in the water is its cushioning effect. Instead of your jumpy and movements, shocking our systems each time we hit the ground while jumping, running, etc., the water acts like a pillow, gently buoying our actions. Like water ourself, our motions then become fluid and graceful. The water flows and swirls with each movement we create. We become more relaxed and gradually discover all movement much easier in the water.

As you are a busy beginner, it is a wonderful way to relax and get to know the water. As the weeks are known and the adventures develop, understanding of the mind and body comes naturally. Remember,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR

It has, come to the attention of the people of rural and urban Alberta of another increase in natural gas rates as of April 1st.

Since consumers were signed with various C.O.A.P.'s in Alberta the prices have been doubled. The contract with the South Playfair C.O.A.P. the agreed rate per M.C.F. was 58c, now has been raised to 86c at the present time.

It is another bitter blow to the electorate that such a step be taken. What happened to the promise that Albertans wouldn't have to expect such prices on our gas?

With the rising cost of all farm commodities and the sharp decline in grain prices how can farmers and people in rural areas be expected to carry on.

Surely we shouldn't have to see Albertans pay such increases for our own natural gas when the province is subsidizing Ontario to the tune of approximately $60.000.000 a year.

To people on fixed incomes who are having such a struggle to keep abreast of inflation this is just another bridge to try and cross.

Where is the concern and gratitude for those pioneers who

By MARY KAI LUUA

Cosmetic science has extracted a skin beauty substance from the stem of a tropical plant that works wonders by making rough, lined face and dry chapped hands look years younger fast. Use it tonight and you should see vast improvement in the morning. Many small lines around the eyes and mouth may already have disappeared and wrinkles you have given up as hopeless should start to vanish in a few days. But that isn't all. That discouraging weather-darkened old-age skin tone fades away. But don't take my word for it... use this exciting substance yourself for 7 days... satisfaction is guaranteed or return for refund. It's the tropical nut extract that works wonders for wrinkles and lines. It's called Cocerna Dry Skin Creme.

3. Weed Science by Glenn C. Kluge et al. "Weeds almost affect everyone. Weed control is one of the most expensive steps in crop production directly affecting the price of food. Weeds may poison or seriously slow down weight gains of livestock. They cause allergies such as hay fever and poison ivy. They infect home lawns and gardens. Weeds create problems in recreation areas... They are troublesome along highways, railroads, in industrial areas and in irrigation and drainage systems." This is a book for anyone interested in weed control.

4. Livestock Waste Facilities Handbook - includes data on livestock wastes, handling, treatment and disposal facilities and equipment.

What options are open to these communities for providing favorable opportunities for their youth, for the adult sector which provides the foundation of commerce and social organization, and for older citizens with both more free time and greater needs for particular services?

The Birds of Alberta by Ray Salt. This is a new book even though the title sounds familiar. "... back by popular demand with an entirely new, updated and expanded text, 300 color illustrations, 13 black and white drawings and 285 maps." "The meticulous approach to the birds of Alberta by Ray and Jim Salt scores the reader of an interesting encounter each time the book is opened."

A young worker who had been looking for most of the past year approached an older man just before he was to be reviewed for a raise. "Do you think," he asked anxiously, "that if I really work hard for the next two weeks, I'll get a raise?"

A leader has two important characteristics: first, he is a good listener; second, he is able to persuade other people to go with him.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

I would like to share with you an article written by G. Mazza, Food Scientist at the Alberta Horticultural Research Centre, Brooks.

Food additives is a subject which is rapidly being "done" to death. Hardly a week goes by without colors, antioxidants, preservatives, acidulants, flavors, phosphates, or sweetening agents making headlines - headlines that warn the public about dangerous substances used in foods.

Food additives may be good for sensational headlines in newspapers, radio or television, but the fact is that the hazards from additives are infinitesimal compared with the risks associated with the foods of years ago. Food is safer today than it has ever been. Our food supply is the best, the most nourishing, the tastiest, the most diversified and the most wholesome in the world.

The food industry could make foods with fewer additives. But there would be far less variety in what is available to eat: the food would be poorer; it would be lower in quality; it would be less nutritious, and, to top it all off, it would not be as tasty.

We need and depend on food

Hobby club

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 16 the Amalgamated Hobbyists of Flanagan met in the Sedgewick United Church Hall with 36 present.

President Mr. R. Patterson chaired a brief business meeting - then introduced the guests. We were privileged to have 8 representatives from the Flanagan Creative Writers group. They had a session such as they have for their own meetings. Each one read a selection which he or she had written - then the other members made comments. There was a great variety of material and some truly delightful articles. Lunch and social hour completed a most enjoyable program.

The next Hobby Club meeting will be on Wednesday, March 16th at 8:00 p.m. in the Sedgewick United Church Hall. The guest speaker will be Mr. P. Seymour Director of the University of Alberta Devotional Botanic Garden. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Keeping in touch

A NEW CHALLENGE

Just as the east was in sight for my travel plans with Lincoln Alexander on a national tour to ascertain the needs of senior citizens, I have been challenged with a new and intriguing job. I have been asked to sit on a sub-committee to develop a policy in respect to Canada-United States relations. I will be working under the Chairmanship of Mr. Heath Macquarrie, Member of Parliament for Millbrook-P. E. I. My specific roll will be to ascertain Canadian-American relations in respect to the agricultural industry, and there is a strong possibility that the Members of this sub-committee will be meeting with a joint group of U.S. Congressmen and Senators in Washington some time in April.

Following our intensive research and communications back and forth between liaison people in Canada and the United States, it will be the committee's task to make representation in my Party's policy advisers with the view of continuing to retain a high level of relationship with our closest neighbor and to whatever extent possible, strengthen the bond that have made our two countries co-exist in mutual friendship for more than a century.

In recent years, the Americans have had a number of irritants that have flowed from Ottawa to Washington. Among these were the contentious Time-Reader's Digest legislation that resulted in forbidding the Canada Time section to operate in Canada. Then, of course, there was the concern in the United States about Canada's energy policy and the abruptness in which we curtailed the flow of oil and gas exports into the United States. More recently the Saskatchewan Government has raised some American eyebrows with its expressed intent to nationalize the potash industry. In a similar vein, the Foreign Investment Review Board has sparked some concern in the midst of the American business community.

Relationships, however, are always a two-way street and there is a recent list of Canadian irritants. Quite recently Canada's hotel and restaurant industries have been shocked by Washington's decision to disqualify as taxable deduction to business costs for attending conventions outside of the United States. That act could virtually destroy the convention trade in a number of Canada's major cities, especially those along the Canadian U.S. border.

Canadians also can find cause for considerable concern over such projects as the Garrison Dam in North Dakota which could have devastating environmental effects in the Province of Manitoba, and on the West Coast, there is undoubtedly growing concern about the possibility of the Trans-Alaska Pipeline which could coincide with numerous oil tankers transporting heavy crude oil from Alaska to Washington state. A real threat to the coastline of British Columbia.

In the above comments, I have not attempted to indicate whether any of the irritants are right or wrong but merely that they are situations in fact that have stressed our traditionally good relations and give cause for the need of closer and more continuous communication.

Should any constituents have suggestions on subjects that ought to be brought up in terms of Canadian-American relations, particularly those that deal with the agricultural industry, I would be pleased to receive them. It is my opinion that the sub-committee can do a great deal towards helping us keep in touch with our good neighbor and major trading partner.

THE BIG INCH

The ruled box is the amount of space occupied by a one-inch advertisement. It measures one column wide by 1 inch deep. It costs advertisers $1.40

It looks kinda lonesome by itself, but look at it this way: What you get when you buy a one-inch ad in The Community Press is not just a single inch of space in the paper, but one inch multiplied by our circulation of 1,989.

So you are buying 1,989 inches, which at 75 inches a page would be almost 26 pages of newspaper.

That's a mighty big chunk of space for a cost of only $1.40 and that includes mail delivery. Just imagine the cost of reaching all those people by post card. It would amount to $117.00.

So you can see that a little one-inch ad is really a BIG INCH when it's advertising space in The Community Press!

And figures show that it's the most effective and economical way possible to let people in the County of Flagstaff Trading area know that you have wares or services that they could use.

GOOSE CREEK LADIES

On Thursday afternoon, March 3 the Goose Creek Ladies met at the home of Mrs. T. Cookman in Sedgewick. There were 9 members and 7 adult visitors and little Margaret Martin present.

Correspondence was received from Grandma Adamson, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. G. Weber for valentines received from the club. For Roll Call the ladies submitted poems and words of wisdom for the enjoyment of all. The entertainment was provided by Mrs. J. Adamson with a lovely display of her handmade articles. She also supplied door prizes which were won by Mrs. Vera Cookman - Mrs. P. Simpson and Mrs. W.R. Simpson. The hostess served a delicious lunch.

Playmates

by Sharon M. Chevras
We met by chance one day in the city during one of my frequent shopping trips. I looked at him curiously, seeing the few threads of grey, noting the heavier frame and the ruddy face. We went for coffee together, awkwardly, unsure to the people we had become.

"Do you remember 'Kick the Can'?" he grinned at me, and suddenly I saw the boy I knew.
I had crouched behind the hedge and peered through its tangled branches at him as he stood beneath the street light, arms flung across his eyes. The branches scratched at my face and caught in my hair as he chanted, "...right, alright, here I come, ready or not..."

Excitedly, I watched while he belatedly for a moment, then plunged into darkness across the road, searching. When he was gone, I wriggled free and began a low crouching run to the dark hollows of the ditch. Halfway there I stopped, listening to the rustling of leaves in the hedge behind me. Suddenly there was a muffled groan, then muted whispers - then silence again. I reached the ditch and flung myself low among the prickly grasses and weeds. A sharp stone into my thigh and I wedged it away with my leg.

Footsteps thudded down the road past me and I peered over the grassy bank to see him tug another girl as she squealed in mock anger. Someone darted out of the hedge and reached the shadows of a large tree. A girl dropped heavily into the ditch beside me. I felt her groping hand touch my shoulder.

"Where is he now?" she breathed. "Down by the hospital!"

"No, he's coming back." I grabbed her wrist and pulled her down again.
The street light at Barker's corner was home base for the twenty or thirty of us who gathered nightly and underneath that lamp post was the old jam can that we had to kick to win the game. The post was only a short distance away but he could run swiftly fast and there was no point in trying to beat him there unless he wasn't in my direction.

"Okay! Come on," she whispered gleefully.
He turned and was running towards the open street. Jumping to my feet, I scrambled after her toward the lamp post. Someone was pounding down the road behind me. Someone else dashed in front of me. Suddenly the corner was alive with kids - all racing for the jam can I retrieved. It first, but just as I got there, a leg shot out. The can clunked over and a voice echoed, "I beat you! I beat you!"

Over the rim of the coffee mug I grinned at the boy I'd known. "I said."

Hear report on lakes

The regular monthly meeting of the Iron Creek Fish and Game Association was held March 8th in the Legion Hall in Lougheed.

At Marlin reported on the Annual Convention of the Alberta Fish and Game Assoc. held in Edmonton the end of February.

A report was given of the visit to the area of Mr. Mel Kraft, Regional Fisheries Biologist. While here Mr. Kraft, visited Sedgewick Lake, Hattie Lake, Owen's Pond and Fish Lake for the oxygen levels. The oxygen levels were found to be very low except for a small area in Fish Lake near some springs. To snow cover that laid on the lakes now cover effectively stopped the penetration of sunlight. While here Mr. Kraft informed us that it is planned to have both Sedgewick Lake and Owen's Pond stocked earlier in the spring this year.

The Iron Creek Fish and Game Assoc. have started construction of their pleasant rearing pens. We are planning to raise 100 pheasants for release this fall.

Our Annual Budget and Trophy night is planned for April 2nd in the Lougheed Hall at 7:00 p.m. This year our guest speaker will be Mr. Cam Finley, a biologist who works with the Blue Bird Society. He will be showing pictures and talking about the plans for the preservation of Blue Birds. He will be giving a number of bird houses on the fence in the area; these have been supplied by the Blue Bird Society and put out by interested persons. The tickets for the Banquet are available from the Fish & Game executive. See you at the banquet or at the next meeting April 12th.

Mrs. Guitman deserves a great deal of credit in getting the Kindergarten running smoothly as it surely helps to prepare the students for the next step, Gr-4s One.

Hardisty still going

Forty fans and players from Hardisty boarded a chartered bus on Sunday morning March 12th to make a trek to Lamont to play their second game of the Provincial D Series. The Hardisty Stampedeers were victorious over the Lamont Nuggets by a score of 7 - 4 giving them the total points they needed. It was a fast and very exciting game, enjoyed by all fans attending.

After the hockey match the bus had them visit to Dick Mah's Restaurant in Lamont for a delicious meal and to remember the time when Dick and his family lived in Hardisty and ran the Restaurant there.

Their next two games in the series are to be played against Fort McMurray. Good luck to you Stampedeers.

The Elderly Community Choir under the direction of Mr. P. Regier, is busy rehearsing for their Easter performance scheduled for April 4th in Killam, and April 5th in Forestburg. The choir is working on a variety of music, from a more contemporary style of Easter music, such as John W. Peterson's cantata "Hail, Glorious King!" to some well known selections from such great works as Haydn's "Creation", Handel's "Messiah" and "Mass in Time of War". The above picture was taken at a practice session of the choir, to which the Editor was invited.

IRON
 Iron deficiency is a problem for many Canadians, surprisingly for men as well as women and children.

Iron is vital for the formation of red blood cells and for the proper functioning of important body systems.

Iron requirement is greatly increased during pregnancy and lactation.

Getting enough iron into everyday menus takes some planning but there are many foods from which to choose. Among the finest sources of iron are meat (especially the organ meats such as liver), clams and oysters, dark green leafy vegetables, eggs, beans, whole grain or enriched breads, cereals and dried fruits.

Here are some ways to include iron in your menus:

• use dried fruits in meats and as casseroles. Add prunes, dates, raisins and apples; make meat sauce for ham and add raisins to casseroles. When it comes to fresh fruits, berries are among the highest in iron content.

• Look for vegetables such as spinach, kale, chard, dandelion greens and okra. They contain iron as well as fresh.

Also good mushrooms steamed in broth with a few onion slices. Use beans in many different ways for salads, soups and baked beans.

• Beef liver is one of the highest sources of iron. If it is not to your liking, try chicken liver. The flavor is milder. Cook them smothered in onion. You can also buy frozen chopped chicken livers. And don't forget pork liver. It has more iron than beef or calf liver and costs less too.

1977 could be a good crop year — but don't bet on it. Conditions too far do not reflect normal weather patterns. This year, to even a greater extent than usual, precautions are justified against the losses which can occur from drought, hail, frost, snow, excessive moisture or other natural hazards.

If you are a farmer who regularly insures with the Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation, you may want to increase your level of coverage this year.

ALBERTA HAIL & CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION
Calgary, Alberta.

If you are not already insuring in the program, you should consider All-Risk Crop Insurance. It is the only way in which you can get an overall guarantee for each crop you plant. If your production falls below the guaranteed level, you will be paid for the shortage.

Applications for All-Risk Crop Insurance can only be accepted up to April 30.

Contact your local district office.

Let's Talk It Over — with GORDON

I'm going to try to keep my column as short as possible because of the job of sitting down and writing a Budget Speech which I hope to give this week in the Legislature during the Budget Debate. So meetings attended, the Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Federal P.C. Association of Battle River at Sutherland, March 14th, arranged for and attended a morning meeting with Camrose City Council and several members of the Dept. of Transport, the Provincial Planning Board, Battle River Planning Commission and the Chairman of the P.C. Caucus on Airports to clear up the confusion in regards to the location of the present local airstrip. This was a beautiful example of organized confusion between Provincial Gov't Dept. not knowing what each other is doing.

Friday, 11th, several of us M.L.A.'s met in Leduc with the Alberta School Trustees members of Zone 5 for discussions on a number of topics including financing.

In the Legislature, I put the following question to Allan Warneck, Minister of Telephones and Utilities as to what recourse does an Alberta have besides paying up his bill when finance companies sue A.C.T. in such a way that could best be described as harassment in their collection of overdue accounts. Warneck replied that the criminal code provides up to 6 months in prison and a $500 fine. Also the right to remove the phone for anyone making obscene or harassing calls. Around the new year, Ardell put me on a starvation diet and by golly it seems to be working. I've lost 2 1/2 pounds.

Sat. 12, Camrose for a haircut; Hettler, where I met with a group, who were concerned as to the Public Utilities Board ruling, granting Superior Gas a rate increase for their village. And on to Foreburg with Ardell for the Annual meeting and Banquet of their District Development Board. Mrs. Hilde Fowler of Camrose was the guest speaker. Meetings missed that I was invited to attend the 1st of the new Senior Citizens Day in Centre at Foreburg; the Directors of Grant McEwen College and the Annual Leadership Prayer Breakfast in Edmonton.

Services held for Agnes Fossum

Agnes (Clarke) Fossum was born in Knechtelsteden, Ireland on August 4th, 1876, passing away in Red Deer on March 6th. When she was 12 years old she moved to Scotland and in 1920 she came to Canada and in 1922 she and Albert Fossum were united in marriage at Sedgewick.

They resided in different areas and in 1942 settled in the Hardisty area in the Royalton district and later settling in what was known as the John Cooper farm. After her husband's passing she moved to Hardisty where she resided until her passing.

She spent a fair amount of her time with her daughter, May in Red Deer and enjoyed a trip to Scotland in 1976 and had plans to go back amongst her family over there in 1977.

She was very devoted to her husband at all times and especially during his last illness. Although frail in body, she had great strength of character and devotion to her family and was a very kindly person who will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

Hymns sung at the service were "How Great Thou Art" and "The Lord is my Shepherd" and "Nearer My God To Thee". Rev. Jackson paid her a lovely tribute by stating "That we are glad that you have passed this way as we are better people for having known you and absorbed some of your beliefs and faith and shared your joys and sorrows with you".

She was predeceased by her husband Albert in 1961 and leaves no survivors to mourn her passing.

three sons Wes and Jim of Hardisty, Al (Money) of Abbotsford B.C. and one daughter Mrs. Mae McFadden of Red Deer. There are 17 grandchildren and one great grandson. The pallbearers were six grandsons, Dean, Brian and Brent Fossum, Dan, Jim and Jack McFadden.

Interment was in Hardisty cemetery with Fee and Son officiating.

Later, a beautiful lunch was served in the Christian Education Building by the U.C.W., Strong Ladies and O.O.R.F.

New steam gallery opens at museum

The steam engine and paddle wheel from the 1944 steamboat Nacoo is the dominating feature of the new Steam Gallery Exhibit open this month.

The Steam Gallery is a new addition to the Human History Section of the Museum. Displays, maps and large photographs show how steam was used as a power source in Alberta before all and gas appeared.

A huge hoisting engine has been restored, showing the role steam power played in mining and heavy industry. A working cutaway model illustrates how a steam engine works.

There are photos of numerous steam tractors plowing the unbroken prairie in Southern Alberta. Another series shows construction of the S.S.D.A. Thomas, the largest steam boat to ply the Peace River.

Being a landlocked province, it's easy to forget the extensive use of our lakes and river systems made by the early settlers and traders. A large map shows the steam boat routes in Alberta, along with more photos of "wheel-on-beats."

Railways were represented too with a brief description of the impact steam trains had on the opening of the West.

On display in the Museum foyer are two scale models of early farm machinery. A steam tractor (which actually works) is hitched to a threshing machine. Attention to detail is exceptional.

More than three years of planning, restoration and research has gone into the creation of this new Steam Gallery. The hoisting engine was rescued from a scrap yard and the Nacoo engine and paddle wheel were in a dusty warehouse.

The new Steam Gallery is located on the second floor in the Human History Section of the Museum.

The Provincial Museum and Archives is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free.

Annual meeting of St. Peter's C.W.L.

An excellent attendance was at the annual meeting of St. Peter's C.W.L. at the home of Mrs. Isabel Fuchtmann. The meeting opened with the recitation of the rosary led by Father Schmetzer. The masses for Peace, for the sick of the Parish, and 1 for a Happy Death.

Eight of our members attended the World Day of Prayer at the Catholic Church in Sturgeon, Saskatchewan, held in Heister Feb. 26, 1977 was attended by nine of our members.

The Heister North Hill Sewing Club is getting a donation of $10.00 for a trophy. We are to host the Communion Breakfast in April.

Our President, Kathy, expressed all members present in the T.U.T. Club.

The annual reports were given by 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Vice Presidents, the secretary, the treasurer and the president. Two very interesting reports were given by the circle leaders on the years activities.

Five perfect attendance prizes were given.

BLACKLEG IS STILL AROUND
Blackleg and malignant oedema, often referred to as stable blackleg, still cause loss in Alberta's beef herds and several herds in the County of Flagstaff have been reported this winter. Losses can range as high as 20 per cent of a herd, and frequently occur in areas of the province where they have not been previously reported.

The organisms that cause these diseases are both soil-borne, and can be introduced to any area by the wind, running water, wild animals etc. Since there is no practical way of keeping cattle from coming in contact with them, vaccination is the only method of control.

Blackleg and malignant oedema are usually seen in calves and yearlings. Sometimes one or more of the calves become lame, lack appetite, show signs of depression and develop a high fever. Sometimes may appear in the muscles in various parts of the body. However often there is no sign of sickness; an animal is simply found dead in the pasture.

Dr. H.N. Vance, director of Alberta Agriculture's veterinary services division, recommends vaccinating all calves when they reach three months of age. Because of the similarity between blackleg and malignant oedema, a mixed bacterin should be used. Calves on pasture should receive a second injection when they are six months old. Some cattle owners revaccinate all animals under three years old every year to ensure as permanent an immunity as possible in the herd.

In the second game, Longford played Forsburg. Forsburg won 6 - 2. Stenson scored 4 goals and 1 assist. Grue scored 2 goals with 2 assists. Don Jones and Murdoch each picked up assists. Cookson and Martin each scored for Longford.

Forsburg and Viking played in the finals. Viking became league champions with a 6 - 0 win. Big scorers were Wincham: Antos 2; and Hoffman 2. This winds up league play for the Miles for the 1977 season.

Only two parties?

Kevin Peterson
 Convinced that Albertans have shaken off the last memories of their 34 year loyalty to Social Credit, the NDP believes it's at last in a straight two-way contest with the Conservatives.

Hope is a byword among Alberta New Democrats. But at the 1977 convention in Edmonton they threw much more serious commitments in the ring: money, organization, sober ambition.

NDP leader Grant Nolley and his colleagues have been calling themselves the Tories "real" opponents for years, despite the larger Secord numbers in the Legislature since 1975.

The claim has largely rested on the easy observation that the party's differences with the government run far deeper than the Secord's. Now the opposition groups are in serious competition for votes as well.

Although the Secords held 24 seats in the 75-member house when the 1975 election was called, their share of the popular vote plummeted to 18 per cent from 41 in 1971.

Nolley and Martin say that outside constituencies where Secords held natural advantages as incumbents, the NDP led. And they describe Secord and Liberal organizational efforts since as "amateurish".

Nolley, Martin and new NDP president, Anne Hoenigsway, a Ryerson School Board member and northern zone chairman of the Alberta School Trustees' Association, promise hard and costly labor to capitalize on their lead.

They predict a $1-million investment, including a minimum $200,000 province-wide campaign chest and as much spending in local constituency running, by the time Albertans go to the polls again, likely in 1980.

About $500,000 is budgeted over two years for the party's Edmonton headquarters and 10-member staff of organizers, researchers, publicists and secretaries, which will swell to 15 during the election.

To Nolley, Bob Clark's four-member Secord official opposition is little more than a disingenuous - just the name reserved for the biggest single clump of MLAs not in the 68-member Tory government caucus.

But Nolley held on to his Spirit River-Fairview seat by only 99 votes in 1975. As a result, the NDP is trying to be realistic about its chances and not let optimism get in the way of its work.

"What we must do is challenge the dangerous complacency which has dominated Alberta politics too long. Even half a dozen New Democrats in the Legislature would make a profound difference to Albertans' politics," Nolley says.

Three time winner

The Battle River Tourist Association received 3 awards at the Annual Meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Alberta held in Lethbridge on March 17, 18, 19 and 20, 1977.

For the third time it was presented with the Brewster Gray Line Award for having the best performance of the fourteen tourist zones in Alberta. It had earlier received this recognition in 1963 and in 1974, in making the presentation, Don MacIntyre, a representative of the Brewster Companies, mentioned a number of the projects carried out by B.R.T.A. during the last year. These included the presentation of briefs to the travelling Cabinet Committee, the Battle River Regional Planning Commission, Travel Alberta, individual Cabinet Ministers and local governments.

The sponsorship of an essay contest in the schools, the encouragement of a "clean up campaign" throughout the zone and the involvement in the Heritage Day Celebration last summer were also mentioned. The support granted to the Killam Homecoming, the Annual Hospitality Seminar and the assembly of "an impressive library" of history books written about various parts of the zone also received praise; as did the program to assess the performance of the eleven information centres that operate throughout the zone during the summer months. The weekend "First Time" last spring was mentioned, and the increase in membership support from $18,700.00 to $15,500.00 was noted. During the year, three new pieces of brochure literature was produced - a zone map in July, a C.B. Guide in August and an attractive Winter Brochure in October. The zone was particularly delighted that their Manager, Sylvia Clements, was named "Manager of the Year." This is the first year that this particular award has been available, and the selection was made by the managers of the fourteen Alberta zones. "In recognition of her outstanding work in Zone five."

The third award, also presented for the first time, was in recognition of the best track record for "Inter-Zone Participation." This is in recognition of the zone that put forth the best efforts in visiting other zones, the advantage being the exchange of ideas. During the last year, 23 members of B.R.T.A. travelled 2,210 miles to attend seven meetings in other zones.

Nineteen people from Battle River Tourist Zone 5 attended the Lethbridge Convention. These were: Mr. and Mrs. John Gust, Bashaw; Mr. and Mrs. Len Dutton and Edna Palmer of Killam; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Raitan of Provost; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown of Lethbridge; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Thieme of Stettler; Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Woodrow of Castor; Mrs. Blanche Hagen, Fort Saskatchewan, representing the County of Flagstaff; Glen Miller of Alliance, representing the County of Flagstaff; John Bennett of Castor, representing the County of Painswick, Georgia; Taylor of Chawin and Sylvia and Dick Clements of Camrose.

Daysland town report

The council meeting was held on Thursday, March 18th, 1977. Present were Councillors Dambarger, Resney, Sather Davidson and Larson. Mayor Davidson presided.

George Cranston was present to report on School and Hospital matters. He stated that the occupancy rate for the Hardisty Hospital was up, plans for the new hospital were going ahead but it would not be built in '77. The new roof on the Daysland Hospital looked good but had yet to be effectively tested by the weather. Too many beds were still being occupied by older people who really only needed home care which was not available. The School Board had finished negotiations with the teachers and an 8% salary increase had been approved. Mr. Cranston gave examples of salaries at various positions. The renovations of the upper story of the Daysland Elementary School.

Talk It Over — with Gordon
A long time ago during a Cabinet tour of our constituency and after having submissions from town council the Deputy Premier, Dr. Harner agreed with the people of Banff that they needed a Provincial Building and promised them one. This was followed by the then minister of Public Works Dr. Backus, visiting Banff town council and again agreeing to a Provincial Building in a time frame of 5 years. And yesterday I got quite a surprise when I received confirmation in writing from Bill Yorko that a new Provincial Building for Banff to complete the winter of 1978. Last Monday I spoke in the legislature during the Budget Debate touching on 2 areas of concern. Lack of funding for Post-Comp Program in my constituency and throughout the province. The monies saved by the province through the good work of P.S.S. and the 2.5 million dollars for 4 specific Highway projects to run industry at the expense of ill highways in rural Alberta. The speech must have been not all that bad as the Edmonton Journal carried a fair story on it. If anyone is interested in my remarks get in touch with me and I will send you a copy of Harner's.

Harold Schmidt, Minister of Culture wrote me that the Camrose Normal School (House) will be officially designated a Provincial Historic Site. Also that the school built in 1915 is clearly associated with the history of teacher education in Alberta. Not only is Heccheva a landmark in the City of Camrose but it is significant in the province as there are relatively small numbers of teacher style buildings in such excellent condition. Reminiscent of this style of architecture, it displays interesting features such as battlemented parapets and square-headed mullioned windows. What is your opinion as to also declaring as Historic sites, the Camrose Lutheran College, Old Main and the Camrose Normal School? In the Legislature, I asked the Minister of Consumer Affairs if any grants would be available to co-fund a legal service at the U. of A. in giving credit for T-4 slips as collateral and in helping to fill out income tax forms such as the Manitoba Government has to the tune of $10,000 and if he had any discussions, made any representation to the Federal Min. of Consumer Affairs to enter into the same agreement as Manitoba on a $600 cost sharing basis in its endeavour to combat the practices of the fly-by-night tax rebaters. The minister's reply on both counts was no.

Also the minister of Transportation as to what is the status of ownership of the right of way on the abandoned railroad there and who will decide how the Camrose Kluge right-of-way will be used. Will priority be given to agriculture recreation or habitat and will local people have any impact in the decision of how the right-of-way will be used. Don's answer was that the province had placed caveats on all abandoned railroads. There was no problem with the C.N.R. but the C.P.R. want cash for their right-of-way and the use of these right-of-ways would be decided by his department. Agriculture and recreation. Well I'm not so sure about that. Local people must have input, the decision of how the right-of-way is to be used and as for the C.P.R. wanting cash for the right-of-ways, big deal. They stole the land in the first place or the land was given to them free.

Kindergarten enjoy outings

Boys and girls, the Sedgewick Kindergarten, have been taking in a few outings lately. The first one was a trip to the Sedgewick Bakery. The children also gave each child a pop, which was much appreciated by the youngsters. Thank you Sedgewick Bakery.

Today, Tuesday, March 22 the 15 kindergartners, 14 mothers, 2 grandmothers, Donna Paley and her helper Margaret Gleason went by bus with Gordon Taylor at the wheel, to Camrose. At Camrose they hopped the train - dismounted at New Searles where the school bus awaited them to drive them back to Camrose.

On arrival in Camrose they were served a delicious dinner at Smitty's Pancake House. We'd like to say a big thank-you to Smitty's Pancake House who donated all the children's pancakes and drinks.

Visited the Alpert where scorpions (tied down the runway but no takeoffs. They viewed this from the bus windows with 16 little eyes glued on those big birds.

Then it was onward to the Camrose Hatchery where delighted youngsters were allowed to view eggs in incubation.

off and then it was homeward bound. Arrived in Sedgewick at 3:15. The children were a "happy gang" and seemed to enjoy the day to the utmost.

C.F.C.W. visited all the youngsters to view the bread-casting station (in two groups) and one little girl cried because she wasn't allowed to view the station the second time.

They then had a short stop-

Don't forget parents of the incoming kindergarten class of the Orientation meeting on Thursday, March 23 at 8:00 p.m. in the Lutheran Church in Sedgewick.

O.O.R.P. Lodges celebrate birthdays

Klammie, Kietties and K-49 were in charge of a social evening at Flagstaff Lodge last Wednesday. The Clubs at great expense brought this group of "entertainers" to provide a variety program. The "Actors Union" doesn't allow us to name the performers at it's best they are not named.

A lunch of jules, wine and cheese were provided throughout the evening. The program concluded with music by Lyle Metz and his men.

Honored Royal Lady Hesse Hart of Killam O.O.R.P. welcomed 27 visitors to the March 14th meeting of the Killam Lodge. There were 14 Killam members present. Several items of business were attended to, including plans to attend the District Meeting at Rossland on April 15th.

A lively song was presented by the eighteen ladies of Dayland Lodge who brought the travelling gavel. They had enjoyed a Chinese supper at Killam Hotel prior to attending the meeting. In celebration of their 17th birthday of "purpledom". Nine ladies from Dayland Lodge were also in attendance, bringing with them a travelling gift which was enjoyed by all. This gift had started at the Lloydminster Lodge, and was making its rounds through Alberta. Killam will visit another Lodge, taking the gift with them. Two beautiful birthday cakes decorated by Lady Anita McGowan centered the lunch table, marking Killam's 14th birthday and Dayland's 17th. A nice social time was spent over lunch.

Girls make promises

"I promise" ... was a familiar ring as nine Girl Guides and seven Rangers were enrolled as Girl Guides of Canada at a special ceremony held Monday, March 21st in Killam Legion Hall.

As the Ranger enrolment commenced, the hall was darkened and the girls made their promise in unison, with a candlelight ceremony. Their Ranger pins were presented by Commissioner Felgate, and Guldor Davis Mills presented their Ranger crests.

Mrs. Hart presented the red maple leaf Ranger ties on behalf of the Royal Purple. The new Rangers are Kathy and Nancy Keith, Carol Gardash, Bob Fryer, Hollie Chapell, Connie Felgate and Gwen Swanson.

DRY SKIN MADE BEAUTIFUL AND COMFORTABLE!

There is a new cream that actually soothes skin dryness in a most dramatic way. It works by significantly raising the skin's depleted water level to the point at which dryness no longer exists. Its name is COCREMA, and it is made with the purest grade of select cocoa butter. When used to take the "herm" out of skin dryness, it transmutes moisture. Just a few bedtime applications of COCREMA Dry Skin Cream and your skin dries gives way to new, fresh, radiant beauty of the kind that quickens the pulses of those around you. And, this new beauty is lasting too. COCREMA Dry Skin Cream is so easy to use and makes your skin feel so good.

Celebrates 102nd birthday

Oscar F. Johnson (seated center) celebrated his 102nd birthday on Monday, February 14th. A party in his honor was held in Hawthorn, a residence which is part of the Hoescheim Complex in Camrose. His closest relatives came from Loughie to join in the celebration. They are (left to right) a nephew, Vernon Johnson and his family, Marcel, Mrs. Iona Johnson and Verena; and a sister-in-law of the celebrant, Mrs. Mary Johnson. The huge birthday cake in the foreground was decorated to read "Congratulations on your birthday Oscar Johnson". For the very special occasion Mary Johnson was a very special outfit, a beautiful Norwegian National attire, complete with all the jewellery that is part of the costume.

Club Reports

GREYNA GOODWILL CLUB
On March 9th the Greytna Goodwill ladies met at the home of Helen Sutherland, ten members were in attendance.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Melba and adopted by Rita. Rita gave the Treasurers report. Kathy Markwart resigned as the sick reporter, and Helen O'Reilly took her place. Kathy and Bernard Markwart and girls are moving away to Prescott. There were twenty pairs of slippers turned in, 2 pair from each member. These slippers are to be delivered to the three local hospitals.

There were two readings brought by Christine and Helen O'Reilly. Helen read their book, they were entitled "Grandma's by a ten year old", and "Pretty Good Time to Forget". These two readings were very true to life and amusing.

For the roll call each member brought plants, daisies and weeds. Everything was different and we were all happy with our exchanges especially "Melba and Laurie".

Our next meeting is April 6th at Mary Albrecht's, the co-hostess is Melba. The roll call is - Something I learned from my Grandmother or another friend. "We are also to make an "Easter Bunny" and wear it at the meeting. Have your good original ideas displayed "Girls".

The hostess prize was won by Mary Albrecht and the Lucky Tea Cup by Marjorie Newbaker. Helen Sutherland had another brain twister of a game, 20 household articles on a tray, 30 seconds to look them all over and 10 minutes to write down the ones you remembered. Helen O'Reilly being the most and this time it was Melba who guessed the least. Ten Bad I out did her. There were nine prizes too.

After this mild confusion the hostess and Co-hostess Helen O'Reilly served the most dainty scrumptious lunch on "The Old Country Roast" (tea). It was so elegant and deliciously arranged.

Henry reports activities

Three weeks into the Spring Season; we have now had the speech from the Throne and the budget has been brought in. The major emphasis in the speech from the Throne was on education. There is considerable pressure on curriculum change and also on relating examinations.

The budget, of course, is the price and appropriation list of what the government is going to buy in the current year. The end figure is over 3 billion dollars.

The major concern coming to me in the way of letters is fuel and natural gas pricing. The policy on natural gas has been well publicized in as far as user subsidies are concerned. The coming increases, however, are an unknown factor at the moment.

I believe that a useful approach for local discussion would be to meet in a community with people who have a concern, and talk about it. I am prepared to come to your area on invitation, to meet with you and try to get your views. If you are interested, call me, collect, at the Legislature - telephone number 629-6231 and we will arrange a meeting.

With the Provincial P.C. Convention coming up on the 25th of this month, in Edmonton, I look forward to seeing many of you there. Our P.C. items that will come to the floor at the Convention will be the matter of redistribution, which is having a serious impact on the Sedgewick-Coronation Constituency. As I mentioned in my last column, the matter will be coming to the floor of the House shortly after the Convention.

Finally, as the Government Member of the Alberta Hospital Services Commission, I can say that major decisions are being made on the health care delivery system and I will comment further on this area in a later report.

By H. Krueger, M.L.A.

anti-smut campaign

VITAVAX is a systemic fungicide that cleans up diseases of wheat, barley, oats, flax and rye, and controls true loose smut in barley. It's available as a drill box formulation. Or, for wheat and barley, as a dual purpose treatment combatting wireworms as well as smut.

Pruning of trees

Glen Werner, D.A.

The months of March and April are ideal times to prune most trees that grow in Alberta. With a few exceptions, trees other than deciduous should be pruned right now.

Pruning is done for various reasons, some good, some not so good. The more common objectives for pruning are: to maintain healthy plants, to shape the tree to its desired form, to repair and prevent damage, to promote flower development, to balance top growth with root development, and to create artificial tree structure.

Most often pruning is done once the plant has become overly large or damaged and has taken on an unsightly appearance. Although pruning then, is better than not at all, the major pruning should be done when the plant is young and developing. Light constant pruning is better than later severe pruning.

Pruning is often attempted without good tools, and an axe is not a pruning tool. Good tools make the job easier and much safer. Ideally, a pruning saw, a hand saw, a chainsaw, a curved pruning saw, and a sharp knife.

Some other useful items to have before you start the job are tree wound dressing, a chain saw, gloves, and a step ladder.

Once you have your equipment together, your ready for your plan of attack. A few points to keep in mind make the job easier:

1. Always remember, work from large to small (no point in removing a whole branch of little branches, then decide to remove the big branch).

2. Always work the tree from all sides, this results in a balanced end product.

3. First remove the dead and broken branches, and the diseased wood.

4. Then select the scaffold branch, the one you want on the balanced tree.

5. Carry out corrective pruning, e.g. remove or correct weak crotches, waterprongs, and suckers.

6. This out the well spaced wood in the crown.

7. Quit at a certain point and walk away.

SOME FINAL TIPS

1. Your method of pruning is determined by the type of plant and it's use. Fruit trees, shrubs, ornamentals, shade trees etc., all have different pruning methods.

2. Don't prune too severely, severe pruning results in weakening the tree and the production of excessive waterprongs.

3. Large branches should be removed in several steps to avoid tearing the bark. Method as described in our pruning manual available at the office.

4. Cuts over 1 inch in diameter should be covered with tree dressing.

5. A stick should never be left. Make cut flush with the stem and trim with knife.

6. Bleeders, e.g. maple and birch, should not be pruned in spring. Late summer is best.

7. When removing diseased wood, cut away your tools after each cut.

8. Conifers must be pruned differently from deciduous trees, and only very growth should be pruned.

Further information may be obtained by contacting our office at 384-3727.

Daysland's 'concerned parents' group meets

A meeting was held March 16th at 1:00 p.m. in the United Church Hall. Topics discussed included the Second Language Inquiry. It will be presented to the School Board.

Guest speaker John Dahmer, Career Counsellor, Alberta Advanced Education and Manpower, spoke on the possibilities of a Career Seminar here in our school. Mr. Dahmer suggests this might happen in May.

To quote John Dahmer: "The purpose of the seminar is to help students evaluate themselves and in this light choose careers that would be most appropriate for them as individuals as well as teach them how to acquire information about careers."

The kinds of information they will require and where it can be obtained. Emphasis is on "opening the eyes" of students (Gr. 9 to 12) with regards to the variety and various training routes available to them.

Next meeting - March 30 at 1:30 p.m. United Church Hall, Daysland.

Keeping in touch

— Arnold Mathews, M.P.

PEOPLE WITHOUT JOBS On the day of writing this column Statistics Canada has just released the Labor Force survey of 15 and 20 unemployed.

In total, there were 15,000 more young people between the ages of 15 and 20 unemployed last month than in the month of January. And the seasonally adjusted national unemployment rate is more than twice as high as that for people aged 25 and older and that the youth rate has been increasing at an astronomical rate for each of the last five years.

Presently, the unemployment rate in Canada is 8.1 per cent. That is itself is a shocking figure. However, because of questions placed by opposition parties during the last month in regard to the unaccounted unemployed, Statistics Canada started asking a new channel of questions in their working review. It is based on that questioning that all of those unemployed and actively looking for work, 17.9 per cent or 12,000 people indicated that their reason for not working was because "they do not believe that there is any work available".

Note, the people do not believe there was any work available were people who had been seeking work for six months earlier. The majority of those people are in areas of extraordinary high unemployment. If these people are added to the unemployment statistics we would have a staggering 27 per cent unemployed rate.

Knox U.C.W. busy

People can be divided into three groups: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened.

Doris Foster opened the meeting with a poem, "Come

This Day."

Rose Wegman conducted the devotional which began by the singing of "Beneath the Cross of Jesus." The Bible reading was from Heb. 12, verses 11-12 and a History Book, concerning 4-H in our country, and it would appear that over the years we have lost track of our beginning.

Exactly how did 4-H get started in the Flagstaff County? It is generally believed that the movement began with the Rural Youth Clubs, which were organized by the Department of Agriculture. Apparently, at and 1917 they were trying to encourage the youth to stay on the farm.

Get well cards had been sent to those in the hospital.

Roll call was answered by a verse about spring.

Rose Wegman gave a short report on the Presbyterial and recommended that everyone should try and attend sometime as it was a worthwhile experience.

The Gladys Christensen Memorial Fund had reached a total of $1000. Some of it had been used to help defray expenses of women travelling to the north.

Lunch was provided by Adelpha Young and Clara Forster and served by Sheila Child.

If you tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the universe, he'll believe you. But if you tell him a bench has just been painted, he has to touch it to be sure.

Flagstaff district needs help for history book

Were you ever involved in a rural youth club or a 4-H club? If so, we need your assistance. The Flagstaff 4-H District 4-H Council is compiling a History Book, concerning 4-H in our country, and it would appear that over the years we have lost track of our beginning.

Exactly how did 4-H get started in the Flagstaff County? It is generally believed that the movement began with the Rural Youth Clubs, which were organized by the Department of Agriculture. Apparently, at and 1917 they were trying to encourage the youth to stay on the farm.

We would like to get in contact with everyone who can give us definite facts pertaining to dates, happenings, and names of people who were involved. If you can help us in any way, please get in contact with Janet Niehaus at 388-2268 or by writing Box 91, Loughheed.

When we get the information that is required to get this whole thing put into perspective, the Council will be publishing a History Book, thereby marking 60 years of 4-H in Alberta. This book will also be made available to the public.

LOUGHEED 4-H HOMEMAKERS

On March 15 the Loughheed 4-H Homemakers held a work meeting at the Loughheed School. The first year girls worked on their headscarves and the older girls worked on their garments.

We decided that we would have a personal development workshop on March 23rd from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The girls and mothers are having a picnic dinner at noon.

America has become so tense and nervous it has been years since I've seen anyone asleep in church and that's a sad situation.

Donations disclosed

Contributors to Alberta political parties will face disclosure of their names and limits on the size of their contributions for the first time under election expense legislation now before the Legislature.

The tighter election expense legislation follows years of discussion in the province and while it does not extend as far as in some other jurisdictions, is a major tightening of Alberta's rules.

Tom Chambers, M.L.A. for Edmonton-Calgary who headed the committee that came up with the recommendations, says there has been no public push for the legislation. But the basic principle of public right to know and increasing general concern over secrecy have led the government to propose it.

The source of all donations of more than $250 will be required - name, address and size of contribution. Contributions will also be restricted to Alberta residents and corporations, unions and other organizations which are registered and doing business in Alberta.

No single contributor will be allowed to give more than $12,500 a year (plus an extra $12,500 in election years) to a party. Only $10,000 may go to a provincial party with contributions to individual constituency associations limited to $500, each.

One loophole has already been spotted in the bill. By spreading contributions around a single source can give up to $8,000 without being named. But Chambers said he does not think that will lead to abuse.

Also four Awards of Appreciation were presented to the W.I. of Loughheed, The Kinetic Club of Sedgewick, The W.I. of Alliance and The Dayland Hospital Auxiliary. These organizations have over the past years contributed of their time to various their areas and have supported the work of the Society.

Conservatory hits were passed out to all the communities in the Flapjack Unit. The Annual Convention of the Flapjack Unit was held in the month of April.

Junior citizens program

One of the few projects to receive unqualified support from both Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and the Opposition Leader Joe Clark came in 1968 when this September in Calgary.

Alberta's Junior Citizens program, sponsored by Calgary Power Ltd. and Alberta Power Ltd., "serves to bring to light outstanding young people who are so richly deserving of our admiration and respect," says the prime minister.

Any young Albertan, or group, between the ages of six and 18 can qualify for a Junior Citizen of the Year Award. Boys and girls are nominated through their community newspaper, for any act of achievement which involves courage, initiative or selflessness performed during the 12 month period August 1, 1976 to July 31, 1977.

Every leader Clark, in a message to Junior Citizen organizers, says he takes particular pride in the program because he is a "Yellow Albertan."

"In these uncertain times, it is important that we pause to honour the small, but nonetheless remarkable, gestures of social commitment undertaken by our young people, be they.

This year's Junior Citizens luncheon will be held Sept. 9 in the Calgary Convention Centre, as part of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers' Association annual convention.

On hand to honor the Junior Citizens will be Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhilber and A.W.N.A. president Bill Holmes, of the High River Times.

Lt. Gov. Steinhilber will also present the Great MacPhee Conservation Award.

The award was developed by Calgary Power Ltd. in 1971 to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the Alberta-High Conservation Camp, and to recognize Dr. MacPhee's life-long interest in conservation.

It is designed to motivate camp delegates to spread the conservation message and to honor a selected graduate camper who demonstrates outstanding efforts as a follow-up to attending the camp.

The award is presented annually. Each Junior Citizen, and the MacPhee Award winner, receives a certificate of recognition and $200 in Canada Savings Bonds.

Nominations may be forwarded to the editor of this newspaper, or directly to your electric utility.

Oldtimers hockey

Now that the Oldtimers big hockey tour to Switzerland is over and local roads are being returned home, here are a few highlights of the wonderful trip that was enjoyed by so many.

About 1500 Canadians went to Switzerland, 78 of which were from Battle River Buffs, and were the only team from Western Canada to bring back a gold medal from the "C" division.

Fifty teams overall entered in this tournament, about 40 or more from Canada, 1 from the U.S., Sweden, Switzerland, Finland and Holland all participated as well.

All other gold medals were won by Canadian teams, which surely gives the Canadian Old-Timers Hockey Teams an enviable record.

Among those going from Hardisty were John and Lou Goltz with their wives, Betsy

Hooping it up

by Doris M. Saunders

"What's the matter boys?" I inquired of the two boys sitting disconsolately on the steps.

"We're nothing to do," they complained.

"How does that come about, I asked. 'Haven't you may try or games to play with?'"

"Nah, we're tired of them."

I thought back to my childhood and a day that filled many hours of my time.

It was a metal hoop strung around of some old wheel or wooden barrel. It was as high or to wide and about a foot in diameter without some hoops were bigger. The size rarely did it matter.

I used a T-shaped half constructed steering device and I can tell you my brother and I were quite proficient in handling the hoops and making them go where we wanted them in.

We invented games with them. We tried with each other to see who could do the most difficult things such as wheeling it over a board and down a runway or over a ditch by means of a board-wheel bridge without letting it wobble and fall. How slow could you go without losing control or how fast could you run and keep it rolling along? Could you call it around that big rock and between those two trees? We had beaten pants where we were wont to go to see if we could wheel them the whole way round without an accident.

When it rained we ran joyfully barefoot through the deep mud puddles we could find lapping and rolling our hoops.

We must have gone miles following these whirling playthings. We never knew down the cow path that led to the pasture when we had to bring home the cows for milking.

We rolled them down the half mile driveway when we went to get the mail left by the rural mail carrier. These hoops were our constant companions.

"What you guys need is a hoop," I said as I walked on leaving a puzzled pair of boys still sitting on the steps.

The elevator and the future's market

AGRI - INSIGHT
By Alberta Wheat Pool

Grain handling organizations use the futures market of the Winnipeg Commodity Exchange to establish prices for non-Broadbent and in protect grain inventories against the effect of price declines. Futures market exist for these grains not marketed by the Canadian Wheat Board, rapeseed, flax and rye plus domestic feed barley, wheat and oats. The futures prices for these grains as determined by trading activity at the Commodity Exchange are the basis for prices which producers receive for their grain. Elevator companies also use the futures market to hedge grain purchased from producers and reduce the risk of price fluctuations.

The price paid to producers for non-Broadbent grain is based on the futures price for those grades at the time they will be in store terminal elevators and ready for sale. From the appropriate futures month's price, the grain company deducts both the fixed and variable costs of moving grain forward to terminal position. Fixed costs cover country elevator elevation, cleaning, weighing, administration, interest, freight, storage and interest are variable costs the company incurs before the grain is in terminal and available for sale. Additional adjustments may be made to reflect premium or discount export market conditions. The result is the daily street price, the price paid to producers.

After the elevator company has purchased grain from a producer, it may take several weeks or months depending on market and transportation conditions, to move the grain to a terminal elevator. To reduce the risk of price declines during this period, grain companies hedge their purchases on the futures market of the Commodity Exchange. This means that as soon as the grain is purchased from a producer, the company sells a futures contract for a similar quantity at the price upon which the street price was based. The elevator company is now protected against the price declines before the grain is sold. Hedging also assures the company, the grain will be sold at a price which should cover costs. While the company reduces the risk of price declines it is not able to benefit from any price increases that may occur.

March 1st - Elevator company buys 10,000 bushels of rapeseed at 96 1/2¢/bushel. After deducting costs, the price paid to a producer is 96 1/2¢/bushel.

Elevator company hedges the purchase by selling a June rapeseed futures contract for

MRS. ETNA HUSE - ALLIANCE

10,000 bushels at 96 1/2¢/bushel.

Space the price of rapeseed declined 25 cents/bushel between March and June.

June 1st - 10,000 bushels of rapeseed are now in store at a terminal elevator.

Elevator company sells it to an exporter for 96 1/2¢/bushel.

Elevator company buys a June rapeseed futures contract for 10,000 bushels at 96 1/2¢/bushel.

What is the result? The rapeseed purchased from a producer at 96 1/2¢/bushel, and produced a loss of 25 cents/bushel. In the futures market transaction, the company made a profit of 25 cents/bushel. The net result was break-even and the elevator company was able to sell the rapeseed for the price it needed to cover costs.

Elevator companies use the futures market each day to establish buying prices and protect inventories against price declines. Grain exporters and domestic processors also use the futures market, but instead for the protection it can offer them against price increases. If this provision was not part of the futures system, each of these organizations would require a larger margin to compensate for the risk of price changes. The end result could be lower prices for the producers' grain.

Having been favoured with instructions, we will sell by public auction the following, located on NE 1/4-41-12-W4, being 2 miles east, 6 miles north and 15 miles east of Alliance, or 15 miles south on Highway 26, 4 miles east, 4 miles south and 1/2 mile north of Killam.

Flagstaff community choir present Easter music

Since early in January the Flagstaff Community Choir has been hard at work preparing for what should be a tremendous Easter performance of choral music.

The idea of a community choir first began at the time of the Killam homecoming in 1954. The response of both participants and audience was so overwhelming, that the choir was under the direction of R.H.P. Regier decided to reorganize in full and prepare for a Christmas program. The choir efforts resulted in a very well attended and enthusiastically accepted program of Christmas choral music. Due to their success and the encouragement of the public, there was no doubt in the minds of the choir members as to whether or not to keep up their efforts.

All the choir members, including the director and the accompanist are putting out the effort in the choir as a volunteer and unpaid basis. Therefore anyone in the area with an interest in music, particularly choral music, is invited to participate in the future. The choir would especially like to encourage more men and more young people to join up, but everyone is welcome.

This years Easter performance consists of a cantata by John W. Peterson called "Hail Glorious King" which tells in music and narration, the Biblical story of Easter. Also included in the program will be other selections by Haydn and Handel, including the great and well-loved "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah".

The choir will be performing in Killam on April 4th in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church at 8:00 p.m. and in Forestburg on April 6th in the United Church. The choir will also present a special performance at the Senior Citizens Lodge in Sedgewick.

Church rededicated

A large congregation was present Sunday evening, March 27th, for a special service of re-dedication of the Killam Presbyterian Church. This service was called following extensive re-furbishing and re-furnishing of the Church, including the installation of new pews. The Reverend Larry Lee conducted the service. Guest speaker for the special occasion was the Reverend Ian MacSwain of Strathcona Presbyterian Church, Edmonton. A former Catechist in the Killam Cathedral charged Mr. Arnold Bergstrom of Vancouver, was guest speaker at the regular morning service. Following the evening service a fellowship hour was held in the Canadian Legion Hall. On behalf of the Session and Congregation Edward Fox extended a welcome to all present, particularly the Clergy and members of other Churches in the community. Greetings were given by Mr. Gordon Stewart from St. Pauls Presbyterian Church of Calgary; from Rev. P. A. MacKenzie of St. Joseph's R.C. Parish, from the Reverend Allan Richards of the United Church; from the Rev. MacSwain of the Presbytery of Edmonton and from Rev. George Johnson of the Synod of Alberta. Mr. Bergstrom and the Rev. Harold Lowry of Berlingham, Ontario also spoke. Dr. Lowry was a student minister in Killam in 1922-23, and made the trip to Killam especially for this service and to renew old acquaintances.

Letters and telegrams were received by the congregation from a number of other former ministers. The evening concluded with lunch.

Oil will be extracted from Cold Lake

The long talk in generating plans to exploit the oil sands has been broken by a new proposal to build a $2 billion plant to extract up to 125,000 barrels a day of crude from Cold Lake deposits.

Imperial Oil Canada Ltd. has secured success with production experiments there and has approached the government about getting the project operating by the mid 1980s. Energy Minister Don Getty says.

The plant would be on the scale of the Syncrude Canada Ltd. project near Fort McMurray. But it would use different extraction methods for the Cold Lake oil, about 175 miles southeast of Edmonton.

The plant would drill holes into the reservoir and pump down steam which would be generated at a coal-fired heating plant to force crude to the surface, where it would be refined to a high-grade product.

At Fort McMurray, the oil sands have to be mined as a solid. At Cold Lake, near the Saskatchewan boundary, the deposits are a thick, viscous liquid deep underground. A special group led by Assistant Deputy Minister Tom Vant is working with the provincial government. Eventually, experts on planning from the municipal affairs, environment and business development departments will be called in to see.

Vant is also in charge of managing the government's equity in Syncrude. But Getty said that while he would like to see Alberta participation in Imperial's plant, direct government involvement is not under consideration.

Getty and spokesmen for Imperial say the project is only in preliminary planning stages. An application to the Alberta Energy Board is still a year away. Construction could start about 1981.

Getty revealed the discussions with Imperial during the Legislature budget committee meeting where he was critical of other companies which were proposing new oil sands plants about two years ago but haven't followed through. The energy board has approved applications from investors led by Shell Canada Ltd., Petrofin and Hume Oil but they haven't approached the cabinet for permission to go ahead and necessary commercial arrangements.

They have complained that the government lacks an oil sands policy. But proposals are to be considered on their merits separately and some of the firms have tried to find out what deal they could have, Getty reported.

He said pressure for decisions on the next Syncrude mining plant is mounting. Federal officials on a committee established with the province last year want to see commitments made by the end of 1977.

Getty's statements came on the heels of warning by Premier Peter Lougheed to his Conservatives' annual convention in Edmonton that Alberta has until 1985 to shift its economy off its "precarious" reliance on selling unprocessed resources.

Mr. Lougheed said the province can't continue to rely on selling crude oil for its prosperity. He promised work on five fronts: moving economic power west, averting federal obstruction, gradually getting international prices for energy resources, winning favorable freight rates and finding export markets for new industries.

Alive for evermore!

It was Sunday evening, and a handful of men were hiding in an upstairs room. They were utterly miserable, they were puzzled and depressed, and in their fear they had bolted the door. The bottom had fallen out of their world. They had given their all in loyalty to their Leader; everything had been created in Him, and now — He was dead. The cross upon which He had been crucified was silhouetted against the evening sky — a grim reminder of the death of all their hopes. His grave was in a garden close by. One more idealist removed and with him all his grand, but unfulfilled, promises.

A few weeks later these same men were on trial before those who were responsible for the death of their Leader. The "crimes" with which they were charged was that of preaching about him. Neither beating, nor the threat of death was sufficient to keep them quiet. They said, when threatened by their accusers, "For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard" (Acts 4:20). Treated like criminals, accused of madness, charged with being drunk, hounded from city to city — these they counted experiences in which to rejoice.

What had happened? Why this tremendous change? They believed that their Leader Jesus Christ was alive! They had seen Him. He had spoken to them, and wherever they went thousands believed them, and finally their enthusiasm stormed and was many of the cities of the Roman Empire.

That was the amazing news which captured the ancient world; and that it is the message which has changed the lives of millions ever since.

The resurrection message is one which can revolutionize your life. What is wrong with most of us that we are failing to be what in our better moments we want to be. We have discovered that our best endeavors are paralyzed by the tendency toward evil which is part of our nature. But the living Christ can save us from this.

"If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that he hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Romans 10:9).

F & G trophy banquet held

On Saturday evening of April 2nd the Iron Creek Fish & Game Association again held a very successful Banquet and Trophy Night. The Loughed Hall was filled to capacity, and an excellent meal was served by the Loughed Arena Ladies.

President Francis Bovecamp reported the past year's activities, some of the special projects of the club were also mentioned. The main one being the pleasant raising project and also the stocking of Owen's Pond and Sedgewick Lake again this spring.

Entertainment was supplied by the Rhenish house group from Alliance, M.C. Council Invitations then introduced our Guest Speaker of the evening, Mr. Cam Finlay from Sherwood Park, Mr. Finlay is presently employed as Manager of the Nature Centre in Edmonton; part of the Edmonton Parks system. Mr. Finlay also was a man behind the development of Fort Edmonton. His wife Mrs. Joy Finlay was the instigator of Blue Bird Trails of Alberta, which started in 1971 in the Edmonton area as an attempt to encourage the return of the Mountain Blue Bird to the region.

The business of the Convention centered around several key resolutions, brought in by delegates from around the province. One of these was from Vermilion-Viking, dealing with redistribution. The resolution recommended that no rural communities be lost to redistribution, and it passed by a margin of 7 to 3. Our President, Walter Bell, made an excellent case as did Brent Lawley, the Regional Director. The decision, however, has to come to the floor of the House, and very soon, I hope. Another resolution that received a great deal of debate related to the labour scene and stemmed from the decision, made by the management of the Alberta Forestry Co.

Mr. Finlay shared slides and spoke to us of the growth of the Blue Bird Trail program in Alberta. The program consists of placing bird houses in likely areas by interested people, the observation of same to see if they are used by Blue Birds, this is then reported to a central person, the young birds are banded and information documented. The bird houses are free from the Blue Bird Trail and if you would like some contact Eber Waite at 286-2178.

Mr. Paul March, Sec. Manager of the Alberta Fish and Game Assoc. brought greetings complementing the Iron Creek Club on their activities and growing organization. Mr. March also informed us that this coming year the hunting season for antelope and deer have a more liberal service due to the increases in population.

The trophies were then presented to the various winners by Ralph Sorenson and Francis Bovecamp.

The winners of the deer prize were Ann March and Raymond Cameron. Winners of the Chinese Quince were Zane Parnum, Andy Greive and Ernie Dalack.

Keeping in touch

TO T.V. OR NOT T.V.:
THAT'S THE QUESTION

The former Government House Leader, the Honourable Mitchell Sharp, has for a long time been on a crusade to televise the House of Commons debates. The question is an important one but that is perplexing because of the nature of the press and media. For media there are no opposing disadvantages.
At the onset, no Member of Parliament would want the option of observing their Parliament on T.V. or not. It may be pondered as to whether or not they are willing to pay $100,000.00 for installation costs and another $100,000.00 annually for staffing, programming and maintenance.

Then, of course, there ought to be realization that Parliament is an institution of making. It is not a theatre and its purpose should be to be entertained. In fact, I can think of nothing that makes less interesting T.V. programming than Parliament's review of the estimates.

The review of the Main Estimates (the Blue Book) is nearly a thousand pages of financial estimates. The review is a financial review. It is not a theatre and its purpose should be to be en-
esting T.V. programming than Parliament's review of the estimates.

From a different perspective there is the question of whether or not the fact of the presence of the T.V. camera would cause members to believe camera attacking behaviour solely for the sake of public relation. In the function of his role a member of Parliament ought to spend a significant amount of time in each of the following: (1) House of Commons, (2) several of the 38 Standing Committees, (3) in the Ottawa office responding to mail and telephone calls, (4) representation meetings with government departments, and (5) in the home constituency attending to local matters. Obviously, 384 members can not effectively discuss the nation's business in one closed group where only one person can speak at a time. Therefore, the committee system was instituted and more extensive opportunity for participation pre-valued in groups of approximately 20 persons. But, T.V. in the House of Commons would likely raise great concern about the whereabouts of members; members who are not there should be, elsewhere attending to the Nation's business.

Further, I have a concern that televising the House of Commons debates would interfere with the Question Period from a time where Opposition Members have the prerogative to challenge the government on the choice of implementation of its policies to a time where government backbenchers would ask numerous pretended questions. In anticipation of a televised Parliament these incidents are already starting to happen. Presently, there are — Arnold Mahon, M.P.

I also believe that a number of rule changes are needed to expedite the work of Parliament. These changes should, however, be made solely with the Nations business in mind. The rules of Parliament ought not to be changed to fit the convenience of a powerful media. The issues of the day and television broadcasting operate in vastly different formats. Therefore, I find myself in conflict with the issue of defending the freedom of the press while at the same time preserve the institution of Parliament. Changes should not be made to the Standing Orders for the convenience of television yet the presence of cameras will undoubtedly impose a new form of control and a new act of House rules.

Keeping in touch ought not to imply that our traditions can be made for rules that first to pamper the producers of T.V. shows. Your opinions and reactions will indeed be very valuable on this issue, I need them.

DANGERS OF LOW CARBO-
HYDRATE DIETS
You may have that low carbohydrate diet can be dangerous to your health.

Low carbohydrate diet books say all you have to do to lose weight is to stick to proteins like eggs, meat and cheese and fats. You can eat as much of them as you like, but you must stay away from carbohydrate like bread, potatoes and sweets. However, what these books do not tell you is that you may end up paying a high price for these seemingly painless diets.

According to the American Medical Association, low carbohydrate, high fat diets can trigger a condition known as ketosis. Although ketosis normally plays a part in the body's chemical processes, an over-abundance of them can, in addition to suppressing the di-eter's appetite, cause a body chemical change.

The health problems that have been linked by the medical profession to low carbohydrate diets include dehydration, kidney trouble, fatigue, apathy, depletion of calcium and conditions associated with heart disease. The slender part of these diets is that their full impact on the dieter's health may go unnoticed for years.

Well earned victory

This year's 8 & under hockey team almost didn't materialize due to lack of players in time. Those interested found that Lougheed and Sedgewick were having the same problem as with a true spirit of co-operation, the two teams combined to form one team.

The opening game in the ended in disaster as far as the goals indicated (2 to 1 for us).

However the thrill of just being out there playing in a real game was enough to start the team off with a bang.

A total of 9 games were played during the season; personal support was excellent. Games were played against Irma, Forsburg, Killam, Viking and Hardisty.

While our team did not win one game during the season, several games were lost by only one point. As the season progressed the skill and determination of each team member increased.

I might mention here that we had three lucky girls on our team who added zip to the team: Camie Stoodley, Mary Lynn Coates and Louise Tanton. The Tanton family was there in full force with three members of their family as the team (Louise, Michael and Gary). Gary was just 4 years old and threatened to steal the show, not to mention brothers Raymond and Craig who monopolized the sticks in the dressing room.

Many many thanks go to coaches Bruce Ribault and Li. several games were lost by only one point. As the season progressed the skill and determination of each team member increased.

The 8 & under tournament was held on March 11th began with an exciting game against Daysland. The dressing room was one big hubbub of excitement as the team came off the ice after winning their 1st game 3 to 1. It was hard to tell who was more thrilled - players or parents. The second game was played between Daysland and Forsburg with Daysland coming up victorious.

Lougheed-Sedgewick team was ready for the final game in which they defeated Forsburg 2 - 1. The trophy was presented to captain Gary Tanton and there was one team of very happy players who skated around the arena in victory. Each member of the team will keep the trophy for one week.

Some of our team will be moving up to 10 & under next year and we wish them well. They are: Murray Sell, Shane Grove, Zane Schmitt, Nane Lynne Coates, Alan Stoodley and Ross Scott. Other members of the team include W. Wilk, Murray Bell, Mervin Sherman, Camie Stoodley, Darren Cleveland, Jeff Hamilton, Gary Tanton, Marvin Libers, Bruce Ribault, Michael Tanton and Louise Tanton.

FERTILIZERS:
At this time of year I frequently am asked which is the best fertilizer to use this spring? That question is not easily answered, and it all depends on several other factors.

All fertilizer applications or even recommendations should be based on a soil test. Without a test, one is at best only guessing as to what his field's nutrient requirement is. Soil tests may still be taken now, and be of some value in determining when to use a fertilizer.

criminating what fertilizer and how much to use this spring.

Space and time in this article would not permit a general review of all the various fertilizers available. However, I would like to make several points based on the questions I'm most frequently asked.

1. No-anhydrous Ammonia does not damage the soil when used as directed and at recommended rates. There has been talk of Anhydrous being hard on the soil. As far as research can determine when used at moderate rates no damage can result.

2. All nitrogen fertilizers are the same. NO<sub>3</sub> there is a difference, 34-0-0, 16-0-0, and 12-0-0 (anhydrous ammonia) are very similar as far as nitrogen source is concerned. The amount of Nitrogen available per pound of fertilizer is quite different. Products like 15-0-0, 21-0-0 and 34-0-0-115 contain a nitrogen source ammonium sulphate. These should be used only if your soil is low in sulphur. If your soil test does not indicate a lack of sulphur, these products should be avoided. Sulphur containing fertilizer lower the pH of the soil more rapidly than the ammonium nitrate (34-0-0) forms.

3. I don't need phosphorus every year do I? Yes, you likely do, unless of course you have put in a very large rate a year or two ago. (e.g. 500 lb. or more). Phosphorus placed with the seed gives the plants available phosphorus as soon as it germinates and begins root development. A routine 30-40 lbs. of 11-48-0 is good, unless your soil test indicates otherwise.

4. Can I place all my fertilizer with my seed? Maybe, it depends on how much, what crop, and whether the soil is moist or dry. All phosphorus at recommended rates should be seed placed. Nitrogen should not exceed certain levels. Some thumb rules - in wheat or wet soil, no more than 30 lbs./A with seed. Dry soil, no more than 20 lbs./A barley and oats no more than 20 lbs./A in moist soil, about 15 lbs./A in dry soil - small seeded crops. Do not exceed 10 lbs./A of nitrogen with seed.

No doubt you may have some other questions about fertilizer. If you do, feel free to call on me. I'll try and find the answer. Remember our Sedgewick number is 384-3757. Our Fortnaburg number is 382-3752.

Daysland to open 6 days

The March meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the Civic Room, Battle's Steak House with 11 members present. Pres. L. Kapler presided.

The Chamber of Commerce have agreed to look after decorating Main Street for "Blooming 70's" to be held July 1 to 3, 1977.

After considerable discussion regarding business hours in town, a motion was passed to provide 6 full days of shopping in Daysland by remaining open all day Wednesday. This step was felt necessary to provide more uniform hours amongst the local businesses. This is to commence the first Wednesday in May.

Employer and employee parking on Main Street was discussed and it was recommended that these people not park their vehicles on Main Street.

CORRECTION

In the Hardisty cutting pictures last issue, a mistake was made in that Junior Curbing award. Accepting the top award for the Juniors was Sharon Gately on behalf of her rink, Nobby Sharon.

A choir, under the direction of Mrs. Kay Routledge, who also played the piano, performed the Chanters "Rebeld Your King." This choir of 20 people, gave a very stirring rendition of the Crucifixion and Resurrection in song. Rev. R. Niebergall read the Bible passages which led from one part of the story to the next. It was a beautiful Cantata, well performed and was the highlight of a memorable service.

COME ALIVE Easter reflections

"must one be ordained to be a witness with us of His resurrection?" Acts 1:22b
I feel personally, the most convincing proof of the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, was not found in the different "eye witness" accounts which we so often quote, but rather in the end result of the Christian witness of that day.

I am not minimizing the sufficiently documented "eye witness" accounts given in the Bible. These I do not even question. But when one considers the terrible impact of the Christian religion in the first three centuries following Christ we cannot but be and back in awe and wonder. Just to think that a mere handful of disciples eventually became a force so great that they compelled mighty Rome to recognize the religion of Christ as the state religion.

As we search the scriptures one finds the answer in the emphasis given to the "witness of His resurrection" by the early church. It was the all compelling theme. "He has risen," was the cry and everyday language. No, they did not minimize the truth of Christ's atoning death for the aid of the Holy Spirit, but the fact that this same Christ who had died was now alive again was the emphasis of it all.

He had conquered where all others had failed. He truly was Victor.

I have been musing and wondering. If possibly we could catch again the thrill and the reality of the resurrection and the gift of a gain the inward compulsion to be a "witness of His resurrection" in our day, as was the early church in its day. Stewart M. Abel

Gymnastic competitions

Gymnastics has been growing in interest locally - spurred on perhaps by the virtuosity of Nadia Comaneci in the Olympics. It has been helped by Society's trend toward physical fitness activities as well.

Battle River Regional Planning Commission

The PRELIMINARY REGIONAL PLAN

In January 1976 the Battle River Planning Commission published a Discussion Draft of its proposed Preliminary Regional Plan. This document was distributed and discussed with a wide range of individuals, groups, and organizations interested in land use. Following these discussions the Commission published a second, amended version of the Plan in October 1976. This was also widely circulated.

Before finally adopting the Plan, the commission wishes to give all interested parties a final opportunity to make comments and request changes.

The Commission has therefore arranged a PUBLIC HEARING to be held at the County Office at Sedgewick at 10:00 a.m. on WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20th, 1977, at which time members of the Commission will be present to hear any briefs or presentations by landowners or residents of the area.

Copies of the proposed Preliminary Regional Plan are available free of charge at the County Offices.

J. L. ROBERTS, Chairman.

Planning the electrical needs of the future is not a simple operation!

To plan and build a modern thermal power plant takes about twelve years. We must make our plans far in advance, because no last-minute measures can be taken to meet the growing and diverse energy demands. This advance planning must take care of both engineering and financial and financial needs. Money must be raised now for equipment that won't go "on stream" for years down the line. Environmental studies must be undertaken now to ensure clean energy later.

These pre-planning costs run into millions of dollars. Worth $2 You get a lot in investment in Canada.

Sedgewick News

Have to set something straight at the start of this news. It was Myrt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Orsen of Hanley, Saskatchewan who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Dick Matthews and David on their trip to Oregon, not Mr. and Mrs. B. Matthews of Hardisty as I reported last week. I just sent the wrong set of parents along. Sorry folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dixon and children of Edmonton spent the Easter weekend at their parental home, the Gees, Jeweys.

Saturday dinner guests at the Jim Walsh home were their son and daughter and their families. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh and sons of St. Albert and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Blaser and children from Heister.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hagen and family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Duncan at Amah on Friday.

That fire five just after noon on Friday was caused by a smoky little fire that really started roasting in the east of the J. Walsh, F. Howelie and D. Andersen homes and was on its way across the field to the John Sarasin home. The prompt action by the fire brigade soon stopped it and the only damage was to a couple of little trees (No Ed. it wasn't my fire, honest).

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Howelie were son Fred and his family. Mr. and Mrs. F. Howelie and children of Edmonton, Texas who had spent a week with her grandparents, returned to Edmonton with her parents.

Easter weekend guests at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Ley were son Joe of Calgary and daughter Maureen of Edmonton. On Sunday, Mrs. B. Pedersen and Grace of Camrose were visitors at the Lee home.

Around 10:30 on Sunday morning the Fire Brigade answered a call to the Harry Perrier farm, south of town. A grass fire got away and caught on the vines of the house. There was some damage to the front of the house which was unoccupied but the fire was confined to the yard and quickly extinguished.

Another weekend visitor was Mr. Roger Smith and friend who dropped in on relatives and friends.

Service for Kaia Johansen

Kaia Constance Sophia Johansen was born in Lofoten, Norway on April 14th, 1922. On August 24, 1942, she was married to Imenbalt Johansen, and they resided in Norway for several years, having several of their children there.

In 1922 they immigrated to Canada, to the Sedgewick area. After arriving here, they moved to Viking and in 1924 they moved to their farm where they resided for 46 years. They had eight children, with one dying in infancy before they immigrated to Canada.

In 1922 they moved off the farm and retired into Sedgewick where they spent their remaining years. Her husband Imenbalt Johansen died on the 2nd of January in 1967 and Kaia Johansen remained living in her home in good health.

All of you here knowing her for many years know her as a kind, thoughtful individual, and who enjoyed very much the fellowship of her church.

She passed away suddenly on Sunday, April 2nd, 1977 at the Camrose General Hospital after a brief illness.

She leaves to mourn her passing 5 daughters: Helga Benson from Camrose, Rita Nordstrom of Sedgewick; Mildred Berg of Kimberley; Edna of Vancouver; Edna Galster of Edmonton; 2 sons, Arvid Johansen, Reld Johansen of Vancouver and many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Blessed be her memory to her loved ones and friends, who mourn her passing this day.

The funeral service was held at Bethel Lutheran Church on Wednesday, April 6th, 1977.

After a lovely dinner, served by the Lutheran Ladies in the Lutheran Church, the Agricultural Forum began with guest speaker, Mr. Allan McPherson, Vice President of Uniform Commodity Group, chairing the Forum. He commenced by explaining membership and financial procedure, as well as the mechanism used to have resolutions forwarded to Provincial or Federal Governments. He then gave us Uniform's policy on Rural Natural Gas, Transportation, Land Use, Taxation, Uniform Insurance Pools and Accrue Taxation. He was assisted by Mr. Will Pilon, Uniform Executive Secretary-treasurer and Charlie Archibald, director of Region 4. ## Canada's grain marketing performance

AGRI - INSIGHT

by Alberta Wheat Pool
Grain marketing is more difficult this year. Beautiful crops in most major grain producing countries have restricted export opportunities, particularly for wheat. To mid-March of this year, Canada's grain handling and marketing system had performed well.

On March 15, 1977, nearly 2/3 of the crop year had passed. To that date, Canadian grain exports had been in good volume and comparable with the experience in the last three crop years. Export shipments of the six major grains totalled 411 million bushels, compared to 425 million bushels on the same date last year.

Exports of durum wheat, oats, flax and rapeseed were all above the quantities shipped last year. In mid-March, barley shipments were in almost the same volume and only wheat and rye exports were lower.

Export clearances of wheat excluding durum, totalled 286 million bushels compared to 278 million shipped last year.

To March 15th, the port of Vancouver had handled over 150 million bushels. This was 15 million bushels more than last year on the same date. Vancouver terminals have exported 88 million bushels of wheat, 56 million of barley and 29 million bushels of rapeseed. Prince Rupert's shipments were about half of last year's mid-March volume. Of the 7 million bushels shipped so far this year, 2/3 was wheat and 1/3 was rapeseed. Export shipments directly from Thunder Bay totalled 29 million bushels, about 80% greater than last year. Overseas shipments from Churchill at 27 million bushels were nearly 5 million bushels ahead of last year. Exports from the St. Lawrence and Maritime ports have been smaller than in the first 75 months of the last crop year. St. Lawrence River terminal elevators have shipped 465 million bushels while the Maritime ports have handled 18 million bushels. Last year's mid-March figures were 191 million and 24 million bushels, respectively.

Since the beginning of the 1976-77 crop year, producers have delivered more oats, barley and rye but less wheat, flax and rapeseed than during the same period in 1975-76. In total, prairie grain growers have delivered 548 million bushels of all six grains to country elevators. This is about 20 million bushels more than last year. Deliveries of barley showed the largest increase at mid-March - up almost 32 million bushels from the previous year.

Prairie country elevators shipments to terminals of 518 million bushels were only slightly lower than last season's mid-March figures. While the movement of wheat from country elevators was down about 17 million bushels, shipments of oats, barley, flax and rapeseed were all ahead of last year.

Winter weather has not hindered rail transportation of grain through the mountains to the Pacific ports this year. Wheat, barley and rapeseed will continue to be moved to Vancouver and Prince Rupert during the balance of the crop year. Alberta country elevators will be shipping oats and barley to Thunder Bay to meet export sales commitments at the opening of navigation. Despite more abundant supplies of grain throughout the world this year, it should be a relatively good year for Canadian exports.

COME ALIVE...

"I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ, Jesus my Lord." Phil. 3:8
A gaining of a greater knowledge of Jesus Christ became a consuming passion in the life of the Apostle Paul. From the moment of his conversion to Christianity his eyes were opened to a new Person, and to a new system of truth that at once was so electrifying to his mind and satisfying to his soul, all past learning seemed as dross in comparison.

A passion for Christ

What was this system so gripping to him was hearing it from the lips of a man, who himself, was fully experienced in the learning advantages of his day. He had the best of the rich Greek culture and had been tutored under the distinguished Gamaliel. But in spite of this the new world of truth in Christ was much more fascinating. He was excited. Can't you feel it as he says, "that I might know him, and the Power of his resurrection and the fellowship of his sufferings?"

I was sitting in front of our T.V. one day when Werner Von Braun was speaking. Th at was back in the day when very few believed a trip to the moon possible. But Mr. Von Braun was talking of the "conquest" of man's ability to achieve this great feat. I'll never forget the excitement of his words and the expression of his face as he unfolded his knowledge of space travel. I said to myself "That man is

The Daysland Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held April 14th with 14 members present. President Vera Gaudet opened the meeting with the Auxiliary Prayer. The Secretary read the minutes and the Treasurer report was given and both were approved. A discussion committee reported two sympathy and two got well cards were sent out. A discussion was given on the cash books and Kay Hirsch said she had about all the receipts in. There are a few to type out.

A motion was made to buy some toys for the children in the hospital. The President has the Cancer books and has picked out the ones to canvas the different parts of town. Margie Wojciechowski was presented with a gift from the Auxiliary as she is leaving for her new home in Red Deer.

A motion was made to have our strawberry tea on the second Friday in May every year. This year it will be on May 12th in the United Church basement. There will be tickets sold at 2 cushions and a basket of fruit. There also will be a bake table. The meeting adjourned and coffee and cakes were served.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Spiller on the birth of a son on April 14th in the Daysland Hospital.

The Daysland firemen and fire engine have answered quite a few calls lately. They are mostly grass fires that get away in this wind.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carigan of Langley, B.C. are visiting with Brian Fougard and family and helping her with her sale. They will be here till after May 15th's wedding.

KILLAM NIMBLE THIMBLE
CLOTHING CLUB
The girls of the Killam C-

aching Club have been busy for the last month. On March 20th we had our speak-off. In the seniors Elaine Manning was the only one speaking in the junior division Carmen Gausme, Patty Kuleval and Jackie Collins came first, second and third. All the girls did very well at speaking. We would like to thank the judges Mrs. Jenny Froehner, Mrs. Evelyn Kueber and Don Leman and all those interested people who came to the event.

After the speak-off the girls put all their attention into preparing for Achievement Night which will be held on April 27th at 7:30 in the R.C. Hall, Killam.

We had an afternoon meeting during spring break on Wednesday, March 23rd. This was used mostly as a workshop.

On April 11th another meeting was held, the last before our achievement night. Last minute details were gone over on both garments and book. Some of us need to do some last minute work on our projects.

A discussion was held on Highway cleanup on May 7th. We will be doing Highway 36, 18 miles north.

We are going to have old articles of interest on display and some to be modelled by the girls at Achievement Night.

Reporter - Patty Kuleval

Educational TV breaks rules

Kevin Peterson The province's broadcasting arm, Access, has admitted that a senior official broke the rules against mixing politics with work and has reported itself to the Canadian Radio-television Commission.

Opposition leader Bob Clark and Walt Buck (S.C. Clever Bar) struck a rare point by providing the admission. Access president Larry Shorter is anxious to clarify matters with the federal agency.

The CRTC is already troubled with possible political interference in Access operations and with the level of educational broadcasting over its radio outlet, CKUA, Education Minister Julian Kestel reports.

As a result, the agency wants "to look at the license of CKUA more often than normal, and has reserved it for only two years instead of the usual four."

Shorter confirms that the Crown company's chief public relations man, John Chalmers handled some publicity for the Conservative party conversion in Edmonton last month during working hours, from the Access office.

But it was only a few telephone calls and Access has nothing to hide. Shorter writes in a letter to Clark, who with Rock has been demanding an explanation of the conduct of Chalmers and another employee, Ruby Remenda.

Convention literature referred queries to Remenda, a temporary clerk-typist with Kestel's department, over her civil service telephone. Chalmers, who chaired the convention publicity committee and recruited Remenda to do so.

4-H clean up highways

Three Alberta government departments, will combine with the province's 4-H club to clean up some 6,000 miles of primary highway on May 7. Dr. Hugh M. Hawer, Deputy Premier and Minister of Transportation, announced last week.

The Departments involved are Agriculture, Environment and Transportation. The spring cleaning project will immediately precede "picnic-in-77", an Outdoors Unlimited/Alberta government sponsored province-wide clean-up campaign scheduled for the week of May 9-11.

Each 4-H club will be paid 25¢ per mile for picking up garbage along both sides of the highway, to a maximum of 10 miles of primary highway. Cost for the project is about $40,000 in revenue for the clubs. Alberta Transportation Maintenance Branch crews will provide minimum supervision, and bags and trucks necessary to haul away the garbage.

For safety reasons, the program will not involve 4-lane highways. All moderate travelling primary highways on Thursday, May 7, are asked to exercise extreme caution.

All reasonable bottles and cans may be kept by the club in charge.

Shorter said all correspondence, including the latest letter, over the issue has been sent to CRTC chairman Harry Boyle, along with a transcript of a critical interview Clark held with CKUA.

Meanwhile, Shorter says "we do not question employees about their political affiliations at the time of hiring. Nor do we discourage them, in their own time, from other community and volunteer work, unless that work is clearly incompatible with their job functions."

But the farmers of the area as well as other interested groups expressed considerable concern about the project, especially as to satisfactory

Mrs. Ray Meek passes

Gladys Esther Meek (nee Webster) was born January 5th, 1902 at East, North Dakota. She was married to the late Ray Meek in Spokane, Washington, in 1922 and then moved to the Killam district, where they commenced farming south of town. Upon retiring from the farm in 1955 they moved into Killam where they lived until 1959. At this time Mrs. Meek returned to her original profession of teaching and they moved to Westlock, Alberta, where she taught until retiring to Edmonton in 1969. She passed away suddenly in her home on Saturday, April 22nd at the age of 74 years. She is survived by three children: Wayne Russell Jr. of Los Angeles, California; Adena (Mrs. Donald Drumery) also of Los Angeles; and Elies (Mrs. Cecil Nicholas) of Edmonton. Also surviving are 12 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. She was predeceased by her husband, Ray in December 1959. Mrs. Meek was a member of the Killam Presbyterian Church and active in the Ladies Association of the Church during her years in Killam. She was also a valued member of Rebecca Lodge.

Funeral services were conducted by the Reverend L.K. Lin from the Killam Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, April 27th. Pallbearers were Messrs Cecil Lewis, Danny Lewis, James Grant, Fred Forster, Walter Frendrick and Eric Christensen. Fee and Sons Funeral Service was in charge of arrangements.

Gretna Goodwill Club

On April 15th the Gretna Goodwill Club met at the home of Mary Albrecht. All the members were in attendance. There also were two visitors, they were two granddaughters of Helen Satherland's. Misses Cindy and Wendy Bolster from Edmonton, visiting at Grandmas in their Easter school break from High School.

Minutes were read by the President Melba Cameron adopted by Helen O'Reilly and seconded by Mary Humbergh. The Treas gave her report. She was predeceased by her husband, Ray in December 1959. Mrs. Meek was a member of the Killam Presbyterian Church and active in the Ladies Association of the Church during her years in Killam. She was also a valued member of Rebecca Lodge.

All bills were paid by a motion from Mary Albrecht. A vote of "Thanks" was given to Mary H. and Laurie Nordstrom for buying such nice and useful gifts for Bernard Markwart. The gifts were from our "Club" and the surrounding committees and presented to the Markwarts at a Potluck dinner at Bells Hill Hall April 2nd. We had a nice friendly get together, with a bountiful dinner, then a sing song and the presentation.

Christie then had one of her get acquainted games, that went over very well with a laugh at the end "Thanks" Bernard for being a "Good Sport".

Cards of Thanks and appreciation were read from Gladys and Hardy's Hospital for the face-cream slippers we donated to them. The roll call was read by our "Grandmother" or another friend. Each one of us answered with very much and quiet hints and ideas.

We were to wear Easter Bonnets that we originated by ourselves. I telling you, such talent as ladies have. Everything that arrives in the Spring were on those hats, birds, flowers, squiggles, Easter eggs, rabbits, butterflies and bees. Two of the ladies had flowers and ribbons made from icing. From the course they learned at the Cake Decorating course. The best and most original hat was won by Melba, Cindy and Wendy were the judges, and they made a very good choice. Our "Thanks" to them.

Marlene was the hostess prize. Melba is having the May meeting. Mary H. and Helen Satherland to be Co-Hostesses. The roll call - "To Bring a Friend".

Helen O'Reilly read a reading, brought by Christie entitled - "The day I ran the Combos". It was very humorous and just goes to show what we wives put up with and we try so hard.

The meeting was adjourned by Laurie. We had two essays contest, brought by Christie and Helen S. and we save have one real smart gal in our club Helen O'Reilly who won both contests leaving the rest of us miles behind. Nice prizes that "Brady Baine" won.

Mary A served a lovely lunch assisted by our Sunny Melba as Co-Hostess serving a Sunshine Cake. Ella was the Lucky Tea Cup.

HOW DOES YOUR GOVERNMENT GROW

A noted Canadian politician recently claimed that Canada has become a government of the bureaucrats, by the bureaucrats, for the bureaucrats. An analysis of the increase in government expenditures would indicate a more than 600 per cent growth since 1950. This is a growth rate that is unacceptable if we are to keep inflation and unemployment under control. The problems with government spending is that it does not create wealth; at best, it merely redistributes wealth. Government in Canada, however, over the past decade have spent a larger and larger proportion of the gross national product with the obvious result that the private sector has had access to relatively less and less wealth creating capital.

André General J.J. Macdonell, in the same report in which he warned that the Government was losing control of its purse strings, also warned that the Federal Civil Service was reckless and wasteful with the taxpayers' money. "A senior official told me recently that for many years recognition and rewards have gone to those who devote ingenious new programs rather than to those charged with the responsibility of restraining and controlling expenditures and ensuring that values are paying for money spent."

Recently, Treasury Board President, Robert Andras, confessed to a Commons Committee that he could not sustain the program of slow bureaucratic growth embarked upon by his predecessor Jean Chretien. This year the operating and capital expenditures of the bureaucracy will exceed the growth of the economy - rising by 14.4 per cent. Mr. Andras tried to pass this off as caused by a "growth in population and in the demand for services." In light of the Auditor General's scathing observations, however, it won't be more than fair to be suspicious. Are these activities really a response to public demand? Bureaucrats produce new programs because that is what their political masters ask for and because that is what will increase their pay cheques and extend their spheres of influence. These programs naturally create a need for yet more bureaucrats and in the snowballing fashion of thoughtless growth these soon engender more activity and more expenditures. If there is any demand for the public for these programs it is in large part a created demand and whereas the real costs are almost always severely underestimated, no one ever seems to be responsible for seeing that obsolete or duplicated programs are pruned and streamlined.

Take a look at the AIB for example. At its inception in October 1975, Finance Minister Donald Macdonald promised that it would have a staff of no more than 200. By mid June, it had 853.

Or take a look at the Government's Crown Corporation. This year's main estimates increased the share of the taxpayer's money allocated to Crown Corporations by 25 per cent over last year. The much criticized Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. which has doubled its funding to 200 million dollars in last year's estimates in recent public accounts committee meetings has been revealed as virtually incompetent at managing its finances.

Real restraint in Government is not something dreamed up by a partisan opposition for their advantage. Carl Belge, Executive Director of the C.D. Howe Research Institute has written, "a proliferation of government regulatory apparatus may have produced windfalls for the accounting and legal professions but this is at the expense of the growth and efficiency of the overall economy." The need for real restraint has become a critical economic necessity to nearly everyone of the western industrial economies. These countries such as Japan and West Germany which have willingly controlled bureaucratic overgrowth so that the productive segments of their economies can remain strong, have floundered where the world economic crisis and are now about to enter upon a period of full employment and gross economic growth. These countries which have not, such as Great Britain and Canada, must now face long growth and widespread unemployment. Good sense insists that the managers of our civil service had better quit dancing to the frenzied beat of the bureaucratic tempo and keep in better touch with the beat of the economic reality.

MERNA HORSE CLUB

On Tuesday the 5th of April another meeting of the Merna Horse Club was brought to order.

A pamphlet was passed around with pictures of 44 H-T's and any individual wishing to purchase himself one could order it.

Next it was discussed about the 4-4 clean-up day. Ten miles of ditch along a highway is given to each 4-4 club in the province to be cleaned up.

It was also decided that instead of having our regular meeting next month, we would all meet at the Hays home on May 1st at 2:00 p.m. for a judging competition.

After the meeting was adjourned everyone was given a piece of rope and taught how to tie many different types of knots.

The Commission has therefore arranged a PUBLIC HEARING to be held at the —

At that time members of the Commission will be present to hear any briefs or presentations by landowners or residents of the area.

Ritters Ramblings

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

Memories

by Myrtle L. Larson

As I look back to my childhood days, things seem so different in so many ways: as if things were back with my Dad, I thought him a big man, by god! Spinning through a slough so high, his feet got wet while mine remained dry.

Before I was even going to school, I could milk a cow, perched on a one-legged stool.

I must have been a terrible pest as I trotted along behind but dear old Dad never really seemed to mind. He'd answer all my questions with patience glare, as I was no doubt, thinking up some more. I guess I was his right-hand man, as something must have gone wrong with my plan: five girls arrived first and that wasn't good, no boy to cheer or carry in the wood. I didn't object as they could see, that knee-work, it could wait for me!

We went for a picnic one hot summer day leaving the door ajar. It surely would be there as we weren't going very far. When we returned home an hour or so later we were most surprised to find, a big fat sow coming out of the house with her litter of five behind!

While I was playing in the yard one bright and sunny day I spied a turkey gobbling quite contenting my way. The owner he got the bigger he looked and I was scared stiff you see. I couldn't run. I just screamed, as he stood gobbling at me. Mom heard the noise and out she came, a brown evening high overhead - hoping to drive the beast away - or maybe to knock him dead.

We took a trip to visit an aunt while I was still quite small. I well remember her apple tree. It was so very tall. I was told most clearly the fruit I must not eat; but to eat an apple I had picked would be a special treat. I couldn't resist the temptation and had myself a feast. Someone could have warned me of the after effects at least! I soon got sick my tummy ached. Mom quickly got me to bed. It wasn't very long before the cancer old she got. I considered as I looked at it, I'd rather say 'ick I thought!

A man came to our house, he was so big and gruff. He said he was taking our baby home, how was I to know it was a bluff? I was so frightened I couldn't sleep at night. To trace a little child like that certainly wasn't right!

Many years have gone by since those things I recall. My Dad wasn't big, he was actually quite small. The pigs did get in the house, the man said our baby he'd take. But most vivid in my memory is that cancer old and awful tummy-ache!

Merna Welfare Club

Mrs. Jeanne Baker hosted an April meeting of the Merna Welfare Club. A good attendance of members were present. The meeting opened with President Alma Baker welcoming all and then all sang "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross". Then the Creed and the Lord's Prayer were repeated. Roll call was answered by each one rising a psalm. Minutes of the March meeting were read and on approval of the secretary, seconded by Fredella Anderson. Ruth Leslie reported having purchased a Showmanship trophy for the 4th winner and presenting it on behalf of the club. Dorothy Hearnberg then moved we spend $100.00 to sponsor our Fair Child in Bissell for another year. This was seconded by Malbie Munro. Treasurer Daisy Topp reported our bank balance was practically all. It was then decided each member donate $10 to help this cause. Daisy Topp moved we donate various baking to the Lodge, for their bake table, on April 1st when they have their tea and bazaar. A discussion was then held on a money-making project and it was decided to hold a Strawberry Tea. Alma Baker and Dorothy Hearnberg to look into getting the Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre to hold it in. Each member to donate cake, strawberries and cream. Fredella Anderson then adjourned the meeting.

Full agenda at Daysland council

The regular meeting was held on Tuesday, April 19th, 1977. Present were Councillors Danbergner, Reaney, Sather, Davidson and Latham. Mayor Lisack presided.

Richard Cohen, P.S.S. Director was present, he wished to meet Council and answer any questions they might have regarding P.S.S. He said that he was pleased to have a good Board to work with, the input from the people varied from community to community. He regarded his function at the moment as one of the responsibility rather than directing, as it is better to develop the awareness of the program allowed in order to gain acceptance rather than force unwanted programs onto people. He thinks there are three main areas of concern, i.e., mental health services, senior citizens programs and youth. There will be a youth program this summer with outside workers bringing "to the street" in certain communities. He also felt that a Homecoming

Service was a priority and he said that one would be operating by fall.

Council thanked Mr. Cohen for coming and hoped that his endeavors would be successful.

Charles Sorel and Jim O'Dwyer, Engineers, were on hand to discuss the continuing development of the new subdivision.

Councillor Reaney reported that the "Keep French" petition had been presented to the school board. The board were very anxious to know how this "rumor" had been started and were informed that it was from a notice on the School Bulletin Board.

No concrete assurances were given that the French program would remain in Daysland but the Board assured the group presenting the petition that their concerns had been duly noted.

At the last Homecoming meeting it had been suggested that the Town make use of the existing population signs for a Homecoming notice. This was acceptable to Council and will be done.

COME ALIVE...

Inner strength

by Stewart Abel
Church of the Nazarene
"That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might of his Spirit in the inner man." Eph. 3:16.

Inner strength, what a necessary commodity in today's living. It was necessary in the Apostle Paul's day. The Apostle was extremely anxious that the Christians of Ephesus would realize their full potential in Christ Jesus.

Much of the time we Christians meet the issues of daily living with a minimal amount of inward strength and then when an unexpected problem arises we find we haven't got the fortitude we need to keep a steady mind and calm spirit. We forgot or we do not know that Christ, through the Holy Spirit, has provided us with such an inward blessing. Paul prayed that those Ephesian Christians would be "strengthened with might by his Spirit." Wouldn't it be helpful if today we knew we could go to the job "strengthened with might by his Spirit?" To have that inward bigness that alone the Holy Spirit can give us. This would be the answer to many nerve racking problems and to many a nervous wreck.

Thank God for the Holy Spirit. What a difference it makes in the lives of those early Christians. And what a difference it has made in the lives of thousands of Christians since. It seems to me that this is our pressing need as believers today. Maybe we should include ourselves in the prayer of St. Paul or better still eagerly pray that Christ's Holy Spirit, whom he called the Comforter, would come to indwell our hearts and would bring us that "inner strength" we need.

Daysland high school does well in badminton playoffs

Daysland High School has been participating in the badminton playoffs at the County and regional level. The members of the Daysland team have done very well in the County playoffs. Daysland placed 11 members on the 16 member team. The regional playoffs Daysland placed 9 on the 16 member team.

Have you ever participated in a basketball, "Three-Point" Members of the Daysland School Staff recently put on the Thru-A-Thon. Staff members collected pledges based on the number of baskets made throwing from the free throw line in a 10 minute period. Over $775.00 was raised. Part of the money was pledged to the Cross Cancer Institute and the remainder will be used by the school to purchase equipment and to help the students.

The staff thank all of those who sponsored them. Two members of the High School will participate in the Cross Canada Run to be held on April 30.

The annual Year End Exercises to honour the Grade 12 students will be held on Friday and Saturday, May 5th & 6th.

The Grade 12 Biology 20 class made a trip to Edmonton to visit many places of interest to assist in their studies. They visited the University of Alberta Hospitals for discussion on Premature babies and Parkinson's Disease. At Red Cross they saw the work that is done in a discussion on Hemophilia. The last place visited was the Alberta Hospital where the students were informed about Tuberculosis and Sugar Diabetes. Mr. Doug Donahue, Biology teacher, accompanied the students. Mr. Doug Kent supplied and drove the bus.

The Alberta Urban Municipalities Association advised that the Zone 5 meeting would be at 7 p.m. on Friday, May 6th. Councillor Remey and Mrs. Crasley will attend.

Alberta Transportation advised that they will be altering the curve on Highway 12 this year and asked for information regarding any utility lines that may be affected.

The only line that we have in that region is the Natural Gas Main Line but it will probably not be in the area to be changed.

Randy Stott is leaving as Town Foreman on May 4th. Ron Garrier started as Town Man on April 18th.

The Annual Inter-Coupling competition will be held in Daysland this year on Saturday, June 4th and the Fire Department hope that this event will be well supported by the Town. It had also been noted by the Fire Dept. that the old C.P.R. fence from Bob Robb's house along to the old Life Station was falling over and looked most unsightly. C.P.R. will be asked to remove or repair this fence.

Requests had been received that benches be placed between Westside Mowers and dandelions in addition to the one which had been placed. Mr. Parry will be approached to see if the Recreation Board has more benches available.

Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong showing slides of their trip to Hawaii last January. Everyone enjoyed them very much. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. L. Campbell, Mrs. A. Deland and Mrs. Clegg.

"You're On Top" with a WOOD BASEMENT

FIRST INSTALLATION IN ALMOST ANY WEATHER
No matter what the weather, wood foundations are about six times faster to install than conventional foundations. In bad weather they prevent delays — work can continue rain or shine under any conditions.

EXTRA WARMTH
The insulation value of 1/2" plywood is approximately equal to that of an 8" thick concrete wall. Insulation added between the studs will normally make the basement even warmer than the upstairs portion of the house. Documented tests, over a two-year period, show a considerable reduction in fuel costs as compared with conventional concrete basements.

ADDITIONAL LIVING SPACE
A preserved wood foundation makes it easy to finish the basement. Exterior wall studs are already in place, so only insulation, vapor barrier and interior wall finish need to be applied.

BETTER CONTROL
Since the techniques are those used in conventional framing, only one tradesman, the carpenter, is needed to frame the basement.

POSITIVE DRAINAGE SYSTEM
Damp, moist basements are eliminated by preventing moisture penetration in areas where concrete basements have problems.

TEEN'S UNLIMITED

Heard anything about Teen's Unlimited lately? Their major project of the past few months is to paper-recycling collection and depot which serves as a service project as well as a fund raising project. Over the winter, the papers were stored, with thanks, in the Armit and Burgess shop and were stored in Greg Martin's garage.

Tuesday morning, the collection truck from Edmonton Salvage appeared to pick up the total amount of papers. The truck also collected the papers from the Killam and Strone groups.

The teens also held a fairly successful Bake Sale on the 18th of April and report about $40.00 in earnings.

To provide activity for the youth in town, Teen's Unlimited provided a disco-dance and concert for interested teenagers in the lounge at the Sedgewick Recreation Centre.

In the past, the group has sent a donation to the Cancer Society, and recently sent a $25.00 cheque to the Multiple Sclerosis campaign.

Although Teen's Unlimited has a steady attendance, they would like to encourage more kids to join and have many more activities planned for the months ahead. Watch for them! Any interested people can contact: Kathy Keith for information.

Services held for Mrs. Katie Curtis

Mrs. Katie Bell Curtis passed away in an Edmonton hospital on April 5, 1977. She was born Katie Melcher, at Centerville, South Dakota, on April 7, 1884. When she was 15 years old, she moved with her parents to the Cnr. district and in June 1914 she and Frank Curtis were married.

The Curtis family lived most of Hardisty for some years and after their sale in 1938, they later moved to Ch. Hlwaick, B.C. where they resided until 1966. They felt that they would like to be closer to their only child to bought a lovely home in Camrose where they both spent many hours beautifying the yard and the trees planted by them are a lasting memorial to the love of beauty they both had.

Katie always kept alive her interest in Hardisty, the Church and the Hospital. Later after her husband was not too well, they moved to Edmonton and some time after Frank's passing on she moved in with her daughter, Mrs. Stella Clarke.

The funeral was held in St. Paul's United Church with Rev. Jackson giving that personal touch service for which he is well noted.

Hymns sung were "Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross" and "What A Friend We Have in Jesus." The Recessional was "Shall We Gather at The River."

Mrs. Curtis was predeceased by two little girls in infancy and her husband. She leaves to mourn her passing, one daughter, Stella Clarke, four grandchildren and six great grandchildren, also 5 sisters. Her brother, Earl Melcher, predeceased her by a few months.

The pallbearers were Jack and George Clarke, grandsons Stanley Clarke, Henry Hays, Jim Frouse and Ken Alderick.

Interment was in Hardisty Cemetery on April 8th with Fee and Sons taking care of arrangements.

Monthly meeting of the Killam community library

Monthly meeting of the Killam Community Library Board was held April 15 in the library, with nine members present.

Mrs. Ethelby Leslie outlined her activities and library additions since we last met. On display was the Webster's Third New International Dictionary recently purchased by the Students Union of Killam High School. An Atlas of the World has also been received. These will be a most welcome addition to the library. These two editions will eventually be located on a stand in a permanent spot.

A sign posting library hours will soon be erected in a conspicuous location for your convenience.

Mrs. M. Bouslin reported excellent response to the Pre-School Study. Hour being held Saturdays during the time 2 to 3 p.m. in the library. Approximately fifty youngsters have registered for this treat. There is a growing demand for "take home" stories for these enthusiastic little listeners. Leaders of this venture are to be commended for their generous gifts of time and effort.

Final arrangements were made for the Book and Bake Sale to be held Saturday, April 22 from 2 to 4 p.m. The success of this sale will depend upon the response of the public. We would greatly appreciate your support.

Books which may have become somewhat tattered, or which seem to have no appeal to readers or of which there are several duplications will be offered for sale - at Bargain Prices! This will be a good opportunity to obtain some excellent reading material for you and your family. Proceeds of this Book and Bake Sale will be used for their book purchases (and processing).

Volunteers are desperately required to "man" the library during its hours of operation. If you could serve in this capacity kindly contact Mrs. Florence Lachy or Mrs. Gerlie Sivik. They would be most happy to hear from you. Did You Know That.....

1. Of the 5320 books on the shelves in our library, 825 are adult fiction; 1127 are adult non-fiction; 1556 are juveniles; 1313 are pre-school; 587 are paperbacks.

2. If you require or desire a specific edition which is not on our shelves, we are now a part of a system whereby the publication can be obtained for you whether it be from Edmonton, Toronto or Vancouver.

3. Books are available on every conceivable subject. There are editions dealing with many varied agricultural topics: baby crafts; sports; ceramics; politics etc.

4. It costs you "not a penny" to have library privilege. You merely register to obtain as many as three books during a loan period of two weeks. Where else can you obtain such value - at such a price?

5. A book service is being investigated whereby you may obtain a book merely by phoning for it. This Dial-Book service could be a great asset to those who are ill or are too busy to drop by. Students would convey your book to you.

6. Large print books are present on our shelves - in limited numbers. For those whose eyes are not as good as long ago these are excellent.

When business resumed the following applications for membership were accepted: Elmer Heiristo, Lido Bergum, Ed Djos, Linda Djos and W. H. McElroy.

The President then turned the meeting over to Life Member Cliff Harris, who is now a resident of Camrose. Mr. Harris, with the help of First War Veterans Ernie Leah and Owen Swanson, related some of the early activities of the G.W.A.A., the B.E.S.L. and the Royal Canadian Legion. Questions and comments from the members helped to make a most enjoyable programme.

At the conclusion of the programme the President presented Comrades Hanna, Leah and Swanson with Legion Awards in appreciation of their efforts and Comrade Kile of Camrose with a lighter for supplying the pipe music for the Colour Party.

The meeting adjourned and the Colour Party retired the Comrades.

Lunch and visiting brought the evening to its conclusion.

Advice on oil leases

Glen Werner, D.A.

The County of Flagstaff is rich in natural resources, especially coal gas and oil. The development of these resources has been substantial over the past 10 years, and along with that development has come surface right and surface lease.

Once a surface lease has been negotiated, it should not be forgotten and put away. Hereafter, Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, Marvin Moore, has advised farmers and ranchers entered into after January 1, 1972 are not automatically renewed and upgraded on the fifth anniversary date.

Mr. Moore went on to say that legislation, which became effective January 1, 1972, provides for a review as to the rate of compensation every 5 years where annual compensation is provided. The Surface Rights Act specifies certain requirements for a review of compensation established either by a right-of-entry order or a privately negotiated contract. After January 1, 1972, it is important that farmers or landowners check the original order of (a) the right-of-entry order or (b) the privately negotiated contract. This date is called the anniversary date.

Landowners or companies desiring to have the rate of compensation reviewed are required to notify the other party during the last three months prior to the anniversary date in the fifth year. Such notice must be in writing and given to the other party preferably by registered mail. After such notice is given, the company and the landowner must enter into negotiations in good faith with respect to the rate of compensation to be paid during the term of the following five years.

In the case of surface rights board orders, if the two parties agree on a new rate of compensation, both parties must notify the Surface Rights Board in writing of the rate agreed upon. The board shall then vary the compensation order accordingly. If the two parties cannot agree as to the amount, the party seeking the review may make application to the board for a review of the rate of compensation, but not later than the end of the three month period following the expiration of the fifth year of the term of the compensation order.

In the case of a surface lease,

Flagstaff fastball for 1977

Harry Anderson was re-elected president of the Flagstaff Fastball League at their annual meeting at Mera Hall on April 18th. In his report on 1976, he indicated that the equality of competition was the best ever, with no major hassles to be dealt with.

Doug Moore, returned as Treasurer, reported that the League was entering its eleventh year. It had emerged from fragile beginnings to a position of strength and stability. Its success was based on finding and keeping successful principles — a short season ending before summer holidays, weekday only games to permit family recreation on weekends, and a tough ef-

Pheasant chicks

There will be a meeting of all those who have submitted their names to raise Pheasant chicks in the Dayland Community Hall on Friday, May 13, 1977 at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Thompson of Upland Birds Alberta will be present to discuss with the raisers the proper method of setting up the brooder house and the construction of the runway. Mr. Thompson will have a sample of all the equipment required to raise the chicks. He will discuss the feeding etc. of the birds. He will also give each raiser the date when the chicks will be delivered to the distributing point in this area. The chicks will be arriving in lots of approximately 250 chicks for each delivery starting June 17th, 1977 and continuing every weekend for the next 8 or 9 weeks. This is important that all the people who have sent their name to Upland Birds Alberta or to Lloyd Gillespie attend the meeting. For further information you may contact Lloyd Gillespie at 272-2545 (residence) 272-2578 (business). Mr. Thompson will not be visiting each raiser as first planned as his busy schedule will not permit it. Upland Birds Alberta are very pleased and amused at the response to this project in this area. It far exceeds their estimate of response when they decided to restrict this area with pheasants. Knew interest in this project has been shown in all of central and northern areas where pheasants once were plentiful. It has even focused its way into government circles who are most co-operative. Mr. Thompson stated that Upland Birds Alberta plan to contract three winter feeding stations in this area this summer as the feeding stations will be ready for use this winter. So pheasant raisers don't forget the meeting May 13 in Dayland Community Hall. This meeting is being sponsored by the Dayland Lions Club which is a member of Upland Birds Alberta.

I have had several requests for information on house plant care. In response to this demand, the next several columns of Kaleidoscope will be devoted to various topics on house plants.

GENERAL CARE OF HOUSE PLANTS:

- A few basic rules:
1. Examine your plant regularly. This is most important. Check for insects, watering needs and any other signs of poor health.
2. Water according to need, not habit.
3. Avoid fluctuating temperatures and stillness.

4. Most plants prefer moist air, but exceptions are cast. Masters are a possible solution.

5. Keep the plants clean. A regular bathing (every 3 weeks) keeps the breathing pores open, reduces the possibility of insect attack and improves the appearance of the plant. Use tepid water. Small plants may be washed in the kitchen sink or upstairs and washed in a bucket of water.

Larger plants may be placed in a shower. Shake excess water off. Large-leaved plants such as Dieffenbachia may be wiped with a soft sponge or cloth. However, if you suspect any leaves are infected with disease or insects, head washing will only spread the problem to other leaves.

6. Commercial leaf shiners are not recommended.

7. Turning the plant one quarter turn each week will prevent it from growing unevenly towards the light.

8. Loosen surface soil if it becomes caked and hard, but avoid damaging the roots.

9. Check the drainage hole for clogging.

10. Remove dead-flowers and leaves.

Houseplants will adapt somewhat to conditions provided (some better than others) but, in order for them to thrive, you must understand their individual requirements.

When buying plants, choose one that is short and stocky with foliage to the base of the plant. Leaves should be evenly green and free from spots.

Next week Kaleidoscope will be discussing how to care for your house plants while you're on vacation.

Lougheed likes PM's speech

Kevin Peterson

Premier Peter Lougheed finds grounds for new hope that the West can win his much-sought deal from Confederation in Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau's April 16 Winnipeg speech.

But despite the national leader's "gratifying" statements, the premier isn't letting down his guard against what he sees as an over-enthusiastic federal inclination to obstruct the region's development.

Lougheed told the Legislature that Trudeau's remarks were a violation of Alberta's insistence that economic growth must be "balanced and diversified" across Canada.

The premier was encouraged by the prime minister's concession that the development of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and B.C. the centre of Canada has shifted westwards since 1960.

He found additional evidence of a "new" and better attitude in Trudeau's recognition that improved trade and trade arrangements with the northwest U.S. and the Pacific Rim groups are crucial to the West.

However, just a few hours before the prime minister delivered his address, the premier was still telling the Legislature that provinces' abilities to defend themselves against Ottawa should be strengthened.

Lougheed said he is becoming convinced that the Supreme Court of Canada should be stripped of its authority to rule in conflicts between the provincial and federal governments.

The court's nine justices are at all federal appointees and without national leaders offered provinces a chance to participate in nominations in 1971, Trudeau is backing off the constitutional, the premier said.

Creation of a separate "constitutional court" to interpret the British North America Act, with judges picked by provinces as well as Ottawa, should be considered, Lougheed told M.L.A.s.

Reverting the BNA Act to change or expand provinces' jurisdiction is unnecessary but they must be sure that they can make the federal government honor a constitution which is generally satisfactory on paper now.

"Our concerns lie in the federal government respecting the spirit and intent of the constitution — firstly with regard to the matter of natural resources."

There would be two courts: one to be the highest appeal court in civil and criminal cases, and a second to decide all conflicts between governments or others which have constitutional implications.

Ottawa has repeatedly "attempted to reduce the impact of provincial ownership of natural resources," outside the home, Lougheed said Alberta would have felt far more comfortable in going to court in disputes over prices, taxes and royalties if at least some judges were provincial selections. Conflicts have been avoided due to high risks.

By Ruth Penick

Spring has sprung, the grass is ris, I wonder where the birds are?

Cute saying all right and there's no cause this year to wonder about the birds. They're here, and I bet you, they had to hide their heads under their wings last night — it was chilly, eh? The sun is doing its bit to warm up the atmosphere today.

Meanwhile the birds are busily carrying bits and pieces to feather their nests for their upcoming new arrivals.

The cool soft balmy evenings are beautiful interludes before the latest world bombard us with their presence. Those horrid mosquitoes with their bombing techniques are as welcome part of the scenario.

Horses and cattle are contentedly munching those first green shoots, juicy and tender, first sweet blades. The thought of Asparagus, and radishes is a pretty exotic thought to me too.

Rabbits run, gophers rush and telling up pretty view the world around them — children shout and laugh heralding the coming of spring.

Children bring home the first creature to put in glasses, to sit on kitchen tables, for admiring mothers and grandmothers to view.

This coming of life is everywhere.

Little calves frolic by the side of their mothers, and trot all curled up on the sun side of the hill, while mother lingers for the new shoots of grass. Spinney-legged young cows gallop and jump away, racing with the wind, tussling the sweetest of freedom, and then back again to "man" who unconcernedly munches on!

Wagging, barking puppies follow boy and girl across the greening countryside, teasing every nook and cranny for possible something to terrorize. Eyes in air chasing flying birds, tongues out from faces that seem to laugh with the excitement of the hunt. Soft breezes bring the spring sun.

Give yourself a treat

by Violet M. Copeland

I'm not planning a garden this year, I've tried said. I'm giving myself a treat, and forgetting about those weeds. You can get vegetables just as cheap and look at the time I'll save!

Well, maybe. But I've been gardening for fifty odd years myself, and I'll never give it up till they carry me out feet first. I have yet to last pea or carrot from a grocery store that doesn't faintly resemble their freshly gathered counterparts from my own garden, picked early in the morning before the sun begins to warm them. And radishes or sweet corn from a store are mere caricatures of the real thing.

Garden fruits are a whole story in themselves; I can think of a dozen examples. Ripe, juicy raspberries; crisp apples; native plums, touched by frost, honey sweet; strawberries, ripened in the sun.

Countless garden pictures are tucked away in the garden's memory every year, to be revived in other springs — small children helping to plant the rows — a drift of plum blossom, fragrant, sweet, to be followed by fragile, transparent green blossoms, and the pale pink and white glory of apple blossoms, perfuming the whole neighborhood.

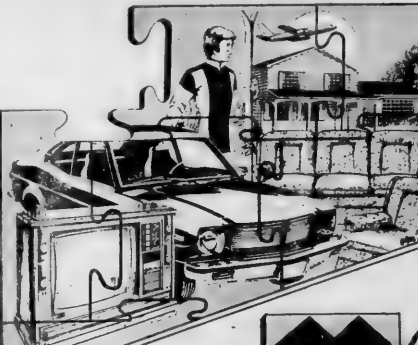

While driftpalm, always bringing memories of a special friend — bachelorette buttons, my mother's favorite — purple pansies, which my father loved — sweet williams, and pinks, for my grandmothers both — so many friends walk my garden paths with me; so many lovely things grow in abundance to share with other friends — No, I don't mind a few weeds. They provide contrast to the beauty of the sturdy vegetables, the graceful clematis, the lacy schizanthus, the heavy fragrance of the evening scented stocks.

Like my friend I'm giving myself a treat. I'm going to plant a garden, as always.

Sedgewick Co-op hear building report

The annual meeting of the Association was held in the Sedgewick Community Hall on Thursday, April 21st at 7:30 p.m.

The attendance was the largest ever, with over 100 members showing up for the meeting, which evoked a healthy interest in the affairs of the Association.

The Chairman of the Board Mr. Lief Osback, opened the meeting, remarking that "although the year had been a hectic one, the general economy of the area has been good and we were able to come up with another successful operational report."

The business statement showed that total sales for the year amounted to $1,251,263.99 an increase of 16.1 per cent over the previous year, with net savings of $75,558.88 being achieved, at 4.5 per cent. (It was noted in Statistical Information that, since incorporation in 1964 the growth in sales has been steady, with average savings of 5.9 per cent.)

The Chairman reported that the new Service Centre is now very near completion. It is of metal and glass construction, in dimensions 21 metres by 17.5 metres.

Due to the Board decision to be their own contractor, instead of calling for tenders, and because of the planning and work of the General Manager, Herb Gascoyne, the building cost has been except-tionally modest. Overall, and including insulation, electricity, plumbing and heating, construction has been done at $122.35 (per sq. meter) ($11.00 per square ft.).

The official opening of this lumber and hardware complex is expected to be delayed until after farmers have completed seeding.

Mr. Osback also stated that although our Co-op store area has been greatly extended during recent years, at the present rate of growth the building will soon be burning at the seams; so that serious thought must be given to expansion in the not too distant future if the needs of the members are to be satisfied.

The members were also told that there were still some debentures available; and that these, yielding interest at 1 1/2 per cent.

Killam Auxiliary visitors

Mrs. McLennan's guests included Elsie Clark of Ryley, G. Bonnett, Harold and Pearl Cox and Judy and Mel Cox of Stornoway, Ontario were guests of Harry Bonnett, prior to his passing on April 9th.

Among Ed Larson's visitors was A. Nordin.

To visit J. Pitts was Pastor C. Knech.

Among Mabel O'Brien's visitors was Doris Myster of Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. M. Robson's visitors were Mr. and Mrs. V. Poole of Transcona, Manitoba.

Entertaining the patrons on March 11th was Dora Kliger over the prime leading rate, must surely be considered to be an investment hard to duplicate.

The General Manager, Mr. Herb Gascoyne, gave a very satisfactory report on store operations.

Mr. Alf Jacobson, delegate to the Federated Co-op Annual Meeting, also gave his report, which was accepted.

Morris Jevon, director, and Hedy Bailey, past-manager of the Co-op, addressed the meeting briefly.

The four vacancies on the Board of Directors were filled by Miss Markward, Willie Hallam, Pat Vankoughnet, Gordon Taylor.

Malone has slight edge over Horner

A phone survey conducted by nine weekly newspapers of the new constituency made up of Battle River and Crowfoot areas shows Arnold Malone (PC) 45% outdistanced Horner 28%.

The balance of power however lies with these undecided voters which make up 25%.

Fifty random calls were made in each area with the question, "Since Jack Horner's recent defection to the liberals if you were faced with the choice tomorrow, would you vote for Jack Horner, (Liberal) or Arnold Malone (PC)?"

The survey was conducted in co-operation with The Battle River Star, The Crowfoot Review, The Sedgewick Community Press, The Camrose Enterprise, The Camrose Canadian, The Hanna Herald, The Oyen Echo and The Stettler Independent.

Fred Sparrow Day

Manfred Jessewien was up next and he had some things to say that further honored Fred.

As Arnold Malone, M.P. for Battle River was unable to make it to the program, Mr. Jessewien presented a flag of Canada to Fred in honor of his service to the community for longer than that.

Mr. Thompson then read a number of congratulatory messages from Bob Clark, leader of the opposition, The Premier of Alberta, the Prime Minister, The Governor General and Grant Lusk, leader of the NDP party for Alberta.

Gayle Niklisch, president of the high school's student association was next and she further honored Fred for what he has done for the school as well.

TO TILL OR NOT TO TILL:

In the past few months, there has been a good deal of interest in zero tillage or variations of minimum tillage. To date there has not been any conclusive method to be used nor any documentation of how much or little tillage should be practiced. In responding to zero tillage in our county, I can see some advantages and disadvantages.

Some possible advantages for the County of Plagstaff are: 1. Reduction of soil erosion due to wind by maintaining crop residue and straw cover. Although in continuous cropping systems this may be a problem rather than an advantage. 2. Reduced moisture evaporation as soil evaporates slower from undisturbed soil. However, in a hard packed subsoil, undisturbed soil may lose more moisture than when soil is broken.

3. New weed seeds are not buried so they will not germinate on the dry surface. As a matter of fact, many will decompose on the surface. 4. Weed seeds in the soil will not germinate or compete as well if they do not have a seed bed prepared for them.

2. Consequently, crop is provided with conditions for maximum competition with weeds.

3. Reduction of soil compaction because of less traffic with heavy agricultural equipment. As with most things in life, with the advantages there are also disadvantages. Some definite disadvantages for zero till in this country are:

1. Problems with late-high rates of nitrogen fertilizer like anhydrous. 2. Problems with excessively hard soils and crusting problems associated with heavier clay soils and subsoil areas. 3. Loss of use of valuable soil incorporated chemicals like urea and anhydrous. 4. Control of perennial weeds like Canada Thistle, Now Thistle, and Quackgrass would be a problem.

5. Difficulty in controlling volunteer grains which chemicals are not designed to control. 6. Problems with soil borne diseases, pests and weeds associated with re-cropping.

7. Excessive trash covers, common with continuous cropping become real problem for seeding. At present only 2 high cost drills are available in western Canada, and their effectiveness is questionable.

My personal reaction to zero till in our County — Camrose, I feel it may have limited application in the areas of lighter soils — dark brown soils. It's usefulness in the black soils will likely be very limited.

Like building C.P.R. through the mountains, very difficult, lots of problems, but some definite benefits too. I'd like to see it tried, on a limited basis.

D. Oberg president C.B. club

On Sunday, May 1 the monthly meeting of the Plagstaff Crystal Busters C.B. Club was held in the Seventh Day Adventist Hall.

President Henry Romberg called the meeting to order. Secretary, Kathy Markward read the minutes of the last meeting. They were adopted as read. The Treasurer's report was given and adopted as read.

Next on the agenda was the election of officers for the coming year. Our new slate of officers are as follows:

President: Dwayne Oberg
Vice-Pres: Brian Oberg
Secretary: Betty Towara
Treasurer: Mary Erickson
Club Officer: Dale Oberg

The members of the club would like to thank the outgoing executive for the good job they did last year.

We then went on with the new business. A motion was made to hold the next Rabbit Hunt at Henry Romberg's on Sunday, June 5th at 1:00 p.m. This was seconded and carried.

The winners of the Hound and Rabbit Trophies for the last year were Joe Nabel and Barney Markward.

After the close of the meeting we all enjoyed a visit over a cup of coffee.

Anyone is welcome to come to our meetings or Rabbit hunts and we would welcome new members. This is a good opportunity to meet fellow C.B.'ers.

To St. Joseph's Hospital, Gainad, Alberta. What a wonderful place to come to stay in. I was very much surprised this was the first time for me again in twenty years. To all the friends, neighbors and relatives, who came in to visit me, and to those who just stopped in as they went by, say Hello. To Dr. Karins and Dr. Kumar for their professional services. To Mrs. Dietz who got the assignment to all up by me all this first night. I'll never forget the next morning to see that everything kept in working order. The intransigent on one side, the oxygen tank on the other, and to administer the needle that brought such welcome relief every hour, on the hour. To all the rest of the staff with their many and varied functions. For the pleasant, cheerful atmosphere that prevailed at all times, and that personalized attention we value so precious in memory. My eyes just fill with tears. From your loving daughter Sylvia Marie Fowles 25-1c

Hardisty and District News

McGowan Bob, Lety and Bobby Lakens and Paul Drager returned on Tuesday from a salmon fishing trip on "Ted Peck" boat out of north Vancouver. All report having a very enjoyable trip and were fortunate enough to bring the largest salmon got away on them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Young are enjoying a holiday in Ontario with Bobby and her husband.

Mr. Duane Wells has returned from a three month holiday in Europe.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Will Adam and Hector Britche who are employed at Air Agro Services Ltd. The Paul Kane Sr. High School in St. Albert had a busy weekend with the Provincial Debate and Speech Association. Thanks being held. The topic "Be it resolved that the Federal Government grant immediate approval for the construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Mackenzie Valley" The four top students will be going into the National debate tournament in St. Catharines, Ontario.

In the intermediate class debate Paul Kane School had 2 students in the top five debaters in Canada, one of them being Gayle Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Johnson of St. Albert, former Hardisty residents. Gayle is very interested in politics and received 90% in that subject. Maybe the west will have some good parliament representation yet.

Visiting at the Gathereole home were Wayne and Carol with their young son Carl said that Brent was coming to Edmonton from B.C. then the Peter Neufeld family will all be in Edmonton. Leone Ernst of Edmonton spent last weekend with her Aunt Mrs. Gladys Pringle. Mrs. Bob Grant and Isabel Nelson motored to Hanna last Friday to help Mrs. John Grant celebrate her birthday. Thanks for the "fax" letter. You had your sister's name at your printing is much nearer than mail would be. However the shoe must have fit so tightly that it slipped quite badly from my remarks in the "Gossip" column.

The Drop-In Centre held a very successful card party last Saturday. There were 8 tables and two extra who played crib. The high winners were Mrs. A. Cross, Mrs. H. Hoberman, Gladys Seltrase and Dorothy Trank. The low winners were Helen Anderson, Barb Matthews, Maryann Drager and Olive Skokholm.

The travelling prices which did not work too well with military what were won by Glenys Pringle and Mrs. Heaton. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd of Camrose were supper guests of Frank's sister Isabel Nelson. Later they called on Alvin and JoAnn Nelson and gave their great nephew, Little Aaron. While Mrs. Bob and Mrs. John Grant were in Hawaii, they met up with the late Dr. Hill's daughter from Edmonton. How many remember when Dr. Hill of Hughesdale worked with Dr. Peverett?

It was a wonderful opportunity for your reporter to have a ride to Gunn with Mrs. Sylvia (Hansen) Lundberg of Alberta Beach so after not being there for some years, I arrived at the home of Fred and Marjorie Alverdyce. It was a busy place, with Gerald and his wife just moving their trailer out there, there were water lines and sewer lines to dig.

Fred has a heavy mail room, 300 customers 2 times a week from the Gunn Post Office. One quarter section is being all divided up into acreage.

One thing that the boaters Marj and the trailer residents are the terrible amount of mice around this spring. Could it be that too many coyotes, one four best monies were hunted too much because their hides were quite valuable?

Had a nice visit with Reg and Emma Johnson also. It had been a long time since Marj and Emma saw each other. Emma works part time at the Royal Al and Reg is still with Travellers.

Later there was a call to be made on Mr. and Mrs. Stenor who are always glad to hear about Hardisty and Alliance happenings. The Community Press is well read both at Stenors and at Gunn.

It was a wonderful opportunity for your reporter to have a ride to Gunn with Mrs. Sylvia (Hansen) Lundberg of Alberta Beach so after not being there for some years, I arrived at the home of Fred and Marjorie Alverdyce. It was a busy place, with Gerald and his wife just moving their trailer out there, there were water lines and sewer lines to dig.

Fred has a heavy mail room, 300 customers 2 times a week from the Gunn Post Office. One quarter section is being all divided up into acreage.

One thing that the boaters Marj and the trailer residents are the terrible amount of mice around this spring. Could it be that too many coyotes, one four best monies were hunted too much because their hides were quite valuable?

Lougheed's Rebekahs Sixtieth anniversary

On March 29, 1917 a Rebekah Lodge was instituted in Hardisty. Sixty years later, on April 27, 1977, members, relatives and friends gathered in The Community Hall to celebrate the anniversary.

Upon entering the hall each lady was presented with a corsage. Officers were seated by a drill directed by Sisters Hazel Skerberg and Roberta Hillman.

Noble Grand Sister Sandra Pope welcomed each guest, with a special welcome to Sister Lillian Skerberg and Beate Skerberg, each of whom was a charter member.

Sister Pope gave a humorous anecdote related to the position of each officer in the lodge. The District Deputy President, Sister Gudrun Backus was welcomed and replied with greetings and congratulatory remarks.

Included among the guests were Sister Joyce Wilcox of Camrose, daughter of charter member Sister Lillian Skerberg, along with Sister Margaret Denham and Eileen Patterson. Noble Grand Sister Pope called the name and initiation date of each member as the sister stepped to the centre of the floor.

At this time Sister Lillian Skerberg was presented with her sixty year gift by Sister Pope, a token of her faithful work. Sister Lorraine Frost was presented with her twenty-five year present.

CLEANUP - Last Saturday saw 400 men busy cleaning roadside ditches. While the plan called for crews to be put into plastic bags to be picked up by highway crews, the club from Strome used their own system and drove a truck along the ditch thus making the job easier.

Riters Ramblings

by Flagstaff Creative Writers

Writing letters

by Betty Walsh

"I hate writing letters!" I never know what to say. We've all heard this lament from someone at sometime and I wonder if anyone has the same reaction to it that I do. Quite simply, "What other nonsense."

Surely you wouldn't be writing the letter (business letters excepted) unless it is to someone you know and who knows you. Therefore it surely follows that you must have some interest in common. Think of what wonderful party, a "guess who I met" is just what an old friend wants to read.

But whoever you're writing to, write about them and their interests. Let's face it, we're all interested in ourselves and love to know that other people are. So ask Aunt Anne how her arthritis is and ask Great-aunt Betty if her polio is better.

Now don't impulsively reach out for that telephone. Because what do you really get out of your three minutes away except the phone bill. Sure, you talked but I bet you forgot half the things you wanted to talk about. If you'd have been writing a letter you'd have remembered them. And you can't take a phone call out and read it over again.

You can't spell, your grammar's not so hot? Never mind. If you can't be bothered to look in the dictionary, put a question mark after the word you're not sure of. (I'm an atrocious (?) speller and this is one of my habits, although looking up a word doesn't take that long and I'm sure no one is going to mark the letter for your grammar.)

So how about that letter you've owed for weeks. Get out that pen and paper and start writing. Give someone a treat. Something that only you can give them.

WATERING HOUSE PLANTS PART II PROBLEMS:

Establishing a general watering schedule for your plants is impossible. The important point is to water only as the plants need it. Improper watering, especially overwatering is the most common cause of house plant problems.

OVERWATERING - is seldom a problem if the soil drainage is adequate. If the soil remains very wet three or four days after watering, it is quite possible that there is poor drainage. The soil itself may be too fine or contain too high a portion of organic matter. In this case the plant should be repotted in a soil containing more drainage material, such as sand or perlite. Check the drainage holes in the bottom of the pot to make sure they are not clogged. Clogging can be prevented by placing bits of broken pottery or small pebbles directly over the holes before adding soil. If there are no drainage holes, cover the bottom of the pot with at least one inch of pebbles and water with care. All the soil must be moistened, but not to excess.

UNDERWATERING - is equally harmful, but easier to prevent. Plants not receiving enough water will from the top down and leaf edges turn brown. If the plant dries out badly, do not try to compensate by drowning it in water. You may find the first watering drains right through the soil; keep supplying water until the soil begins to absorb it. Keep the plant out of heat and light until it recovers. Nipping the leaves speeds recovery.

A farmer isn't just a farmer any more.

The money he has tied up in land, buildings, and equipment makes him an investor. As a worker he works hours that would daunt laborers in most other industries. He's an engineer, a mechanic, an electrician, as need arises. He's a book-keeper, an accountant, a

'Tops' elect new officers

The past two months have been rewarding ones for the Sedgewick TOPS Chapter Inc. The advancement of their members' talents Helen L. Madeline and Paddy O'Leary is most noteworthy. As a chapter we are also extremely pleased to have seven new members added to the roster.

At our weekly "weigh-in" held each Monday, 6:45 - 7:15 p.m. at the school, an average of 25-35 members are participating. Routine business consists of the roll call, reading of the minutes of the previous week's meeting, assessment of gains, losses and "tardies", declaration of the King and/or Queen of the week as well as the Teen and/or Pre-teen of the week for the greatest weight loss.

We have been informed that there are certain restrictions regarding foods served at any special TOPS event. On this we were unaware, until notification from our regional supervisor. Any menu must meet with her approval before being served.

Elaine K. and Mary Ann L. tied for the honor of being Queen of the Month in March. This is an interesting coincidence - both being equal amounts of weight during this period.

The graduation of Mary S. from TOPS to KOPS was held April 18th. She had the distinction of being the first to wear the official newly purchased KOPS crown. She was presented with a diploma and long stemmed red rose, gift of the chapter. Coffee was served on this occasion.

Award plus were presented to Queens of KOPS - Harriet W. and to runner-up Mary S. for their achievements.

Many charms have been awarded during these two months. Amongst them were charms presented to members of the executive for service rendered: to Harriet W. for the first "binge"; to Helen L. for having reached her goal; to Eleanor T. a special award presented by Gudrun B. for best attendance.

Installation of officers for the 1977-78 year occurred April 21st. Brenda Lee S. officiated. Officers installed were: Weight Recorder - Eleanor T. Treasurer - Joyce B. Secretary - Gudrun B. Co-Leader - Jeanette H. Leader - Mary Ann L. Assistant Weight Recorder - Shelley W. and Brigitte D.

Molly M. favored us with a solo, appropriate for the occasion.

Mary Ann L. was presented with a red rose, on behalf of the chapter members, in recognition and appreciation of her efforts during the past year. Having nearly the same state of officers to serve for a 2nd year, met with well hearted approval. Much time is necessarily spent in planning and organizing for the chapter's progress. Members sincerely appreciate this dedication of the executive.

An exciting and inspirational two-day session on April 29 and 30th at the Provincial Recognition Days in Calgary was attended by Mary Ann L., Gudrun B., Harriet W. and Mary S.

Starting a lawn

Glen Werner, D.A.

The increased building of new homes within the County as well as the towns and villages has resulted in many people preparing yards for lawns. A good lawn is relatively easy to establish and maintain provided certain rules are followed.

The first place to start is by preparing a good seed bed. This begins before the house is completed and ends with the seeding of the lawn seed.

Several tips to keep in mind in the preparation of the seed bed are:

1. When back-filling and site levelling, don't bury wood trimmings, concrete, or sliding trim ends.
2. Provide proper drainage by proper grading. The sub grade should establish the lines for the final grade. A gentle slope away from the building is preferred. Terraces may be necessary but should be used sparingly.
3. Spread 4" - 6" of good topsoil over the entire area. Excessive amounts of clay or manure are not advisable.
4. Fertilizer may be applied at a rate of 2 - 3 lbs. of nitrogen/1000 sq. ft. rotate soil.
5. Roll and rake alternately until an even, firm and granular seed bed is obtained.

Once the seed bed is prepared the lawn may be seeded. Here as well several tips may be given:

1. Seeding should be done in spring, the month of May being the best time.
2. Choice of seed is important. Most commonly used varieties are Kentucky Blue grass, creeping red fescue, and crested wheat grass.
3. Seeding rate is somewhat determined by the kind of area seeded. Usually 4 - 5 lbs. of 25% creeping red fescue &

25% Kentucky Blue grass are used on urban lots, while crested wheat grass replaces Kentucky Blue grass in drier, rural plantings.

The seed should be sown uniformly over the entire area. For even coverage sow 1/2 this entire area in one direction, the rest at right angles to the first. Then rake and roll lightly. Unless slopes are quite steep matching will not be necessary.

Water frequently but lightly until the seedlings become established. Avoid excessive watering which could wash the seeds into puddles.

When grass is 2" high cut back to 1 1/2". Mow carefully to avoid gouging.

Once the lawn is established yearly maintenance should be given including fertilization, weed control, aeration when necessary, and watering. When watering an established lawn, occasionally thorough heavy watering is much better than frequent light sprinklings.

Hardisty clean-up planned

Sisters and brother reunited after 59 years

by Sandra Pope

Mrs. Lavina Hodam, of Fairburg, Alberta, was reunited with her brother Aurel (Harry) Nikiforuk of Lake Cowichan, B.C., at Edmonton's International Airport last week after 58 years of separation.

Their parents, Lasse and Doreen Nikiforuk owned a farm at Harry Hill, Alberta. Profira (Lassie Hodam) was born in 1911, Aurel (now Harry) was born in 1922, and Harry in 1914. In 1918 their parents became seriously ill and Mr. Charlie Hill of Social Services and Child Welfare in Edmonton, well known for his care of neglected children, took the two girls in his care and placed them in the City of Edmonton Children's Shelter, which is still located on the corner of 86th Avenue and 1st Street.

Young Harry stayed at Harry Hill with a wet nurse, the Salvation Army for a few years, working at odd jobs. He began his search for his two sisters, and was still looking when he received a letter on April 4th, asking him if he could be "Aurel" Nikiforuk, born May 17, 1912, at Harry Hill, Alberta. His reply began "When I received your letter, I cried all day. I have been looking for my sisters for 40 years."

When Harry arrived back in Edmonton in 1923, hand-capped with a weak knee, he was still looking for his two sisters, and was still looking when he received a letter on April 4th, asking him if he could be "Aurel" Nikiforuk, born May 17, 1912, at Harry Hill, Alberta. His reply began "When I received your letter, I cried all day. I have been looking for my sisters for 40 years."

On May 7th, we waited at the International Airport. What a shame it was that we could not find their younger sister Marie. Although we had spoken to approximately twenty Marie or Mary Nikiforuks in the past month, we were told that Marie was dead and buried in a headstone. "It only we could find her today!"

Profira (Lassie), Harry and Ellen Marie

A loud voice filled the building "Arrival Flight 216 from Victoria." People started flowing down the large hall on the 2nd floor. I looked around me. Lavina stared at that doorway, watching — waiting for Harry and his wife Dora, both dead and buried in a headstone. "It only we could find her today!"

On Harry a home for ten years when he needed it and in the background, quietly watching, Genna Broder, Lavina's daughter from Galthad, paced back and forth, as did her son Wade. A reporter from the Edmonton Journal walked, Dora, both dead and buried in a headstone. "It only we could find her today!"

COME ALIVE...

The burden of self

There is no greater burden than our self. The person who gives us more trouble than any other in the one who lives in our skin. Our self hinders us, bewilders us, humiliates us, worries us, afflicts us. Yet it is most precious to us. We set much store by all that belongs to self. Our own plans, mostly selfish, even driving the Lord Jesus Christ, though we are aware they will fail, are dear to us. Often time, our most loved self tortures us, leads us astray, enslaves us, hinders us at every turn.

We need to remind ourselves constantly that this beloved self is by nature sinful against God. The heart of every man, our own the same as any other, whatever of good we make ourselves believe is in it, is against God. The natural man is proud of the idea of God he forms for himself, but he hates God nevertheless. The natural man boasts of his keeping of the law of God, but at heart he is opposed to it. He scorns God's way of salvation by faith, because he is unable to produce grace and faith within himself.

We all know that family is inheritable. The natural man, the self, cannot love God, cannot become holy. There is no way to improve the flesh. It is forever the same - sinful, corrupt, evil, degraded, vile, opposed to God and holiness. There is no good in self, whatever we may think of ourselves, however highly others may regard us. If there be any good in us, it is present by virtue of a new creation, a divine life wrought by the power of God through faith in a crucified Redeemer. It is wholly of his grace, not at all of our goodness, that we are saved. After long years of Christian living of even the most devoted kind, we are by nature as gully and as wretched as we were before the same and forever an enemy to God and a stranger to righteousness.

The burden of self, with all its cruelty, selfishness, depravity, deceitfulness, unbelief, and its numerous other forms of sin, is a burden to us. It is a burden to us, as we are saved. After long years of Christian living of even the most devoted kind, we are by nature as gully and as wretched as we were before the same and forever an enemy to God and a stranger to righteousness.

corruption, we need to hand over to God. He understands all as we do not. We can cast upon Him the burden of self, with the confidence that He will work all for our real advantage.

Our self, self, self, as often as we can, we can rejoice in Christ Jesus in whom is abundant grace and ample sufficiency for all our need.

Regardless how much you hate yourself, how much you loathe yourself, or how much other people hate you and look down at you or laugh at you, remember that you are always precious in the sight of God as long as you are willing to allow his love surrounding you. Indeed, you are a burden to us, but unless we love ourself, we will definitely become a body.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
I am a concerned parent writing about the alcohol and drug problem in our town and district. I was in Sedgewick last night and it was very good to know how concerned our local R.C.M.P. are about this problem, but I think the concern is going to have to extend into the home to our parents as well. It may be easy to sit at home and say "I know it is not my child" but do you know it is not your child? Maybe it is easier to hear a brave serviceman say "but I've seen most of us worry about this problem as most accidents, vandalism etc. is a direct act of drinking."

Older people in our town are really scared of parties etc. that are going on, and I do not blame them. If I was away from home and a party at my house was going on, I would not want any of my neighbors phoning our local R.C.M.P., if they were being disturbed or were concerned. In fact I would be very thankful. Come on parents "What are your children doing at night?" Find out and help our local R.C.M.P. make our town a better place to live. In fact the problem is not going to get better on its own, it will get worse.

Yours sincerely
Concerned Parent

Nursery rhymes for our times

by Violet M. Copeland

Glancing over a well-worn volume of nursery rhymes recently, it occurred to me that while improving on an already efficient system of weights and measures, and introducing a second language to people, many of whom already speak two, our busy government may be neglecting something more important: something which really needs their administration. There have changed radically since Mother Goose first enchanted children with her jolly jingles in the seventeenth century. Revision is definitely called for: the modern child is not naive enough to believe in a little-playing cat or a cow that jumps over the moon. After watching no-nonsense television, children realize that a cow would be so silly as to submit herself to the indignities of paraphernalia required for such an excursion. TV will also inform them that Mother Hubbard's dog wouldn't be caught dead with a bone these days, when all dogs demand Burger bits.

Jack and Jill, another old favorite, is equally outdated. Every child knows that water comes out of a tap. "Jack be nimble" is another example of new concept in nursery rhymes, which apply to modern activities, and with a Canadian content. It is asking a great deal to expect a child who has watched the likes of Stumpy and Gussie bite the dust every week to become excited, on reading Stumpy's story, over the tribulations of one small scrambled egg. Stumpy will have to go. But "Pussycat, Pussycat, Where have you been?" might well be salvaged, by replacing it with "Pussycat, Pussycat, where did you go? I went to Ottawa to visit Trudeau."

Maybe they'll appoint a Royal Commission to look into it!

Riter's Ramblings:
Dear Readers: I have been told that my letters are interesting. This is my secret. I have a note book that I enter the day's events in short form.

That one could be renovated by substituting "Cross Patch Light a match, all by the TV and smoke, take a cup, drink it up, of any old kind of cake." Which reminds me, to revise Jack and Jill, it might be best to maroon pop instead of water so the kiddies would ideally with it. Like Jack and Jill went up the hill to fetch a can of pop, but they couldn't buy dips for their barbecue chips at the party tarrad on the floor."

Standing beside me in spirit only, I felt Joan Vandenberg of Parent Finders in Vancouver, who had given me Harry's address; Jan Richardson of the Bureau of Vital Statistics who had given me birth certificates for the three Nikiforuk children, and performed a 20 year search for a marriage for a Marie Nikiforuk; the National officers of the Salvation Army, who had searched in the two provinces and published weekly columns in the "Star Cry"; Edith Cookson of Longherd, who led me to Brother Lucette Couling of the Elks Purple Cross Deaf Detection in Regina, who had published a notice in the "Canadian Press" monthly, and turned me to the School for the Deaf in Winnipeg; Janet Howell, Research Officer with Social Services and Child Welfare, who had searched their files for many days; Rita at the Land Titles Office, who searched the title to the property at Hilly Hill, which opened the door to Mr. C.W. Johnson, Deputy Public Trustee, who carefully went through every letter in the file mark.

My brother, George and I fled from the happy reunion, searching C.W. files, voters' polls, and school records, speaking to one Mary or Marie Nikiforuk after another. We came up empty handed.

Finally, Monday afternoon, Don Alexander of Social Services telephoned. "Sandra he said excitedly, "I have great news for you." "Thank you brother George we learned that the records were a card indexing system, and we found the records" He gave me the name, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Norden, Mervin.

His notebook remained blank. No one spoke. It was not necessary.

An interpreter, Dobbie McKers, introduced everyone, and we all watched her sign language with great interest. Dora turned to me, and in a moment I was in her arms. When Harry hugged and kissed me, I knew that from now on I would take the time to communicate.

KILLAM ST. GEORGE'S ACW
The May meeting of St. George's A.C.W. was held at the home of Doris Bennett.

President Merle Brodie opened the meeting, with hymns "Rock of Ages" followed by the "Member's Prayer". Doris conducted the devotional. The Bible reading was taken from St. Matthew, chapter 17, followed by the Litany.

Visits had been made to the hospital, and cards sent. It was decided that the people, who look after the "Welcome Wagon", be asked to get in touch with us. If any of the new families, moving into Killam are Anglicans.

Plans were made for repatriation to be made to the Ventry, Dorothy Feltz, Marie Brodie and Elaine Feltz, in choosing the material, and look after the supplies needed for the job.

A motion was made that we purchase a flowering shrub for the church grounds.

The new doors are now on the church, but need to be painted, which of course will be taken care of. The old organ, has been replaced with a new one. Plans were made for the special service to be held in Killam on May 28th at 11:00 a.m.

There will be a year-end party for the Catechism classes on June 8th at 2:30 at the church. An appreciation gift will be given to all the teachers for their effort and time spent throughout the year.

It had been voted that we honor our Senior members, Mrs. Scherler and Mrs. Brodie, with an honorary life membership within our own council, they having reached their eightieth birthday.

Lorraine Larent gave an informative regime of the Convention she recently attended.

A wine and cheese party will be held in conjunction with our regular meeting on June 4th in the Elk's Hall. All ladies of the parish are invited in appreciation of their assistance and help given with our functions throughout the year.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON® 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds — for less

This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redroot-pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard—TORDON 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleaves are susceptible: TORDON 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON 202C is a formulation containing

Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides: Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!
TORDON 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenox herbicides used alone. Price per gallon: $37.40 — and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.80. Two pails of TORDON 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase Buy two pails of TORDON 202C Herbicide and, upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer) Dow will forward a special Sportsman's Kit to you. This handy Kit is made up of 2 Thermos flasks plus a dessert container — in a special carry-case.

Lougheed W. I. meet

The President, Mrs. J. Johnson conducted the May meeting of the Lougheed W.I. which was held at the home of Mrs. M. Shoberg on the 16th. Thirteen members, one of whom was our guest member, Mrs. A. Shoberg, and 4 visitors were welcomed prior to the reading of the creed and the reading of the minutes.

The library committee reported having had a meeting with Mr. Wilshire of the library branch of the Dept. of Culture. He had made some suggestions regarding further improvements to the library, stating that grant money can be spent on anything we wish. In its future there will be a present grant of $750.00, provided the library also contributes a share. Five to ten members comprise a library board; Mrs. G. Marlow volunteered to be a member on the local board. The possibility was voiced that the future kindergarten class might use the library facilities for a "story hour", and the idea of making cushions for this was suggested. Since the April meeting, 8 more "Verdant Valley" books have been sold.

Card convener, Miss M. Feenough reported 32 wet well cards and 1 sympathy card had been sent.

Mrs. G. Marlow reported that Dale and Lanny who have undertaken to look after the century grounds have already been at work.

Mrs. D. McClements and Mrs. J. Johnson will attend the Provincial Convention at Odo on May 20, 21 and June 1.

The Cancer and Red Cross drives had been very successful in this area, and a letter of heartfelt thanks to canvassers and contributors was received from Mrs. W. S. Barker, director of Red Cross.

A letter from the Dept. of Environment asked all to participate in the "Outdoors Unlittered" campaign - to "Pick It Up" not "Pile It Out".

A list of resolutions to be presented at the Provincial Conference was read, and it was decided that the delegate should use her own discretion in voting.

A 4-line Hamrick about Lougheed was to be the answer to the roll call, but either shy or forgetful she seemed to be the excuse for most not displaying hidden talents - playing hidden talents.

The members are reminded that the closing drive for the U.S.C. is still in effect: clothing to be left in the U.C. basement.

Mrs. M. Shoberg as delegate and 8 other members had attended the Consensus conference at Alliance. She gave a brief report of some of the highlights.

Mrs. H. Probst, as program convener, introduced Diane Bourne D.H.E. who talked on Preventative Social Services, and outlined the work presently being done within the Consensus.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Johnson with Mrs. G. Marlow as co-hostess.

Hardisty Happenings

Congratulations to Les Quast on winning the Lam's Rifle Rifle.

Mrs. Shirley McKenzie spent a few days in Calgary, staying with her sister and visiting Karen.

Seva is town was Billy Gotsch from Drumheller, renewing acquaintances and getting to know our growing town better.

We would like to welcome Allen Lawson back to our locality again after having a very good winter in California.

It is nice that John Sherack arrived home again so soon after being in an Edmonton Hospital.

Born to Terry and Kathy (Sydler) Larson of Provost, a young daughter 8 lbs. 4 oz and named Nicole Ann.

The every second Saturday evening card party at the Drop-In Centre was attended by 21 people. It was lovely to have some new out of towners attending and commencing very favorably on the Drop-In Centre.

Those attending were Sula Drager from Camrose and her sister Esale Drager from Lougheed, also Margaret Draham from Forestburg and Mrs. Ida May Black and Mrs. Tina Blakely.

High Prices went to Mrs. B. Black and Mrs. Blakely, Doris and Perry Powell.

Low prices were Esale and Sula Drager, Valda Johnson and Alvin Parnes. We will be happy to see you back again on May 28th.

The program on Alcoholism sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary was quite well attended. It would have been along to see more young people as it was a very informative evening with Marlene from Red Deer, the speaker.

For some time the pro and cons of the subject were "was it a weakness or an illness" and we were told that evening that it definitely is an illness.

On Thursday evening members of the Legion Auxiliary visited Flaxton Lodge with a program and lunch. The very capable M.C. Jo McClements, filled in with the odd joke between numbers. Piano solos were played by Nettie Johnson and Diane Melts, daughter of one of the members.

Margaret Timbom gave an amusing reading, "Grandma's off her rocker." Then the lodge guests were treated to a fashion show, with styles "out of this world", which caused much merriment. A delicious lunch was served and members had the opportunity of visiting old friends and making new. We were sorry to hear that Mrs. Lottie Kells was in Killam Hospital.

Lougheed News

The members of St. Andrew U.C.W. of Lougheed were very happy to welcome 2 ladies, 1 gentleman and 1 child in their Friendship Tea on Thursday, May 12th. After a few words of welcome by the president, Mrs. H. White delighted all by playing a poppy puzzle on the piano. Mr. D. Black then conducted a couple of singing games, after which a courage was presented to Mrs. Palmer as the guest present, and Mr. P. Lindahl, "the lone guest" received a cluster of baby rums. While tea was being served, Mrs. H. Smith joined Mrs. W. Reintjes at the piano, in singing some old familiar songs.

On Saturday, May 14th, the club took part in the 4-8 highway cleanup, and cleaned the ditches on Highway 13 from Lougheed to Hardisty. There was a good turnout of members and parents and the job was completed by about 1:30 p.m.

Our achievement day will be held on June 4 at Killam. The show will start at 11 am and the sale will be held later in the evening.

Province buys 2nd airline

Albertans have become owners of another airline, the Winnipeg-based Transair Ltd., as Pacific Western Airlines looks to rationalize its western regional service and also provide a hedge against a northern slowdown.

For $5.4 million, the PWA board has purchased majority interest in Transair and acquired immediate operating control of the airline.

Formal approval of the purchase awaits approval from the Canadian Transport Commission, however, and it will likely be a year before the airlines are effectively unified.

The PWA purchase by the Alberta government in 1971

provoked several court battles over the province's refusal to ask the CTC to approve its purchase. Alberta eventually won the case in the Supreme Court of Canada. This time, with a private company making the purchase, there is no argument that the CTC should give its approval.

If the deal goes through as scheduled PWA will end up owning more than 70 per cent of Transair's stock. In addition to paying more than $5 million for the stock, the Alberta-owned airline is committed to injecting $2 to $3 million into Transair for operating expenses.

The Manitoba airline has found itself cash short in recent months as the airline business generally has experienced tight money. The airline showed a deficit of $4.4 million in its last two years of operation.

The difficult financial situation led Ottawa to indicate prior to the purchase there would be little trouble gaining approval for the sale and none of the controversy surrounding the original PWA purchase is expected this time.

For PWA, Transair offers the prospect of western regional routes that would link centres such as Regina, Brandon and Winnipeg with Calgary and Edmonton.

Some sources indicated that with Justice Tom Berger's report on the Arctic pipeline casting doubt on future northern oil business, the purchase gives PWA a hedge against a drastic slowdown in northern activity.

The addition of Transair facilities to PWA will add 740 employees to the airline, bringing its total to more than 2,000. Several aircraft will also be added to PWA's fleet of 22. Three of the Transair planes are Boeing 727s.

PWA plans no immediate movement of staff or change in the operating procedures of Transair. A four-man PWA team has been flown into Winnipeg to oversee immediate operation on the airline.

The purchase means PWA will absorb the plan to apply to add Lethbridge to the centres it serves until the merger with Transair is complete.

PART III WATERING METHODS

Plants fall into two categories according to how they should be watered. A plant care encyclopedia will specify the conditions each plant prefers. 1. Drench thoroughly, then let the soil become moderately dry before rewatering. The top ½ inch (1 cm.) layer of soil should be crumbly and dry. This method is used most often for plants with thick roots. 2. Keep evenly moist, but never wet. Many plants with small fibrous roots prefer this method, because their roots are more susceptible to root rot or burning. An indoor potted plant should not need daily watering. Such a need could indicate a pot-bound plant (one whose roots completely fill the pot).

There are various watering methods, each with pros and cons. Watering from the top is convenient and simple, especially using a watering can with a long narrow spout. Be sure to moisten the soil throughout, adding enough to drip out the bottom. A common mistake is to sprinkle a little water on every day or two. This keeps the top layer moist while allowing the lower absorbent root tips to dry and die. It also encourages roots to grow only in the top layer of moist soil, where they are no longer able to utilize the available soil nutrients or support the plant.

Use care when watering from the top. Splashing water on the leaves causes spotting and encourages the spread of harmful microorganisms. Water left standing in the crown provides a site for the development of root rot and other fungus diseases (excep-tion - Bromeliads). Add the water slowly, to avoid washing soil away from the base of the plant.

Bottom watering ensures thorough watering. Plants in porous clay pots can be set to soak in a pail of water, deep enough that the water level does not rise above the rim of the pot. Water soaks in through the bottom and sides of the pot. Leave it in for about one half hour, until the top of the soil feels moist.

The same result can be accomplished by standing small pots in a dish of water until moisture appears on the surface. Never leave plants standing in water for any length of time.

Soil build-up becomes a problem of bottom watering is used constantly. Water of low saltiness is added to levels of saltiness in the soil, especially in Alberta. These are deposited in the soil, and can easily build up to levels toxic to plants. Fertilizer, too, deposits excess salts in the soil. If the problem becomes severe, a white crusty layer appears on the soil surface.

To prevent the build-up of salt, alternate bottom watering with top watering, as top watering leaches away excess salt. To remove salt deposits, water the plant thoroughly from the top, let drain, and water again in half an hour to wash away dissolved salts. Another method occasionally used is to completely submerge the pot in a tub of water until air bubbles cease to rise. Remove and allow the plants to drain freely for 30 minutes.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds — for less

This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redtop, pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cocklebur, dandelion or wild mustard — TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleaves are susceptible: TORDON* 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control
TORDON* 202C is a formulation containing

Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!

TORDON* 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pint: $37.40 — and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.08 to $1.80. Two pints of TORDON* 202C provide effective coverage of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every

But beneath it all lies a broken heart. We hide our tears when we speak your name. But the ache in our hearts remains the same. Always remembered by Mom, Dad, Leslie, Randy and Brian. 40-1p

The fish fry on Tuesday evening, May 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hagen really gutted the interior of the damage all I can say is it must have been the prompt work of the fire brigade that prevented the whole place from burning. Father Norbert Schmeltzer, 64, from St. Boniface Parish at Spring Lake, died on May 22nd in the University Hospital after being confined there for about a week. Father Schmeltzer was born in Fairbank, Iowa, on Dec. 4th, 1892, but moved to Camrose with his parents in 1923. He attended school in Hound Hill, and at St. Mary's High School in Edmonton before entering St. Joseph Seminary in 1921 to study for the priesthood. He was ordained at the age of 22 in St. Francis of Xavier Church, Camrose by Archbishop Henry J. O'Leary on Dec. 14, 1928. He served for seven years as Pastor at Vilva (now part of St. Paul diocese) and for seven years more at Torfled. He also served at Holy Rosary Parish in Edmonton and spent three years as pastor at Redway, Alberta, before going to Spring Lake in 1948, where he has been

Tenth anniversary

A decade feels long in most jobs and can be an eternity in some, but the past 10 years have been short and sweet in the life of Premier Peter Lougheed.

On May 22, he celebrated his 10th anniversary of election to the Legislature from Calgary West. He finds that the time has been well spent. He rose to prominence fast, and the glow of the climb gathered peristalsis.

The 48-year-old lawyer, Conservative and Harvard University business administration school graduate has been premier two-thirds of the time, since 1971, and opposition leader the rest.

On May 22, 1977, Lougheed, Les Hyndman, Hugh Herron, Don Getty, Dave Russell and Les Werry were seated to face an apparently unassailable but aging Social Credit administration under Ernest Manning.

By 1971, Manning quit and was replaced by the mild-mannered Henry Storr. The first six Tories had become 10, after Bill Yorks and Bob Dewling were by-elections and former Liberal Bill Dickie and one-time independent Clarence Copithorne joined them.

Lougheed's party captured the momentum and took 49 of the house's 75 seats. Four years later, on March 28, 1975, the ranks swelled to 68. In another four years, give or take a few months again, the premier says, Lougheed plans to retain that grip.

He reported in an interview that the years have had only one truly memorable low point: the death of Werry, one of the government's best-respected members, in a 1972 auto accident, while he was telephone interviewer.

Lougheed says, "I really enjoy being an MLA. I'm proud of the Alberta Legislature. People have described it as dull. But I don't think it's our duty to entertain."

In retrospect, the premier recalls that he and his five original colleagues were "green and inexperienced in 1971. He's glad of doing time in opposition and the fruits of his lessons still crop up in Terry Ruess.

But, "I'm glad I wasn't in it too long. I think if you're in opposition too long you tend to turn into a critic and lose your spirit of getting things done."

Lougheed says he and his colleagues are "deers." The politics of the province might have been very different had the Socreds won in 1971.

"It would have been, for example, for a Don Getty or a Dave Russell to have been in opposition for an extended period of time — and particularly for Hugh Herron."

Overwhelming control of the house against only six divided opposition MLAs isn't making the provincial section of Albert's Conservative Party overconfident or flabby. Lougheed believes.

"There has been such pressure on us from the rest of the country, resisting the sort of changes we're trying to make in Confederation, that it's forced us to be on our toes in everything we do."

Dedicate new organ at Killam

The people of St. Georges Anglican Church, Killam created a special event on Sunday, June 28th. A service of dedication for a new electric organ was held. The organ was dedicated to the glory of God, in loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilde by Gertrude Brodie, also the members of the Bonnet family and in memory of Orla Spiller by his wife Mrs. Vera Scholz.

Following the service a coffee fellowship hour was held in the Presbyterian Hall with members of the United and Presbyterian congregations in attendance.

The young people of Hardisty have formed a "Youths in Action" Club which will hold its regular meetings and social functions in St. Marks Parish Hall.

A dance, to kick off the Club was held on Friday with approximately 35 in attendance. The music was supplied by Robert Conrad, and the usual quiet hall of St. Marks came to life.

Thanks is extended to all who donated drinks and cookies.

This club is a community project and it needs the support of the community.

To put it in the modern day jargon "the club is gonna be outta sight."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DO YOU EAT BEEF?

Over 50% of the people in this area say yes. The price of meat is on the increase according to the bureau of statistics. This increase in price happens between the time the animal leaves the feedlot and when it's put on the shelf of the supermarket. According to the packers it is going to go higher.

If you want to save yourself some money on your beef for summer barbecuing, act now! Attend your local 4-H beef show and sale, and pick your beef up on the hoof. This is choice steer beef. There is a good selection of animals with a variety of finish. Have a 4-H leader assist you in selecting the kind of animal you want. These animals need not be overpriced, they often sell at market value only. They can be delivered to a local slaughter house of your choice. Showtime 10:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. on June 6th in the Killam Arena.

Growing pains

by Marge Boutin

"Oh, no, Baby, what have you done now?" I moaned in dismay.

A cherub smile spread over my ten-month-old's face as he all the more energetically rubbed the soil from the overturned pot into my brand new rug.

"My brand new Easter lily, too!" I admonished as I picked him up. "I hate the crib you go."

I surveyed my repotting effort. The lily didn't look so lopsided. One of the buds had broken off but two had escaped intact and with any luck would still bloom.

My husband had presented the lily to me partly to soothe my feelings and partly to save his conscience. I had been bemoaning the fact that my poor philodendron had only the one leaf and hadn't done anything for the last six months even though I had bought a new pot for it. He had said "Good. I hope it dies. I hate philodendrons." I had stared at him. "But," I stammered, "your sister has a beautiful philodendron in her living room that almost reaches the ceiling. It was from her that I got a slip." "Well yes, they're alright in someone else's house, but not in mine," he had muttered from behind his paper.

Shortly after my coffee table sported a new lily and my husband inquired, "Have you got rid of that plant yet?" Maintaining a straight face, I replied "Do you see it anywhere in the living room?" Actually, I hadn't the heart to discard it and it was now sitting in the utility room, still with one leaf. If it did start to grow, perhaps my neighbor would accept it.

My Wandering Jew is the opposite extreme of the philodendron. It is truly flourishing and has numerous runners cascading down the sides of the pot. The baby has discovered how much sun it is to have the leaves and watch them bob up and down. To date, the amount of runners he has knocked down hasn't made a hare spot in the jungle-like grow. The lily didn't look so lopsided. One of the buds had broken off but two had escaped intact and with any luck would still bloom.

The program opened with "O Canada" and the students taking part were:

Lois Mitt, Crystal Rose, Ni- cole Cahill, Janet Dekock, Sa- nara Allen, John Mitchell, Tina Mitchell, Jackie Allen, Sa- nara Cahill, Karen Sothman, Lisa Cahill, Janet Dekock, Sa- nara, Kerry Blitzer and Brian Dekock.

On behalf of the parents and pupils, Dr. Cahill thanked Mrs. Johnston for her very worth- while project of developing such a musical interest in the younger generation and which they would appreciate more if they grew older.

He also stated that it was wonderful for so many be- ginners and others to obtain such a good musical grounding in a small town like ours.

Hardisty library opening

The official opening of the new library in Hardisty will take place during the opening of the Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre on Monday, the 6th of June at 2:00 p.m. The library is an integral part of the Drop-In Centre and it, therefore, seems appropriate that both facilities should be officially opened at the same time.

The ribbon cutting ceremony opening the library will be performed by Mr. Ted Wil- shire, Director of Library Services for the Alberta Depart- ment of Culture. Mr. Wil- shire will be among several dignitaries who will be on hand. It is hoped that a large crowd will gather for the ac- corded occasion.

GREEN ACRES

YELLOWSKINNED SPRUCE SAWFLY CONTROL

Many younger aspen-leaved spruce trees are severely damaged every year in Alberta by yellow-skinned spruce sawfly larvae. The County of Ft. Assiniboine is an exception.

According to Keith Phillips, entomologist with Alberta Agriculture's plant industry laboratory, most spruce sawfly larvae, including yellow-skinned spruce sawfly, are susceptible to some degree through their immature and damaged trees, thus making them more susceptible to other pests.

Phillips says that the yellow-skinned spruce sawfly larvae are most susceptible to other pests when they are in the early stages of development. He says that the yellow-skinned spruce sawfly larvae are most susceptible to other pests when they are in the early stages of development.

Heister C.W.L. meet

The 10th meet of the C.W.L. was held in the church meeting room on Tuesday, May 30th, with 27 members answering the roll call. The annual picnic was discussed with the date set for June 5th. Also a picnic will be held at the Macdonald grounds. The amount for the Red Cross collected was $325.26. Convalescers were Mrs. P. Latta, Doreen Hill, Angie Hill, Loraine Mart, Geraldine Boddy, Lauraine Knitz, Beverly Alberts, Lavonne Dietrich, Lorna Strauss and Marlene Waldeck. The cheerful laughter will be revealing a strong sign of recovery. The Red Cross Conference for June 5th is being held in Dauphin on June 15th. Next meeting is on June 15th.

Infected trees should be sprayed before damage becomes noticeable from a distance which is usually about mid-June. If the first spray is done after this date most of the current year's damage will be done. If trees are sprayed after the first chemical application, the trees will be sprayed again in two or three weeks.

It's a good practice to check your trees weekly, especially young trees. If trees appear to be a problem, you should determine its cause. Then, spray or take necessary action to control it. Otherwise, pesticides are poisonous. Don't spray unnecessarily.

L. Bauer elected president

An organizational meeting was held at the Sedgewick Recreation Centre to organize Minor Ball in Sedgewick. Mr. L. Bauer was acting Chairman. Election of officers was held:

Pres: L. Bauer
Secretary - J. Harris

It was then decided that a meeting should be held in April 1978 to get things started earlier in the year. The teams in Sedgewick are as follows:

Five boys teams:
Two Miquito Teams (11 and under) Coaches R. Tanton, B. Krause, L. Bauer, and D. Miles.
Beavers (12 and under) J. Bradington (Coach needed here)

Bantam (15 and under) coach O. Landie Midget Team (17 and under)

Girls Teams:
Squirts (11 and under) coaches: J. Djos, J. Harris.
Pre Wee (12 and under) M. Shaw, coach (they needed)
Bantam (15 and under) B. Howard
T-ball will be formed for boys and girls.

We still need some coaches and umpires, anyone with a basic knowledge of ball is welcome to come and help. The Sedgewick Legion, Kiwanis Club and Agriculture Society have all donated money for ball equipment, and some equipment has been bought but more is needed just to equip our teams with the basics. It was agreed that we should charge a registration of $10.00 per player, and coaches will also hand out consent forms for parents to sign. It is disappointing that there are over 100 children playing ball and yet we are still short of coaches. Hopefully things will improve.

CHARRED WALLS — This photo taken by Herman Releford illustrates the extent of damages caused by the fire at the Hagen house recently. The interior was almost completely gutted by the fire. At present it is not known if the house will be renovated, or if it will be necessary to demolish it and start from new.

Helen Eastly passes after lengthy illness

Sedgewick - Funeral services were conducted here in the United Church for Mrs. Helen L. Eastly, who died in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital on Monday, May 24, after a lingering illness. Services were conducted by the Rev. Robert Chappell assisted by the Rev. Fred Hunter on Thursday, May 26. Burial was in the Sedgewick Cemetery with the arrangements in the hands of Fox and Sons. Pallbearers were: Jim Davison, Ray Polage, Carmen Robertson, Willie Hutton, Melvin Macken and Donald Melville. Floral tributes and a large hat at Memorial donations indicated the esteem in which the deceased was held by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

Helen Lena Simons was born at Camrose, Alberta on the second day of August, 1898. She came to Sedgewick with her parents and family in 1906, where she cradled and completed her schooling. Except for a three year period where the family lived in California, and three years of employment in Spokane, Washington, she spent her life at Sedgewick.

She was united in marriage to Arthur William Eastly on November 22nd, 1922, on the 25th wedding anniversary of her parents. In earlier years Helen was a long-time Sunday School teacher, and was active in the Ladies Aid of the United Church. She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and was a Past Worship Matron of the Sedgewick Chapter.

Brides her husband, Helen is survived by one son, Arthur Clayton of Calgary; one daughter Beverly (Mrs. Larry Proctor) of Sherwood Park; seven grandchildren; one brother Edward of Sedgewick; three sisters, Wilma (Mrs. R. Ostrander) of Los Angeles, Clara (Mrs. Elmer Billow) of Sedgewick and Eva (Swanson) of Edmonton, besides numerous nephews, nieces and cousins in Canada and the United States; Son-in-law Larry Proctor and Daughter-in-law Selma Eastly.

Meeting told that parents interest needed

The Concerned Parents Group met at 1:30 p.m. May 19 in the United Church basement to evaluate the advantages to be gained and essential in order to achieve a good quality of education. I hold the view that parents are happy to be involved in the education process when they know that their children directly benefit from it.

The following letter from Mr. H.C. Nairne, Pres. of the Local A.T.A. No. 18, was read and discussed. We felt there was a great deal of food for thought here and worth of being shared with any interested persons of the area. This letter is appropriate in that elections for the members of the school committee will be held this fall and parents should become aware of who the candidates are.

Our next meeting is to be held September 15th at 1:30 p.m. in the United Church basement. We hope that interested parents will come.

Daylind School
Mrs. M. Fraser
Daylind, Alberta
Dear Mrs. Fraser,

Thank you for a copy of the letter dated March 17, 1977 in response to my letter published in "Education Work Bulletin, 1977".

Further, at the local level what interests do parents take in school committee elections? Are candidates asked to express their views on educational matters, or is there no sufficient interest, consequently School Committee members, incidentally elected by acclamation, and not through an actual vote are mandated to do a job without direct parental input. Parents have in actual fact therefore abandoned their interests in local educational matters to the School Committee.

Within the home situation there are many influencing factors which affect the quality of the education of children. I wish to propose a series of questions which your group may wish to look into:

1. Have parents over-extended their commitment to outside activities which result in not meeting the needs of their children?
2. Do parents share their talents, interests and hobbies with their children?
3. Do parents express an interest in what their children are doing or attempting to do?
4. Do parents exercise adequate control over the outside activities of their children in ensuring the right priorities are established?
5. Do parents provide guidance within the home and create an environment whereby the learning process could be enhanced?

The above questions are posed in order to form a basis of discussion for the Concerned Parent Group. I hold the view that the involvement of parents with education, begins within the home, while the responsibility of the school is to provide the academic framework to build on in later life.

Summer Cooling?

If you're contemplating summer cooling, we offer these helpful hints.

In summer, the hottest part of your home is the attic. One of the most economical and efficient ways to cool your entire home is by removing heated air with an automatic attic ventilator. In Alberta, it may be all you really need for summer comfort.

Generally, a fan system costs less to install and operate than an air conditioner. However, a fan system does not cool as effectively as an air conditioner nor does it filter the air.

Government needs to take another look

by Kevin Peterson

Premier Peter Lougheed is finding that his government has a weaker revival of hard-line conservation. He concedes that the political right carried the day in some of its performance this spring.

"A sentiment exists" which distrusts public assistance, labor and dissent. Old-fashioned notions of self-reliance, competition and "law-and-order" are idealized and increasingly becoming common currency in politics.

"In part, we're responding. But we're also trying to maintain the position we've taken of being a progressive government," Lougheed said in an interview.

The sentiment and the juggling which the premier has to manage to handle it, showed during the Conservative party convention in Edmonton this spring.

Party members were leech that unions were powerful enough to influence the awarding of all sands pipeline contracts. They wanted to strike at the heart of labor's sources of strength.

Demands for "right-to-work" laws to prevent "closed shops" where labor can shut work down were cold-shouldered. Rig-hists were warned to try finding new friends to uphold the Tories' governing "consensus" among all Albertans.

But Lougheed, with a nod to party feelings, also served notice of where the leadership's basic sympathies lie. He and his cabinet must be realistic and pragmatic, willing to help the poor and recognize labor.

At the same time, the real business of Alberta is business. The administration's prime duty is to foster prosperity.

Government can be a catalyst, create an atmosphere, new electric finances law allowing tax-deductible contributions to all parties and requiring disclosure of major sources.

Yet the ledger has a third column which can be filled by either the political right or left: placing control of money and citizen conduct in the hands of the cabinet and its regulatory power.

Stack of the fall sitting will likely be preoccupied with review of the administration's performance in that third column. Review is promised for cabinet management of Pacific Western Airlines, the $2.2 billion Heritage Fund and proposals to maintain its extensive power over land use with the new Planning Act.

ed in this province last year. They were created by individual entrepreneurs in free enterprise. That's what really makes this province hum."

In his Legislative Building office, Lougheed stresses that his party has a dual title: Progressive Conservatives. "I think that we can be both, and not just conservative."

When he looks at the order paper of new laws passed by the spring Legislature sitting, he believes the ledger shows that balance.

In the right's column are to be found the new Public Service Employee Relations Act, which bans civil servant strikes, and new Child Welfare Act amendments allowing the government and the courts to lock up problem juveniles.

On a more liberal side are a three-year extension of real controls until mid-1980 plus a new electric finances law allowing tax-deductible contributions to all parties and requiring disclosure of major sources.

COME ALIVE... DO SOMETHING!

Let us imagine ourselves in an automobile wreck in which we are in some way placed beneath the wreckage, perhaps with broken bones or bleeding lacerations. If such a misfortune should happen in a place where people are passing by, a crowd would soon gather. But let us suppose anybody does anything but stand around and stare. Maybe we are just about to lose consciousness; perhaps there is fire or imminent danger of fire, but still nobody makes any effort at all to remedy the situation. Certainly we would be justified, if our strength permitted it, in calling out: "Don't just stand there. Do something!"

We live in the kind of world where just such situations as the one we have been describing exist, only their extent and gravity are much greater. Instead of being trapped in a wrecked automobile, we face the possibility of destruction in a ruined civilization. Rather than trying to rescue an injured individual, we are content with the necessity for preserving a Christian society. We live in a world where there are emergency jobs as well as routine jobs to be done that cannot be accomplished by simply acknowledging their existence. They require active participation by every concerned Christian to be a force and not merely a passive bystander.

There were eminent characters of both Old and New Testament times who were not satisfied simply to stand by but were impelled to do something. Moses furnished with God's help, the necessary leadership to bring his often recalcitrant people from their bondage in Egypt through twenty years of wandering in the wilderness to the edge of the promised land. For this feat Moses is recognized to this day as the nurtured hero of about the two builders began by saying, "Therefore, whenever we hear these sayings of mine, and death them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock" (Matthew 7:24). James wrote, "But ye doers of the word, and not hearers only" (James 1:22). Every generation cries out for active leadership, and no generation has needed Christian leadership more than ours does. Too often professed Christians are allowing our society to falter because they are just standing there when they ought to be doing something.

Not one of us is too little, or too weak, or too insignificant to make our presence felt on God's side. Jesus did not choose the high and mighty to be His disciples. He chose ordinary people, people like each of us. In the enormous need of this day and hour we can do something. The hour is now—tomorrow may be too late. The only safe way for our children and the world in God's way, His way can be done only through us. Let us step standing around and DO SOMETHING!

investigate tank-mixing

The tank-mix you make yourself is the real all-purpose weed killer. It can be Banvel with Pool, 2,4-D Amine, or Banvel with Pool MCPA Amine, or Banvel with Pool MCPA K-64, and it will cost you less per acre than the pre-mixed combinations. Also, with a tank mix, you can adjust your weed control program to suit your crop and work against the various types of weed infestation.

Ask us for the free brochure explaining exactly how to tank mix your own custom-made weed killer.

Killam library changes hours

On Thursday, May 23, also Library Board members met in the Killam and District Public Library with Chairperson, Bill Stang president.

E. Leslie reported on the progress and changes that have been undertaken during the past month. E. Leslie was instructed to place an order for a book rack. Another rack would more effectively display the books as well as making them more accessible.

The financial report given by G. Slavik was approved. A favorable bank balance will make it possible to purchase more books.

Officially our library is classified as a Municipal Library under the name "Killam and District Public Library". We were denied assistance by the Canada Works Program as it was decided our request had a lower priority than other applicants in our area.

T. Tifts was authorized to make payment of our outstanding bills during the holiday months.

Each board member is a gala to submit book titles, by June 24th so that our book purchasing will be completed before the end of the year. If you have any suggestions or preferences please contact E. Leslie at the library.

After considerable discussion it was decided that the library would be closed during July and open during August only. Summer library hours for August only will be:

Tues. and Thurs. 7:00 to 8:30
Saturday 2:00 - 4:00 p.m.
Revised library hours beginning in September are:
Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs. 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

It is also your privilege to use the library during school hours even though a class may be in progress there.

Daily library hours are:
Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs., & Friday - 8:30 - 12:00 Noon
Mon., Tues., Wed., & Thurs. 12:30 to 2:00 p.m.

Note that there are no library services on Friday afternoons or Sundays.

It is hoped that these hours will meet your approval and that it will generate a greater use of the facilities.

There is still a crying need for volunteer to "man" the library for hours other than regular school hours. Regulations make it mandatory that the library be open seven hours per week over and above school hours. To share the workload and benefit the public, makes it necessary to have as many volunteers as possible. Can you assist? If so please contact Mrs. F. Lackey, Mrs. G. Slavik or Mrs. Donna Cook.

The Book and Bake Sale held in April resulted in $181.80 being added to the bank balance. The "book" cake, baked and decorated by Edna Palmer raised a worldwide sum. To all who so generously donated baking we are most appreciative.

There will be no further meetings until September. Florence Schweitzer

Two year winner

For the second year in a row, the Battle River Tourist Association has been awarded a trophy for having the "best" year-around promotion in any area in Canada with a population under 100,000. The award was presented at an "Awards Banquet" held on Sunday, May 15, 1977 in the Edmonton Plaza Hotel, the first function of the four-day Annual Meeting of the Travel Industry Association of Canada.

On hand to receive the award was Past President John Gust of Banff and President Edna Palmer of Killam. The cheering section included Mrs. Gust, Len and Margaret Dutton, Killam; Lena D'Albortson, Wainwright; Bob Hutton, Provost; Sylvia and Dick Clements, Camrose and Berdie and Bill Fowler also of Camrose.

In making the award, it was mentioned that the Travel Industry Association of Canada annually recognizes efforts made by organizations to promote area travel, recreation and tourism. The Area Promotion Awards are intended to recognize the best effort and to encourage other organizations to promote Canada's rapidly developing tourism industry.

Other awards were made in recognition of contributions to conservation of renewable resources: the best travel film produced in Canada; the outstanding publication of material dealing with cultural and historical aspects of Canadian life in Canadian publications; and the best articles published in United States newspapers and magazines dealing with Canada's tourist attractions.

Hardisty and area continue to expand community services requiring additional telephone communication facilities. A recent example is completion of the Hardisty Parkland Manor for senior citizens. This project provides 28 single or double occupancy suites for pioneers who worked so hard to bring the Hardisty district to its present level of development.

Mrs. Moran, administrator of the Manor, advises that each suite has been wired for two telephone jacks, one in the living room and one in the bedroom for extra convenience.

To meet these needs, AGT recently put into service a $44,000 project of 80 additional telephone lines in the Hardisty exchange. AGT's Orville Remley, a 24 year employee, living in Hardisty says "these additions will improve service to our rural and local customers."

Report from Henry

by Henry Krueger, M.L.A.
I have held back writing a report, waiting for the redistribution bill, No. 20, to make its way into legislation. That has now happened and the House adjourned on May 18th.

What the passing of Bill 20 on third reading does is implement the Report of the Boundaries Commission. Sogewick. Coronation will cease to exist when the next election is called. The constituency I will continue to represent the constituency.

Five sitting members of the government will now be interested in the constituency, aside from myself. The southwest part will become part of the constituency. The southwest part will go into Settler with Graham Harle, the northwest to Camrose and Gordon Stromberg, the northern part into Vermilion-Viking and Tom Lyons, and the northeast part to Wainwright, being represented by Charlie Stewart.

I would expect that people on our executive will now wish to become associated with the executive body of the five constituencies mentioned. I would also think that our executive should meet to discuss disbarring our organization at the proper time. I plan to meet with our president, Mr. Walter Bell of Coronation, to discuss future plans.

The session just ended was a very busy one and 51 pieces of legislation were passed. Bill 20, dealing with Indian land claims, Bill 22 on unemployment, and Bill 41, dealing with the labor scene, were some of the more important bills passed.

As a member of the Alberta Hospital Services Commission, I've been very involved in developing some new approaches to health care. New programs either have, or will be announced very soon.

If you have a concern relating to Government, please call or write. I'll be glad to assist you as much as is possible.

THE AGRICULTURAL & RECREATIONAL LAND OWNERSHIP ACT

Alberta's rich soil and picturesque recreation areas are two of the province's most valuable resources.

In order to ensure that these resources continue to be owned by Albertans and other Canadians, The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act and Temporary Regulations have been passed.

This new law is designed to prevent non-Canadians from buying significant amounts of prime agricultural and recreational land. However, it does not discourage those existing or future non-Canadian investors who wish to come to Alberta to build new manufacturing plants, expand existing plants, invest in agricultural processing operations, recreational developments, new home subdivisions, or similar developments.

Joint business ventures between non-Canadian enterprises and Alberta companies have been and will continue to be encouraged. These will be excluded from controls if an exemption is approved by the Provincial Cabinet.

Legislative Authority

The Foreign Ownership of Land (Temporary) Regulations were passed under the authority of the Canadian Citizenship Act (Section 33). The Proposed Draft Regulations are expected to be passed under dual authority of the Citizenship Act and The Agricultural and Recreational Land Ownership Act (Bill 40).

Uncontrolled Lands

Some lands are not controlled under the regulations. These include:
— crown land
— mines and minerals

- land within the boundaries of cities, towns, new towns, villages and summer villages
- not more than two parcels of land, containing 20 acres or less in total.

Temporary Regulations Are Now in Effect

In order to allow time through the summer for comments and submissions from the public on the Proposed Draft Regulations and to avoid a rush of foreign purchases of Alberta Land, "The Foreign Ownership of Land (Temporary) Regulations" came into effect on April 28, 1977, by an order-in-Council (O.C. 404/77) under Section 33 of The Citizenship Act. These Temporary Regulations are identical in essential respects to the Proposed Draft Regulations. Modifications or changes may result from public comments and submissions. Elements of the Temporary and Proposed Draft Regulations are outlined below:

- A. Canadian citizens and landed immigrants are not controlled or affected in any way. Non-Canadians, foreign governments, or corporations incorporated outside Canada will be subject to the controls.
- B. Essentially a "foreign controlled corporation" is one in which the percentage share ownership is more than 50% foreign.
- C. Trusts cannot be used to circumvent the controls.
- D. The regulations do not apply to or affect right of entry orders, pipelines, oil and gas processing plants, or water, gas or electric power lines.
- E. Wills and the transfer of land on death are not controlled.
- F. Enforcement will be by sworn declaration attached to a transfer of land and by investigative procedures in Land Titles Offices and the Companies Branch.
- G. Penalties:
  1. The Citizenship Act sets as a penalty for breach of the Act or regulations, a fine of up to $10,000 and imprisonment of up to one year or both.
  2. Where controlled land is acquired contrary to the regulations, procedures for judicial sale are set forth.
- H. The Registrars of Land Titles are given the authority to require such evidence, verified by statutory declaration or otherwise, as is deemed necessary.
- I. The onus of proving that a person or corporation is eligible to buy Alberta land is on that person or corporation.
- J. Mortgages of land held for security of loans and other indebtedness will be exempt.

The temporary regulations are in effect until December 31, 1977 or until they are replaced by permanent regulations. Parties involved or anticipating involvement in transactions which may fall under the controls should seek legal advice for an interpretation of the regulations.

No Retroactivity in Regulations

The Temporary Regulations are not retroactive for transactions that have flower beds and shrubs. A display was won by Mrs. E. McKenize and miscellaneous prizes were won by Mrs. M.J. Simpson, Mrs. C. Kelly, H. Simpson, and Mrs. A. Foster. A special hour over the ten eggs completed the afternoon.

Correction due much, but encouragement does more.

been registered. Agreements for sale, interim agreements, options to purchase and foreclosures of mortgages signed prior to April 28, 1977 will be honoured, except those involving more than 6,000 acres. Transactions involving more than 6,000 acres are required to be submitted to Executive Council, which may or may not approve the land transfer. Parties involved in negotiating transactions that have not resulted in signed agreements as of April 28, 1977, but have been under way for some time previous to that date, may also apply for a cabinet exemption.

How to Apply for an Exemption

Requests for exemptions should be submitted in writing and include the following:

- the reason for requesting the exemption
- legal description and size of the land involved
- legal description and size of "controlled land" already owned
- present and proposed use of land
- present and proposed ownership

There were many things to see, but two that stuck in my mind, the Biggy Dore Parade and the KOPS wedding Dress. They were presented in a fashion show manner, but the thing that was hard to visualize was that those idiosyncratic people used to wear those clothes.

The Day was brought to a close with this years KOPS production. Believe it or not, this years KOPS lost a total of 2018 lbs.

To participate was a very rewarding experience. I wish it could have been shared with all of our chapter. Respectfully submitted Linda Drever

Honour ministers for 25th

On Sunday afternoon, May 22, Sharon Lathern Church, assisted by Bethania and Trinity Churches, paid tribute to three sons of the parish who have now served 25 years in the Christian ministry. Pastor Lawrence Likness of Zion Lutheran in Saskatoon, Curtis Staire presently Director of Canadian Mission, and Allen Severens, Chaplain of Bethany Home and Hospital in Camrose.

Sharon Church was filled both afternoon and evening for these anniversary services, visitors coming from far and near for this special occasion. President Ralph Erickson of Sharon congregation gave a warm welcome to all. The honored pastors, including the Rev. J.B. Stiles of Camrose, were presented with bouquets by former Sunday School teachers or friends, while their wives received corsages from sisters-in-law.

The Rev. Staire, pastor of the parish from 1952 - 1965, had confirmed all three and also had a part in the ordination service in Saskatoon 25 years ago. His message and reminiscing were an integral part of the service. Musical numbers were given by the Shari sisters as well as by the group of Sharon ladies. Mr. Andy Seethan gave two appropriate readings, and Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Jacobson presented a thought-provoking skit. The organist for the afternoon service was Mrs. Erling Nilson accompanied by

Mrs. Mabel Britton on the piano.

Greetings from the various congregations which each man had served were read and also one from the head office of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada. An inscribed plaque was presented to each with a bit of amusing reminiscing by Carl Gullberg for Lawrence, Ralph Erickson for Curtis, and Rolf Jacobson for Allen, after which each expressed his heartfelt thanks to everyone. In addition, Mrs. L. Likness spoke a few words in appreciation of the warm fellowship experienced through the years. Mrs. D. Lyne of Camrose, expressed her special thanks to Pastor Staire for his concern for missionaries, she, herself, having served almost two years recently in Papua, New Guinea, while in the audience there were three more ladies who had spent time abroad: Miss Alice Stille in Papua, Mrs. Astrid Holte in Africa and Mrs. Doris Likness in Papua. New Guinea.

The generous offering received was shared equally by the Bethania Home and Hospital in Camrose, the Lutheran Seminary in Saskatoon and Canadian Missions. Pastor Severens gave the offertory prayer, and former Pastor Lars Kautson, now retired, closed the service with the benediction.

Supper was served by the ladies, followed by a time of fellowship and enjoyment of the photo display. The three cakes made by Mrs. Erickson and Mrs. Jacobson, and decorated by the latter was greatly admired. A miniature church with banners attached containing the names of congregations served by each honored pastor adorned each cake.

The evening service began with a sing-song conducted by Mr. Rolf Jacobson. Mrs. Jacobson at the organ. Pastor Nierbergall opened with devotionals; Mrs. Molly Magee sang a beautiful solo; the humorous reading by Mrs. Erling Nilson gave much food for thought. The slides of India and Pakistan shown by Pastor Staire, who had visited these areas last November, were interesting and informative. The evening closed with the singing of "O Zion, Hail Thy Mission High Filling", and the benediction by Pastor Nierbergall. A coffee hour concluded a most memorable day. May God bless each of "our sons" as they continue to serve in their respective fields.

The Daysland Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held June 10th with the president, Vera Grandt, presiding. The meeting opened with the Auxiliary Prayer. The roll call was answered by 16 members present. One get well card was sent to a member. The cookbooks were discussed and if they are here in time, Emily Hill is to set up a table and sell them July 1st. A motion was made to request for July and August but the Treasurer is to pay all bills during the holidays. It was decided to decorate a float for July 1st. The meeting adjourned. After lunch we went around to see the High Low bed that the Auxiliary are purchasing for the hospital. Mrs. Brown showed us how it worked. It is a very nice bed and is in use already in Room B.

Mrs. Margaret Graham spent a week visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. Kirkland of Peace River. Mrs. Abby Boggs was in Edmonton to attend the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star at the Edmonton Inn. She also spent the weekend with her daughter and family at their cabin at Alberta Beach. The June meeting of the Royal Purple Lodge was held on the 6th with 21 ladies present and our new Honorary Lady Betty Karpovich presiding. Letters were read from Supreme Lodge regarding the Convention in Thunder Bay in July. Also one from the Royal Purple Lodge regarding the going over the top in our collection in the spring, and a certificate will be forwarded. Reports were given by P.H.R. L. Anne Zwack on the Court wedding and by P.H.R.L. Carol Waldorf on the Royal Purple Day tea for the senior ladies. There was no Sunshine report and Chaplin sent one sympathy card.

A discussion was held on catering and as we have a motion on our books that we do not cater it was left that way. P.H.R.L. Jean Elvins read several lines of instructions from our By-Laws. A motion was made that we do not send a delegate to our convention in Thunder Bay.

Perfect attendance pins were presented to the following ladies who had not missed a meeting in the specified years. P.H.R.L. Anne Zwack, 25 years; Treas. Zeila Robinson, 18 years; Inner Guard, Helen Zwack, 12 years; V.H.R. L. Carol Waldorf, 11 years; Lady Doreen Court, 10 years; P.H.R.L. Anna Boggs, 9 years; H.R.L. Betty Karpovich, 7 years; A.R.L. Margaret Seib, 7 years; P.H.R.L. Vera Gaudet, 5 years; Sec. Lillian Klus, 4 years; Trustee Eleanor Davidson, 4 years; Lady Viola Weller, 3 years; L.L. Frances Leeb, 2 years; Trustee, Virginia Zwack, 1 year; Chaplain, Anne Eckland, 1 year; Outer Guard, Jean Gerdash, 1 year.

H.R.L. thanked the ladies for filling in offers. Lady Rita thanked the ladies for card gifts and visits during her illness.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Carstairs, Alberta
June 3, 1977

Dear Editor,
Recently received a thrilling surprise in our mailbox. Mrs. Blakey sent us a copy of the program for which Central High School paid tribute to an outstanding gentleman, Mr. Fred Sparrow. Fred, as everyone knows him, has friends far and near - we wish we could have taken part in honoring him.

The spirit of Fred Sparrow should remain with Central High School for many years. However, to reward future students of the School for contributions to the school I would like to propose that Central High be renamed "Fred Sparrow School".

Please bring this to the attention of the County of St. Albert school committee.

Yours Sincerely,
Marvin Lawes
P.S. Would you please send me a copy of your newspaper when it carries a front page picture of Fred Sparrow standing beneath a sign on the school which reads "Fred Sparrow School"?

What's happening?

How many times have you heard this common complaint: "There's nothing to do around here!" or "What a dead town!" or how about "This place is so boring in the summer!" But, it doesn't have to be this way. Summer can be a time for trying new and different experiences.

Would you like to see activities organized such as canoeing, camping, hiking, excursions to the cities, dances, social involvement, handicrafts, and a team dropout? No one person can take the time to do all these things. Nothing can be organized for the young people until they themselves take the initiative to decide what they would like to do. It is when they are on the scene.

Ellen (Spinda) Spady is from Alliance, she has attended Camrose Lutheran College for the past three years, and will be transferring to the University of Alberta to complete her degree in Education, this fall.

Her main interest in music, and she has been involved in teaching a few private students. She also enjoys horses, sailing, camping and other outdoor activities.

Dawn Freese has moved from Edmonton to Camrose for the summer. She is entering the final year of the Bachelor of Science program in Nursing at the University of Alberta. In August she will write her Registered Nurse Exams.

Besides downhill and cross country skiing she enjoys animals, camping, hiking and canoeing. A personal goal for Dawn this summer is to try and convert from a city girl to a farm girl. Good luck Dawn!

These girls see their role in the community as one of facilitating and initiating. They are not prepared to plan and set-up programs and wait for the attendance of interested young people. Rather, they would like to talk with the teens and help them explore the things that they would like to see happen. These young workers have defined the following goals in regards to their summer endeavors:

- increase the young people's awareness of the alternatives available in regards to extra-curricular activities.
- help teens realize their capabilities in organizing activities for them, by them.
- encourage teens to utilize and develop leadership qualities.
- increase the young people's responsibility for their own actions and activities.
- and to channel young people's energy into constructive alternatives.

The young workers have been hired by the Provincial Government under their S.T. P.P. (Student Temporary Employment Program) Grant.

My Father's Day gift

by Shariela M. Chevrux
Father's Day is coming. The day of the year when fathers are specially honored. When they get gifts from their children they think for just being. But I remember a year when Father's Day was different.

Father was being mysterious. He was saving and hammering, measuring and hammering, erecting a little building behind the house where it was clearly visible from the kitchen window and rather far away from the driveway. And he wouldn't tell me what it was for.

When I first became curious and asked him, he evaded my questions and only muttered vaguely about a new shop for his tools or store things. At that point me because Father wasn't usually secretive about his projects. I was used to watching him make lamps, tables, bookcases and other pieces of furniture. It was his hobby and he'd always shared it with me. But this, his biggest undertaking yet, he didn't want to talk to me about.

My curiosity grew greater as I watched the building grow. It didn't look large enough for a shop and the door was scarcely wide enough for large objects to get through and be stored there. I noticed the door particularly because Father had complained about the one to the house being too small when he had moved in to the place the year before.

But the door wasn't the most puzzling. There were steps up to it — child size steps — and the wide jacket fence enclosing what looked like five.

over beds on either side of them. Surely Father wouldn't bother with flower beds around a storage house. It was mother who liked flowers so much. The mystery excited me. I was curious and he wouldn't know was very great. Besides I had noticed the mountain of lumber and the need to know was very great. Father had noticed the mountain of lumber and the need to know was very great. Father had noticed the mountain of lumber and the need to know was very great.

At last I was going to find out what it was for. Father began quite solemnly.

"This is Father's Day isn't it?" he asked.

"Yes!" I answered in gullibility. "I'd forgotten about it, I'd been so busy wondering about the building."

"And then I decided to do something different today. I've decided I don't want a new shop or storage hut. I want to give this building to you girls instead."

And then I understood. The narrow door, the little steps, the flower beds made sense. Father had built his own Father's Day gift — a playground for us.

Discussion on program planning for the fall was followed by a talk by Al Branning of the Advanced Education Program Services.

If the turnout of people is any indication of the interest in Further Education, it would appear there are some good things happening in our area.

Community groups interested in sponsoring Further Education courses are encouraged to get in touch with their local contact or phone the main office, 355-3812.

My most unforgettable character

A Story of Eric Auburn

He was a small but his heart was big enough to make up for any lack of size. Far larger than I can remember, he drove the bus route which passes our home.

On my first day of school, I can recall staring in wonder at these huge steps which led into that big, yellow school bus. They seemed impossible to me until I strove, grumpy hand reached down and helped me up. Until my short, little legs had grown long enough to enable me to get in on my own steam, that hand was there to aid me every morning.

I remember the happy "end of the year" parties we spent with him before he got a bit too old. We would drive into a vacant pasture and for the rest of the afternoon we would play every kind of game imaginable, racing and soft ball mostly. As the dusk descended we built a blazing campfire and had a winner roast. Finally, tired and elated, we piled into the bus for home.

Every Christmas and Easter he always gave some little gift to everyone, plus some candy. But most important was his constant cheerfulness and politeness. Morning after morning he would give each child a cherry good morning smile and hello which seemed to make the day a little bit brighter. He continually waited for us in the morning and after school when we were late, which usually occurred to be the majority of the time, he never left anyone without helping sure they weren't coming that day.

Often, someone would forget something on the bus—his mittens, some of his books, or his lunchbox. He always seemed to know who they belonged to and would bring up the lane to return them after his route was done.

In most buses, you couldn't sit while riding, talk too much or do any of a number of things that were found on the rule sheet. He was always liberal with us and we appreciated it; we usually had the best behavior of all the buses.

Year after year, he did all these things for us, in a way, we were his own and he cared for us. Eventually he was replaced by a younger man as he was too old to drive a school bus any longer. With him went all his kindness and politeness and now, getting on this applies to my schoolmates.

— Genevieve Hochhaus

It has just become one of the ordinary, humdrum things of life.

(This story was written six years ago, when I was in grade 11. I found it among my old school books and would like to share it with you, to pay tribute to a wonderful man, my friend Eric Auburn. He is the source of many fond memories for me and I think this applies to my schoolmates too.)

— Genevieve Hochhaus

Hardisty Legion Auxiliary

The Legion Auxiliary held a most successful tea and bake sale in the Hall on Saturday, June 4. As is the habit with this group, the proceeds of the bake sale, amounting to $114.10, was given to the Palla Palla. The Strawberry shortcake served for lunch was much enjoyed by the large crowd attending. Two draws were made, the decorated cake being won by Mrs. Ruby Brown, and the Barbecue and Accessories went to Pat Gately.

The last meeting of the Legion Auxiliary for the season was held in the hall on June 4. Following the opening ceremony, Mrs. Linda Driver was presented with her past president's badge and pin by the president, Mrs. Gately, with thanks for the two years of fine leadership she had given. Mary Anne Thomson was then installed as secretary.

Reports were given on the tea and coffee, showing a good profit. It was reported to Mrs. Gately that the new dining for the hall had been received. This is a project that has been underway for some time, shared with the Legion. Saturday, June 11 was set as the day for a work party to put it on, the ladies to supply the meals during the day.

Mrs. Barbe Mathews was appointed in charge of Heart Fund Memorials. Mrs. Mathews will now take memorial gifts for both heart and cancer funds.

BEEHIVE OF ACTIVITY!

It's all part of our redemption program.

Your job is supplying energy. One of our major concerns is the environment. Some people don't think the two go well together. We all do! We don't believe that surface mining has to leave scars. We're proving it in the land redemption program on our Whitewood coal mine.

Originally the land was merely a corporate holding. After our mining operation our researchers turned it into a green belt.

Now it produces alfalfa, barley — and honey. Part of the reclaimed land is even sold as a wildlife habitat. Land redemption concerns our environment, so it concerns us. Write for our redemption brochure or for our year set. Calgary Power Ltd., Public Affairs, Box 1900, Calgary, Alberta T2P 2M1

My most unforgettable character

A Story of Erle Auburn

He was a small but his heart was big enough to make up for any lack of size. For longer than I can remember, he drove the bus route which passes our home.

On my first day of school, I can recall staring in wonder at these huge steps which led into that big, yellow school bus. They seemed impossible to me until a strong, gentle hand reached down and helped me up. Until my short, little legs had grown long enough to enable me to get in on my own steam, that hand was there to aid me every morning.

I remember the happy "end of the year" parties we spent with him before he got a bit too old. We would drive into a vacant pasture and for the rest of the afternoon we would play every kind of game imaginable, racing and soft ball mostly. As the dusk descended we built a blazing campfire and had a winner roast. Finally, tired and elated, we piled into the bus for home.

Every Christmas and Easter he always gave me little gifts to everyone, plus some candy.

But most important was his constant cheerfulness and patience. Morning after morning he would give each child a cheery good morning smile and hello which seemed to make the day a little bit brighter. He consistently waited for us in the morning and after school when we were late, which usually resulted in him being the majority of the time. He never left anyone without being sure they weren't coming that day.

Often, someone would forget something on the bus—his mittens, some of his books, or his lunchbox. He always seemed to know who they belonged to and would trade up the line to return them after his route was done.

In most homes, you couldn't sit while riding, talk too long or do any of a number of things that were found on the route sheet. He was always liberal with us and we appreciated it. We usually had the best behavior of all the buses. Year after year, he did all these things for us, in a way, we were his own and he cared for us. Eventually he was replaced by a younger man as he was too old to drive a school bus any longer. With him went all his kindness and patience and now, getting on the school bus isn't something to be happy about any more.

It has just become one of the ordinary, humdrum things of life.

(This story was written six years ago, when I was in grade 11. I found it among my old school books and would like to share it with you, to pay tribute to a wonderful man, my friend Erle Auburn. He is the source of many fond memories for me and I think this applies to my schoolmates too. —Jennifer Hochhaus.)

Hardisty Legion Auxiliary

The Legion Auxiliary held a most successful tea and bake sale in the Hall on Saturday, June 4. As is the habit with this group, the proceeds of the bake sale, amounting to $114.10 was given to the Pella Fund. The Strawberry shortcake served for lunch was much enjoyed by the large crowd attending. Two draws were made, the decorated cake being won by Mrs. Ruby Brown, and the Barbeque and Accessories went to Pat Gatt.

The last meeting of the Legion Auxiliary for the season was held in the hall on June 6. Following the opening ceremony, Mrs. Linda Dreyer was presented with her past presidents badge and pin by the president, Miss Gately, with thanks for the two years of fine leadership she had given. Mary Anne Thomas was then installed as secretary.

Reports were given on the tea and coffee, showing a good profit. It was reported to Mrs. Gately that the new siding for the hall had been received. This is a project that has been underway for some time, shared with the Legion.

Saturday, June 11 was set as the day for a work party to put it on, the ladies to supply the meals during the day.

Mrs. Barb Matthews was appointed in charge of Heart Fund Memorials. Miss Matthews will now take memorials gifts for both heart and cancer funds.

COME ALIVE ...

A father's concern

All of us as fathers have varying degrees of concern for the welfare and future of our children. The degree of concern increases as we realize our God-given responsibility to those we have entrusted to our care. Each child has a tremendous potential in God's sight and He has chosen us as fathers to give direction to those leaders, young years, so that they might reach this potential as they grow into manhood and womanhood. Many fathers are only concerned that their children will be successful in the temporal things of the world about us. They go to school to educate them so they will be successful in whatever vocation they choose in life. Secular education is important and vital to success in any walk of life today and they are to be admired for their concern in this area of the lives of their children. However, no father can achieve by helping his child to achieve their greatest potential without giving them spiritual direction in addition to secular education. God, Who gave each precious child to us, says in His word, "The things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." 1st Corinthians 4:18. Are you, dad, giving your children direction in this life? Sometimes, the wisest man who ever lived, recognized the need of wisdom and direction from Almighty God in order that he might reach over to those people in his world that were pleasing to God and man. The Bible says that true wisdom comes from above and far exceeds all the education that can be attained through secular channels. This wisdom leads us to a living, personal relationship with Jesus Christ as we recognize God's wonderful Potential for us as fathers and for our children. God wants to do and delights in doing for us the right conversion for the children He has entrusted to us. We can be successful in seeing our children reach their highest potential, but only as we ask God for wisdom and seek to lead them to a living, personal faith in Jesus Christ. On this Father's Day, are you fulfilling your God-given responsibility as a father?

William Chave was born near Chelsea, London, England on November 10, 1921. He came to Canada and worked on a farm near Vars, Ontario. He returned to England at the end of 1913 where he was married to Elsie Pittman in March 1914. Following their marriage he returned with his bride to Ontario. Three daughters and two sons were born to this marriage.

In the spring of 1916 they moved west to Montreal, Alberta. Here Mr. Chave worked for farmers and ranchers and later started a shoe and harness shop where he made and repaired shoes and harnesses. He also worked on the railroad and later farmed on his own.

In 1925 the family moved to Hugelnden where Mr. Chave raised sheep. Later he worked at Olds and finally moved to the Devon district.

Mr. Chave was always active in Church work, taking the services, teaching Sunday School and Bible classes and serving as a lay preacher. He was preceded by an infant son in 1924 and by his wife Elsie in 1945.

In 1947 he married Margaret Browne and they farmed in the Devon district. They later retired to the town of Devon and 2½ years ago they moved to the Sherwood Park Nursing Home. Later they moved to the Good Samaritan Nursing Home in Stony Plain.

Mr. Chave passed away on June 18, 1977 at the Stony Plain Hospital following a lengthy illness.

He was preceded by a daughter in 1945 and a grandson in 1960.

Surviving Mr. Chave is his wife, Margaret, two daughters Daisy, Mrs. Nell Jensen, Evelyn, Mrs. Dave Livingston and one son, William, all of Hardyville, and 14 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Alliance Church, Devon, Wednesday morning, June 8 at 10:30 a.m. with Rev. H.A. Woodruff officiating. Interment was in the Hardyville Cemetery, Hardyville, Alberta.

Deadline - FEDERAL COW-CALF PROGRAM

The deadline for the 1977 Federal Calf Stabilization Program is this week. Calf producers in Alberta wishing to take advantage of any benefits available must complete a registration form by June 30th.

Alberta does not have a provincial plan for 1977. Therefore, nearly everyone who has livestock can apply. One exception being a dairy farmer with a milk quota. He must be able to show that he has a separate beef herd besides his dairy in order to qualify for registration. There is no fee to register.

The Federal Beef-Cow Program this year won't guarantee producers a profit, but it will provide a support level which is at least above the net of pocket cost of production. It supports calf prices at 90 per cent of the national average price for the past five years and takes into account changes in the production costs.

All cow-calf operators eligible for stabilization assistance can register up to 100 cows, providing they own that many. A producer must also have a minimum of 3 cows to qualify. The calculation will be made on this basis. A producer with 100 cows will have 85 cows qualifying. (See the first 5) upon which 10 per cent of the calf crop applies. A person with only 45 cows will have 45 qualifying for the calculation.

The support level will be announced this fall and any payment for 1977 will be calculated in late December of 1977 based on the price of and calves from September to

Czar wins over Killam in final game

Although a dusty wind came up in the afternoon the Killam Ball Tournament was played in fine, sunny weather on Sunday, June 19th.

The first three games only went 4 1/2 or 5 innings each, one to some very one-sided scores. In the 10 a.m. game Sedgewick beat Longhead 11 - 2. The second game saw the Car win over Strome by 11 - 2. This really was quite a come back for Strome as they were down 11 - 2 at the end of the second inning. Car beat Hardisty 11 - 3 in the third game of the day.

Killam received the by to the finals so Sedgewick and Car met in the semi-finals. Again this was a very one-sided game which only went 4 1/2 innings with Car winning 11 - 4.

The final game saw some excellent picking with the Car playing having 11 strikes and the Killam pitcher 17. However the result was like the other game with Car beating Killam 11 - 2 in a seven inning game, so taking the first prize money.

Sedgewick and District News

Dorothy Heartberg, daughter Shirley and grandchildren James and Shane left Sunday to attend their church convocation in Duluth and visit relatives in Minneapolis. Brian, Norma and Michelle of Edmonton spent Saturday with Dorothy Heartberg. Congratulations to Donald Ball who has completed his first year's training in Heavy Duty Diesel Mechanics Course at SAIT and passed with honours. A happy family get-together was held recently at the Hill Johnson cabin at Pelican Point Jean's nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Brabant, and 2 small sons from Spain were special visitors. Also present from Edmonton were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Brabant, and family and the mother of the two Mr. Brabants, Mrs. Olive Carrol. The Sedgewick Oilers started well in the Sunday Baseball Tournament at Killam as they beat Loughheed 11-5 in their first game. However, they met Cstar in the semifinals and were decisively beaten 14-0. Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Palla drove to Grande Prairie last Friday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Mayne. They arrived back on Mon. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh received a phone call from her sister in England on Monday and "met" their new brother-in-law that way. I'm supposed to give her best regards to all the folks she met while on holiday here last week. By the look of what's left of Mr. Don Scott's car, he came off very well after he was involved in an accident on Fairview Hill on Saturday morning. His car is completely burnt up. Congratulations to Mr. Tom Sparrow who needs a new windshield after the Killam Sympathy is expressed to Mrs. Margaret Chappell of Two Hills, daughter-in-law of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Chappell, who last week received the news of the death by drowning of her 19 year old daughter in Ontario. She flew to Ontario to be with her family, taking young son Justin with her and leaving daughter Julie in the care of the R. Chappell family here. Mrs. Larry Proctor (nee Beverly Eastly) and family of Sherwood Park were here on Sunday to visit her father, Mr. Art Eastly, a happy Father's Day.

Announcing a new way to bar weeds from your barley

TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide controls problem weeds - for less

This new herbicide, extensively tested in the U.S. and Canada, has proven itself in the control of annual broadleaf weeds and top growth of certain perennial weeds in barley. It controls a wide variety of broadleaf weeds. If you've been plagued by Russian thistle, redtop, pigweed, lamb's quarters, stinkweed, cockle, dandelion or wild mustard - TORDON* 202C brand Herbicide is for you. Even hard-to-kill broadleafs are susceptible. TORDON* 202C Herbicide significantly controls growth of wild buckwheat, green smartweed and Canada thistle.

Effective new formula for weed control TORDON* 202C is a formulation containing

TORDON* 202C BRAND HERBICIDE

Picloram and 2,4-D amine salts. It is water soluble and very selective when compared to competitive herbicides. Barley is very tolerant at the recommended dosages. Just spray it on and let it go to work on those weeds!

Less expensive in use!

TORDON* 202C has proven to be more economical in use than any other herbicide, except phenoxy herbicides used alone. Price per pint, $4.87, 40¢ and depending on frequency of treatment, your cost per acre is $1.06 to $1.60. Two pints of TORDON* 202C provide effective coverages of up to 71 acres.

Free Sportsman's Kit with every 10-gallon purchase. Buy two pints of TORDON* 202C Herbicide and, upon receipt of the special form (available at your dealer's), you will receive a Sportsman's Kit to use up to 2 Thermos flasks plus a Sportsman's container—in a special carry-case.

HOUSE PLANTS - LIGHTING

PART 1

All plants must have light to manufacture food and grow. Light promotes leaf expansion but retards stem growth. Lighting and day length regulate dormancy (in some plants) and budding and blooming.

The intensity of light required by a plant is affected by the duration of light exposure; for instance 10 hours of light at high intensity is equivalent to 15 hours at medium intensity.

Each plant has its own light requirements, some requiring very bright light and some being shade-lovers. Plants can be divided into 3 categories according to light conditions in which they thrive.

1. Bright sunlight or full sun:

These plants should be kept in a sunny south window, or a spot where they will receive at least 4 hours of direct sun each day.

2. Moderate light:

Place in a north facing window or in a southern exposure shaded from the direct sun by either venetian blinds, hammock screens, or wire screens. A southern window in the winter provides the equivalent of filtered sunlight. Any spot that receives about 2 categories of light is suitable. To test for filtered light, pass your hand in front of the plant; you should barely see its shadow.

3. No sun or shade:

There are few houseplants which prefer shade; most like some daylight. A plant receiving insufficient light appears to be stretching towards the light; the leaves become long and the internode distance becomes longer than previously.

The leaves themselves are initially large and pale, but if condition persists, new growth is small.

A plant receiving too much light grows extremely tall and spindly, the leaves curl under. If leaves will during the warm part of the day or yet-low or brown patches develop, they are receiving too much sun.

There is a series of four fact sheets on houseplants available free from my office. These fact sheets offer more detail than appeared in Kaleidoscope. If you wish to obtain these fact sheets, write Alberta Agriculture, Box 270, Sedgewick, or phone 386-3727. REMINDER: Alberta Women's Work applications are available from this office. Also Golden-Town Camp and Youth Seminar and Camp Sit-Im Teen applications are available.

Daysland stages
3-day homecoming

Daysland celebrated three very successful days of their 70th anniversary Homecoming with many oldtimers arriving to visit with old friends and neighbors. Friday, July 1 started off with a large parade, with a float representing all of the old school districts and some of the people that attended each school riding them. It was a very hard job for the judges to pick out the first, second and third prize. The rest of the day was spent at the Elks Sports Day with ball games, bongo, food booths, and beer gardens in the curling rink. There were displays at the school of all the old school districts, with pictures of men that attended each school which was interesting. Books were sold on the history of each school and the teachers that taught there. The Recreation Board had souvenir prizes that they sold engraved with Daysland 1807-1977 on the back. That night ended with a large crowd at the social and dance in the curling rink.

Saturday started off with a pancake breakfast served by the Lions Club of Daysland. The afternoon was spent in oldtimers ball games and visiting with friends at the school. At 5 p.m. a smorgasbord was served by the Daysland U.C.W. ladies. They served around 700 people with supper. A street dance was held for the young folk in the evening with the band Handcuff playing. They had an outdoor dance in the curling rink with a pick-up orchestra.

Sunday started with a large open air church service held on the sports ground with Pastor David Smith of the Alliance Church, Rev. Fr. F. Ellis of the Roman Catholic Church and Rev. C. Armstrong of the United Church all taking part. The choir was made up of members of all the churches directed by Mrs. M. Taranger and pianist was Mrs. R. Candlish. After the service a pot luck dinner was held in the curling rink with visiting following at the curling rink and the school all afternoon. It was a real interesting and successful three days for Daysland 70th Anniversary Homecoming and was enjoyed by all.

Grand Opening at Hardisty

The Grand Opening of Hardisty Senior Citizens Drop-In Centre, "Happy Hours" took place on June 8th last. One hundred and seventy-six guests signed the register, and were greeted by the Welcome Committee, Vera Hendricks and Mary Goodrich.

Mr. Francis Blus, as Master of Ceremonies, introduced our Special Guests. He also gave some interesting highlights concerning the old Roxy school, which has been re-opened and incorporated into the new Centre.

Among our Special Guests was Mr. Don Maynes, of Edmonton, who represented the "New Horizons" program. He complimented the officers and members of the Hardisty Social Club on their fine building, and assured us that he felt that the grant "New Horizons" had given had been well spent.

Further compliments and greetings were received from Mr. Hugh Waddie of Stettler, who is in charge of Recreation, and Wild Life, as well as from Mr. Cohen, the Representative for P.S.S. for Flagstaff County.

Arnold Malone, M.P. for Battle River, gave an interesting talk and presented a Canadian flag for the new building.

George Matthews, as head of the Building Program, and Chief Carpenter as well, gave a short talk about the Drop-In Centre.

Vera Hendricks presented a plaque to George Matthews in acknowledgement of all his hard work. She also presented a plaque to Roxy School. A lovely and useful clock had been given to the Centre by the families of the late Jack and Grace Thorp. A small plaque was placed in their memory. Three more electric clocks were also received, being donated by Mr. and Mrs. Wes Pedlar Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Timinoh, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lukens.

The towns of Hardisty expressed its well-wishes with a lovely bouquet of flowers.

Five of the original students from the former Roxy School were present. They are: Gladys Siebrasse (President of Hardisty Social Club) and her four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Robson of Valleyview, Mrs. Hazel Robson, Mrs. Aveline Cronin and Mrs. Ethel Kroner, all of Hardisty. Miss Siebrasse was asked to ring the old school bell and in came five ladies, complete with sunbonnets to sing a parody on "Old Roxy School Days."

The ribbon-cutting ceremony followed, with George Matthews handling the scissors, and Vera Hendricks, Treasurer, and Mary Goodrich, Vice President, holding the golden ribbon. As the ribbon parted, Mr. Francis Blus declared Hardisty's "Happy Hours" Drop-In Centre officially opened.

Since Hardisty's Public Library is located in the Drop-In Centre the library was officially opened by Mr. Wilkshire.

An open house will be held in the near future to view the new equipment.

Major change

This issue of The Community Press is late this week because of a major changeover in the method of producing it. A comedy story explaining the new style of printing will appear in a later issue.

As is usual when a major change is made a number of unexpected events happen and this has resulted in delays that has made us late. Our original plans called for the new equipment to be installed while still producing on the old and in this way it would not be necessary to stop any issues. But even with no paper for two weeks it still did not allow enough time.

Sorry Folks!

An open house will be held in the near future to view the new equipment.

God is really sufficient

One of my deep concerns has always been for the welfare of those good people who struggle so valiantly to live the Christian way of life and to do what the Lord wants them to do. The reason the I am concerned for the welfare of such people is because many of them are trying to accomplish so much with their own resources and in their own strength. Now I have discovered that to try and live the Christian way of life in one's own strength and with one's own resources is to enter into the possibility of defeat and possibly even a break down in mental and physical health.

Surely, it is ironic, that a person can be broken simply because he or she wants to live the Christian way of life. However, the fact remains that there are many casualties, for many good people who once sought to share the Gospel with others now have fallen by the wayside broken and alone. Some of them once so instrumental in my spiritual growth development have fallen away from the Church and the Lord that they once wanted so much to share with me.

A short time ago, I heard of a young man who was so instrumental in bringing others to Christ, now with his marriage gone, and held in captivity by drugs, he wanders through the streets of the inner city, a "tormented and broken person" and now is but a shadow of that young disciple for Christ that many came to know and love. "How the mighty are fallen!" The crown can so easily fall from our heads and indeed it is necessary for us to be aware that such an experience can be ours. I have heard people express their loyalty to Jesus saying "others will fall away, but I will never forsake my Lord." Peter, the Rock upon which Christ built His Church, once made the same expression of loyalty only to make the painful discovery that indeed the spirit is willing but, the flesh is so weak. The Apostle Paul warned his people not to boast or think of themselves more highly than they ought. Our Beloved Master once said, "My yoke is easy and my burden is light." Matt. 11:20. My dear friend, if the yoke is not easy for you, and His burden is not light, then it may be that you are trying to accomplish so much by yourself, with yourself and even for yourself. Let Him do all things through you. Do not become anxious and troubled about many things. Ask him to fill you to overflowing with power and the beauty of His Holy Spirit. Let Him accomplish beautiful things through you. Let Him give to you that peace that only He can give. Relax and trust Him, and discover the power and beauty of the truth that "Your God is powerful to supply all your needs."

New phone equipment installed at Sedgewick
Two equipment additions expected to handle increasing communications needs in the Sedgewick area until the end of 1977, are being installed in the Alberta Government Telephone exchange in Sedgewick.

The addition of one hundred and twenty telephone lines and associated equipment to be operational by July 29, is the first and main project.

At the same time, an Automatic Number Identification (ANI) equipment, for customers having private lines will be added. It will no longer be necessary to give home numbers to an operator when making a Direct Distance Dialed (DDD) call. Their number plus the date, time and length of call will be electronically registered. Operators will continue to come on the line to call for the calling number as the customers make long DDD calls on party-lines.

Cass family hold reunion

June 19th saw a happy event in Strome when some 150 relatives signed the guest book at a reunion of an old-time Strome family, the Casses. The ground work for the party was done by Mr. Richard Cass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cass who farmed north of Strome for many years. Four other well-known families were represented by the families of the Cass sisters: Marilla, Mrs. N.S. Cramton; Aina, Mrs. H. Reeder; Laura, Mrs. Charlie Richardson; and Edith, Mrs. Claude Devey. One sister Florence, Mrs. Everett Cramton, of Fordville N.D. was represented by her son, all of the wild berries of Alberta. Those tangy sweet remnants of the yesterday.

The early pioneers who settled far from trading centers and railroad lines had several problems to contend with, the only set of four generations present. One set of five generations was present, that of Mr. N.S. Cramton, George Cramton, Ann Hill, Rosalie Auburn and her infant daughter Tween. These standing from some distance were Mrs. Jean Cass from Alaska, members of her family from Oregon, Jean and Gladys Wyler from Fleming, Saskatchewan, the Milton Cramton family from North Dakota, the George Clark family from Vancouver.

Camrose clicked steadily and one favorite snap was that of the eldest person present, Mr. N.S. Cramton, 96, and the youngest one, his great-granddaughter Tween Auburn, 2 months. There was a difference of ninety-five years and four months in their ages. The day was spent in peering at the name tags, getting the family connection, and then in happy reminiscing and reacquaintance. Not least importance were the two huge smorgasbord meals set out for all to enjoy.

Each credit is due Mr. Hillard Cass and his helpers who worked very hard to bring the entire event to a happy and successful conclusion.

SASKATOONS, RASPBERRIES . . .

Through a weed choked ditch over a sagging, barbed wire fence, into the scratchy underbrush. With pale clinging, we scramble toward them — the wild berries of Alberta. Those tangy sweet remnants of the yesterday.

POLAR COOLER
 Frozen yogurt is the "hottest" thing on the frozen scene! Basically, frozen yogurt is much the yogurt you buy at the store, except that it is frozen. The soft frozen yogurt is made in the same machines that produce soft ice milk, but at a colder temperature.
 Frozen yogurt can be served in as many different ways as ice cream. The most popular form so far has been the yogurt cone. I recently tasted soft serve yogurt in lemon and strawberry flavors. It was delicious! I found that the frozen yogurt wasn't as sweet as ice cream and had a pleasant tart flavor. If you haven't tried frozen yogurt yet, you've a lot of catching up to do! The Queen in Red Deer is now selling soft-serve yogurt in three flavors. Why not try it the next time you go to the city? Agriculture Canada has come up with a recipe for making a similar product at home. It resembles hard ice cream or sherbet and can be served in cones; sprinkled with nuts, granola, or coconut; on croissants, pastries, or waffles topped with fresh or frozen fruit; in an attractive glass with cream de menthe garnished with chocolate shavings; or in peach halves perked up to soften. But, why not experiment on your own?

keep off the summerfallow with TREFLAN

Now, instead of spring or fall application, you can use Treflan during July and August on summerfallow you're going to seed next year to rape. Yes, now in the summer, when more time, good weather and ideal soil conditions will help you do a better job.

If you apply and incorporate Treflan this summer, you'll be surprised at how often you can keep off the summerfallow. You will need to cultivate less, because Treflan goes to work right away controlling weeds, and this chemical control means black and weed-free summerfallow with a lot less tillage. And a lot less labor, time and fuel.

LOUGHEED A.C.W.

The June meeting of the Lougheed A.C.W. of All Saints was held at the home of Mrs. Pauline Butcher with President Marie Martin in the chair. Meeting opened with members prayer and Devotional was given by Carol Butcher.

Mrs. Jim Black was welcomed as visitor to the meeting. Sec. Treas. Pauline Butcher read the minutes of the last meeting and business resulting from minutes was discussed. Verona Cookson handed out tickets to be sold on two lovely wool crocheted cushions to be raffled off.

Our U.T.O. was paid and sent in as well as our pledge and fees.

Treas. report was then read and approved.

It was decided that our July meeting will be held at the church with general cleaning the main aim at this time.

Roll Call was answered with cards sent and sick visits paid.

Mrs. Sandra Bostelink won the hostess prize. Meeting closed with Lords Prayer. The hostess served a delicious lunch and a friendly hour was spent and much enjoyed.

A fresh and vital approach to Gospel Music is offered to all who attend a concert featuring the Calgary based singers, Meg and Rodney Bratley. A personable style coupled with impressive arrangements of original, contemporary and traditional gospel songs help Meg and Rodney communicate their deep commitment to Jesus Christ.

Each year, the Bratleys are featured on television, in concerts and in church services throughout Canada and the U.S. Past bookings range from The Peoples Church in Toronto, through to The Salt Company in Detroit, and include such unrivaled places as the Seattle Great Hall in Seattle.

Meg and Rodney are gospel musicians. The continued success of their ministry is the direct result of a growing, personal relationship with Jesus Christ, and the expression of that relationship through the music they present. Much of the music selected for each concert has been written by Meg Bratley. Other songs by composers such as Bill Gaither and Andre Crouse are carefully selected to produce a balanced program. The Bratleys record on the Westmount label of Calgary.

Be sure to attend the coming concert with Meg and Rodney Bratley to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 24 at the Sedgewick Church of the Nazarenes.

Barrhead wins Killam's 10th baseball tournament

The Killam Lion Club's Annual Baseball Tournament was held on Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24th in ideal baseball weather, hot and calm.

The first game on Saturday which was scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. was delayed until 10:00 a.m. as an afternoon shower had left a small part of the diamond around home plate a little wet. But in an hour the field was in excellent condition and the Rapid City Maceys and the Medicine Hat Junior All-Stars took to the field. This was the most one sided game of the tournament and only went 7 innings with Rapid City winning easily by a 19 to 0 score.

The soon game between the Red Deer Border Players and the Edmonton Tigers was a close game with the result in doubt until the very end. The Border Edgecliffers out the victors by a 8 to 1 score.

At three p.m. the Grand Central Northlanders took on the Edmonton Tigers with the Tigers winning 10 to 5.

The six p.m. game between Lac La Pêche Dodgers and Barrhead Cardinals was tied after nine innings when it was called on account of darkness with play resuming at 10 p.m. on Sunday. These teams battled through another five innings before Barrhead managed another two runs to win 8 to 6.

The first of the semi-final games between the Edmonton Tigers and Barrhead Cardinals was another extra inning game with Barrhead bringing in 5 runs in the top of the fifth inning to break a 3-3 tie and win 8 to 3.

In the 5:00 p.m. semi-final Rapid City went against the Red Deer Border Players. This was another close game and although Rapid City brought in two runs in the ninth inning they couldn't overtake Red Deer who took a 7 to 6 win.

So the final was between the Red Deer Border Players and the Barrhead Cardinals. Red Deer jumped off with 5 runs in the first inning but Barrhead caught them and the conclusion of 9 innings found them tied 8 to 8.

It was getting dark when the game was called and the Red Deer Border Players and the Barrhead Cardinals were declared joint winners for 1977 of the Killam's Trophy.

The H.R. Lucky Memorial Trophy, donated by the Robert North family for the most valuable player in the tournament was given to the Barrhead catcher Jerry Hollett and the Red Deer Border Player, Gorman Heinveler.

Two very enjoyable days of good baseball was enjoyed by a good crowd of appreciative spectators.

F & G release pheasants

After about two years of correspondence, planning, investigation, and work, the Iron Creek Fish and Game have finally received their first pheasants. The club has received 100 six week old pheasant chicks from Fish and Wildlife Research Centre at Brooks.

They will be released in 12 weeks of age and then released in places through the area in which there are club members.

It is interesting to note that the truck which delivered the birds was driven by Dale Jacobson, a non-law of Nels Eldy.

Strome girl takes first in safety essay contest

"Child Safety at Home and on the Farm" was the theme for the 1977 Rural Safety Essay Competition sponsored by the Alberta Association.

Provincially winners were presented by His Honor, Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhilber to this year's winners from Grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 at a luncheon held in Edmonton.

"Approximately 48,000 people, representing 54 School Divisions, wrote essays dealing with child safety," reports Mrs. Lois Hole, Chairman of the Rural Safety Essay Committee. "This is an increase of 1000 essays over last year, and our committee is extremely pleased with the response," she added.

Judging was first undertaken at classroom level and the best of these then forwarded to division Superintendents and then sent to the Alberta Safety Council. Final selection and provincial first places were chosen by a panel of teachers from the Correspondence School Branch in Edmonton.

Chosen from the county of Flagstaff were Laurel Williams of Strome from grades 5 and 6, and Karen Crawford of Forestburg from grades 7 and 8. Their essays appear on page ten.

Nominate your Junior Citizen now

The Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Awards were inaugurated to bring deserved - but frequently overlooked - recognition to young Albertans for acts of initiative, courage and leadership.

Its success is due to the tremendous support of Albertans generally and especially to the member-citizens of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper Association who became active participants from the very inception of the program.

Initially, the awards were presented for meritorious conduct on the part of individual boys and girls. In 1964, however, the program was expanded by the addition of group awards.

Any young Albertan (or group) between 6 and 18 years of age can qualify for an Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year Award.

Boys and girls may be nominated that manifests courage, initiative, or achievement in any act or achievement which merits recognition.

The deadline for receiving nominations is the last 15 days of July, 1977.

when we cannot see or think our way through our problems? Where is our faith? In ourselves or in God?

The prophet Job declared in Job 13:15 "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him." God cannot work his wonders with a faith that falters in times of adversity. Mountains are only moved by a steadfast faith ... even if it is a faith only as small as a grain of mustard seed ... as Jesus said.

When we cannot think our way through our difficulties, we need to recall the words of Jesus in Mark 9:23 "Everything is possible to him who has faith." Jesus set no limits on what faith can accomplish; why should we? By faith we soar over all obstacles. Steadfast faith is deaf to defeatist talk and blind to the impossible.

SHOW CAN WE HAVE STRONGER FAITH? We must at first feed our faith upon God's Word, and then we can grow on a regular daily basis. We cannot have faith in something we do not know, and from the Bible we find strength for our faith as we begin to understand the nature of God in whom we trust and to understand how we fit into His plan for our world. Our faith grows as we share God's Word with others and our own faith in fellowship and prayers together with our fellow believer. Our faith grows also when in times of trial we find that in times of their faith.

There is just no limit to whom we will do when believing to possess this precious gift of faith, lift up their prayers for us, make us all things possible. Praise His Precious Name!

SNOWY OWL

BY TERRY HARRIS

The Snowy Owl is a large, diurnal bird of prey of the Arctic regions of the world. In Canada it lives north of the tree line. Its life cycle is intricately dependent on the abundance of lemmings, which form an important part of its food supply.

In years when food is plentiful the Snowy Owl reproduces... in years of scarcity nesting does not take place and the birds wander off to the south. These cycles occur every 4 or 5 years.

INCOME THE KILOMETRES

September, 1977: that's the month when road speed signs across the country will be changed to read kilometres per hour (km/hr). The exact date will vary from province to province. Replacement speeds for common speed limits are as follows:

80 mph to 80 km/hr;
80 mph to 80 km/hr;
60 mph to 100 km/hr.

September is also the date when distance signs will change to metric only, for example: "30 km to the next exit." If your odometer only registers miles, you may want to have a conversion chart for miles to kilometres handy.

FUEL CONSUMPTION

The date for sale of gasoline by litres is January 1, 1979. A deviation has been made that fuel consumption will be given as kilometres per gallon until that time, for example: if your car gets 22 miles per gallon, it will now get 35 kilometres per gallon.

I'm PROTECTING My GRAIN from THEFT with GRAINFETTI

GRAINFETTI® — small bits of paper, each containing a number — is a product to identify stored grain and is a modern means of providing a preventive measure to grain theft.

GRAINFETTI® is an idea developed by police, in co-operation with the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, to deter theft of stored grain.

The tiny, numbered pieces of paper should be mixed with the grain and, in particular, sprinkled over the top of the binful in the granary.

Care should be taken to assure that numerous slips of GRAINFETTI® would be included in any quantity of grain stored — whether augered from the bottom of the bin, shovelled from the top or removed by ganching a hole at truck-height in the side of the granary.

Stolen grain, by itself, cannot be identified in court, while in transport or in someone else's grain storage bin. But "numbered" GRAINFETTI® identified grain is a definite proof of ownership.

GRAINFETTI® is sold only in five-pound 5-lb. quantities and each order has its own individual registration number. Once sold, this number belongs to the purchaser and remains his property. This number will not be used again unless the original purchaser re-orders.

Should your personalized GRAINFETTI® supply be stolen, the number would be cancelled and it would be of no use to anyone.

Authorized agent for GRAINFETTI® in this area is

Telephone 384-3641 — Sedgewick, Alta.

Grain containing GRAINFETTI® is acceptable at elevators as the program has been approved by Canadian grain authorities.

LOW COST PROTECTION

Use of GRAINFETTI®, either in your presently stored grain or put in at the time of harvesting, is a major deterrent to grain theft. Grain rustlers do not want "branded" grain in their possession. Your bins of grain are relatively safe from theft.

GRAINFETTI® is a registered trademark of THE INDEPENDENT PRINTERS, BIGGAR, SASK. It is only available for immediate personal purchase or individual orders by mail from The Biggar Independent and its authorized agents.

Mail orders must be made out by the owner of the grain to be protected.

GRAINFETTI® orders are mailed postpaid. Your money order should be required at time of order. Orders for COD shipment acceptable.

GRAINFETTI® is the registered trademark of The Independent Printers, Biggar, Sask.

A Bad Day

Surely not in the bathroom! When she got to the door she started looking to see him. Was Johnny there? Yes! There he was sitting with an empty aspirin bottle at his side. Had he eaten the aspirin Johnny didn't look very good. He must have eaten them! And they were adult aspirin too! At first Sue didn't know what to do. But then she thought of what her mother had told her to do if an accident should occur. She took Johnny and laid him on the couch. She then quickly checked the hospital and the ambulance. In a short time they came. They placed Johnny in the ambulance.

It was a sad faced girl that watched the ambulance drive away. Sue's mother and father came home. They asked Sue where Johnny was. She told them the sad story. When they heard about the car crash and drove to the hospital to see how Johnny was. They all waited in the waiting room. After a while the doctor himself came out and told them Johnny was alright but would have to stay in the hospital overnight for observation.

They drove home in silence. Sue's mother was worried to see her son. She realized that she had been very careless to do such a thing.

Sue should have watched Johnny more carefully. Instead she phoned up her friend. Also the aspirin should have been put up higher, out of children's reach. Her mother should have not left him with her so long. If these things were done the accident may have been avoided.

Farmers in central and eastern Alberta are urged to check their rape crops from now until they start to ripen for diamond-back moths.

Diamond-moths are about three-eighths or an inch long and a dull grey with a diamond pattern down their backs when their wings are folded. The larvae are pale green and approximately half an inch long when fully grown. A typical characteristic is their backward motion when disturbed, and is often supposed that diamond-moths check their crops every week until they start to ripen.

Alberta Agriculture's entomologists are conducting a survey to find out whether moths are actually in Alberta, and if so, the severity of the infestation and the size of potential infestation areas. The last large migration occurred in southern Alberta in 1975, but it arrived too late to create any damage. Because the County of Flagstaff are asked to help spot a possible infestation, by checking their fields regularly. Some of the experienced entomologists in the past should serve to remind us that infestations are best controlled when spotted early.

E. R. Tourist Assoc. and Flagstaff auto club organized a car rally

The Flagstaff Rally, to be held Saturday, August 30, 1977 is a Car Rally designed to encourage participation of families and friends on a fun-filled day. The cars being registered must have a minimum of two people (Driver and Navigator) and will have to follow a planned route by attempting to decipher clues and interpret instructions.

The Rally Organizers, British River Tourist Association and the Flagstaff Auto Club, are extending an open invitation to participate and are designing the route so that cars can proceed in a relaxed manner.

A prize is being offered for the first car to arrive closest to the designated time after going through the various check points en route. Spending in this case becomes detrimental, so cars that finish too soon would be disqualified. This is not a race.

Following the Rally, a welcome roast and campfire will be held at which participants provide their own food. The evening should be fun-filled with singing and entertainment around the campfire.

Organizers are prepared to provide overnight campsites for those coming from afar. Persons interested in camping should advise the organizers when Pre-Registering.

Land use planning program set up

The Rocky Mountain east slopes zoning policy only begins an ambitious land use planning program for provincial Crown property, according to the chief of a newly-created agency responsible for the job.

As I See It

Off the well beaten 36th Avenue gate in on the motion too. Camp trailers and mobile units are going and coming, all bitten by the holiday bug. There's only a few of us, who have managed to escape from this epidemic. Jim and Deborah are victims and are bound for Lethbridge and thereabouts.

Etta Huse and Muriel Brown arrive home to Trail via Radson Hot Springs, Banff and Lake Louise. Etta Huse and Muriel Brown drive to Trail via Radson Hot Springs, Banff and Lake Louise and to visit with the P. Huse family at Trail. Etta and Muriel Anne and children returned to attend a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Huse at Ponoka. The reunion included Mr. and Mrs. Arne Huse of Kargerville, Norway. This Arne Huse is a second cousin of the late Arne Huse of Alliance.

In the "multiple use" area, the biggest one, only the most far reaching and permanent instructions of urban, commercial and residential building are strictly limited by the general policy.

The government hopes to make thorough management schemes "systematic" across its vast holdings, says E.C. Wildman, director of the planning branch in a resource evaluation and planning division set up late last year.

In the east slopes, detailed rules for exploitation and conservation are nearly complete for the area west of Calgary. Plans will be gradually drafted for the entire 35,000 square mile region.

"Integrated management" schemes are in final preparation for the Canmore, Kananaskis Spray Lakes, and Elbow River-Jumping Pound areas. A fourth one is being started for the Castle River area in the slopes' southern range, north-west of Waterton National Park.

With the exception of tight restrictions against disrupting high mountain country and sensitive wildlife habitat - a quarter of the overall region - the zoning imposes only general guidelines.

On Sat. July 23rd around 80 friends and relatives met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson to help them celebrate their 25th Wedding Anniversary. All enjoyed a superb luncheon. Out of town guests were Countess and Mrs. Larry Erickson of Meadow Lake, Sask., Norman Erickson of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Erickson of Oida, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keldorfer, Joan and Don of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Zinger of Canora, and Miss Leona Thompson of Sedgewick.

On behalf of those attending Vern and Phyl were presented with a poem of stanza. A very enjoyable evening was had by all. Congratulations Vern and Phyl.

Mary Acorn (nee George) of Victoria, B.C. has been visiting the George relations. Nice to see you again Mary. We welcome to town Sharon Kuperovsky, the new secretary for the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wallis and family are holidaying in parts of B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keldorfer, Joan and Don of Calgary spent several days here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson, and the Bill Morgans, Vern Erickson and Glen Roggenbach.

The government regards the application of residential use - the would be builders announce their intentions. The zoning policy requires preliminary approval in principle for major projects by the cabinet.

However, there is no guarantee of public hearings on commercial proposals. The only commitment is that "needs for public input" will be considered.

From the minister's study

Are you sensitive to other persons and their feelings? To be very open to or acutely affected by external impressions as moods and feelings of others and being responsive to those moods or feelings in a loving way.

There are many hurting persons in our world, community and our congregation. Many of these persons feel hurt because none seems to be listening to their hurts. Far too many of us run around in life doing our own thing and not being sensitive to the ugly hurts of others around us. We are always talking about our ideas and opinions rather than taking the time to listen and share our strength in another person's weakness. That is what our faith is all about.

Everywhere Jesus went He took time for people. He listened to them. He shared with them. He started in their need and with that need. Then He shared the message of God's Kingdom. Read the story of Jesus and the woman at the well (John 4). See how sensitive He is to the Samaritan woman.

Sometimes in our relationship with others, we want those relationships to move along at our timing and/or schedule. In our zeal many of us who are Christian overwhelm others with our enthusiasm and commitment. They feel "put down". Or even in our day to day activities, we can become so caught up in our opinions on how things ought to be done, we manipulate and do "put" others "down".

Remember, Love is Patient and Kind. Remember how patient the Lord has to be with you.

Love Means Patience and Kindness. That is the whole point of 1 Corinthians 13. Patience is a fruit of the Spirit which allows you to be able to "wait" without complaining or as the old biblical statement used to say "being long-suffering". Kindness is another fruit of the Spirit in treating the other person with tenderness. People are fragile or breakable. A person's feelings can often be hurt with a word or action. A person may have hurt in the past. We need that Love that is sensitive to the other; thereby we can love and be part of the healing ministry that is Jesus. God bless you!

Spring Lake team wins baseball tourney

A large crowd enjoyed fine weather although it was a little breezy at the Spring Lake Tournament on Sunday, July 31st.

All of the games went the full seven innings and in most, the result was in doubt until the very end.

In the 10 a.m. game Sedgewick beat Rosalind, 9 to 1 in a game in which the lead changed hands several times. At noon a close game saw Bawfil win out over Heister 3 to 2.

Spring Lake had a shut-out going until the bottom of the seventh inning when Daysland brought in one run for a 7-1 result in the next game.

Spring Lake received the bye into the finals so Sedgewick and Bawfil played in the semi-finals. An exciting game with Bawfil winning 6 to 5.

So Spring Lake and Bawfil played in the final with Spring Lake taking an early lead and hanging on to beat Bawfil 8-7. Of special interest in this game was the fact that for the first three innings the Spring Lake team was made up entirely of Zimmerman, Don, Ron, Bob, Reg, Doug, Kevin, Gordie, Gary, and Bill. And behind the plate? Why umpire Zimmerman of course!

Ode To Shamrock Queen

It seems God didn't want Shamrock to stay
We still don't know why
He took her that day

He must have loved
And needed her, too
'Cause dogs like Sham
Are scattered and few

In the morning
She'd watch the sun rise
While love and devotion Shone bright in her eyes

The trees and flowers
Looked forward each day
To when Sham ventured
Outside to play

Sham could cheer us up
When we felt down
She could put a smile
Where once was a frown

Yes, great was the sorrow
Shared by us all

The day when Shamrock
Answered God's call
But we'll see Sham
Again when we die
We'll all meet in God's home
Way up in the sky

A more perfect dog
God never has seen
Than our one and only
Shamrock Queen

(Last February our beautiful
5 1/2 month old Irish setter puppy was hit by a truck and killed.
Although she is gone, Sham still lived on in our hearts and memory. This poem I composed is fondly dedicated to her.)

Keeping In Touch

A NATIONAL FOOD

STRATEGY

Consumer and Corporate Affairs Minister Tony Abbott, speaking in various parts of Canada throughout the past week has advocated a National Food Policy. The Minister of Agriculture, Eugene Whelan, reports that "Canada already has a National Food Policy".

The incoherent statements by

out the winter until Friday,

June 10th when a very unpleasant food strategy was tabled in the House of Commons.

I claim that the policy paper was unwelcome because it did little to ensure an adequate supply of Canadian food production for internal use and export was stepped in the language of marketing boards.

I think it is essential, however, that people from farm and ranching regions of our country

keep closely in touch with any attempts to develop a National Food Policy since the results of such a policy could be disastrous to the producer. As citizens who live in one of Canada's food producing constituencies, we need to bear in mind that there are more Members of Parliament from the city of Montreal

than represent all of the food producing regions of Canada.

Moreover, because of the extraordinarily large number of Members of Parliament that have their electorate in large cities, their concept of a food policy is analogous to a "city" food policy. As an example I will quote from an article written by Don McGillivray from the June 10th Montreal Gazette which states: "The proof of

like the proof of a pudding - will be in the eating. The main purpose of a food policy, after all, is not to produce high incomes for farmers but to produce things for people to eat at prices they can afford to pay." That Beryl Plunpierre mentally underscores the north of large urban thinking.

A study of agricultural history clearly indicates that our cheap food has been available at the times in history when farmers have been able to produce competitively for the national and international market.

If the new food policy, as introduced on the 10th, is to be derived principally from the concept of supply management, then the unfortunate fact is that the government has never kept in touch with the

the loser.

Arnold Malone, M.P.

Battle River

have both on the grain trade and the spillover negative of loss on the beef industry.

Unfortunately, the present Minister in charge of the Wheat

Board has indicated that if

Canada ever again has another surplus of wheat, he would reintroduce the LIFT program.

With the meat industry also being the third largest in Canada, preceded only by automotive and manufacturing of small appliances, it should become abundantly clear to all Canadians that the government needs to play a much more aggressive role in assisting our farmers in the marketing of their products.

By comparison and contrast,

I would point out that a farmer's net income in France is 67 percent government support in Great Britain, 50 per cent in the United States, 17 percent and in Canada, 1.7 per cent. I do not believe that the government ought to directly subsidize the agricultural industry except in situations of unnatural crisis. I do believe however, that if we are going to keep in touch with the agricultural industry, farmers ought to be encouraged to produce and the government must play a much more active role in the field of research and marketing.

Simply put, marketing boards never keep in touch with the consumer nor the producer and

in the end the whole country is the loser.

*Maximum rate for a one minute call within Alberta.

Each additional minute is the same as the one minute regular rate. However, slight variations may show on your bill due to rounding off after the discount is applied.

Discounts are computed on the total time. A message charge is then added to all calls - regular and discounted - as follows:

DDP (Direct Distance Dialing) calls - add $3
Operator Assisted calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add $3
This applies to collect, toll number billing, time and charges, credit card, Zenith, coins, meter/hold, special billing, duration of call notification.
Person-to-person calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add $3

Remember...
our new regular rates now start at 8 a.m. instead of 6 a.m.

AS I SEE IT... LAST SUMMER DAZE!

The world is passing me by - I sit here in a crumpled heap while those about me - scramble and flit - hurrying and bustling, living life to the hilt working, sunbathing or enjoying nature's beauties while I attempt to wrestle with words and phrases and dig deep in my imagination and repertoire for lively and penetrating stories to tell. The last summer daze has got me - my mind wants to rest and listen to the buzz of flies and rustle instead - consequently a quantity "dazed and" results and I am dry - my pages are blank! I retire to the dark recesses of my mind and bid out all outside forces and indulge in complete oblivion.

RED SQUIRREL

"AN SCIURUS AMERICANUS"

Wide distribution and diurnal habits make this active little squirrel one of our most frequently seen wild mammals. Its loud, raucous "chirp" and scolding chatter are familiar sounds in the riparian forests.

The red squirrel constructs its nest in the branches or cavities of trees or stumps. It weaves its nest on food. It frequently stores up during the summer or fall. A single cache may contain several hundred spruce or pine cones.

SEDGEWICK NEWS

Wednesday, August 3, 1977

Mr. and Mrs. R. Baker of Chase, B.C. and Mrs. Esther Meyers of Calgary recently spent a week at the Vern Booth home. I understand the Bakers were very impressed with the golf course.

The Ted Holt family spent a couple of weeks in July traveling in B.C. on a camping holiday.

Clover Schmutz of Calgary and Vaughn Schmutz of Edmonton are spending their summer holidays at the farm house of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Erickson.

Merna church celebrates 70 years church service

If the Merna folk could have chosen the kind they enjoyed for their 70th Anniversary Service and Dinner on Sunday, August 7th. The little church was packed tight and the overflow congregation sat on chairs and benches outside in the sunshine. They were able to listen to and take part in the service as a P.A. system had been fixed up.

The service at 11 a.m. was conducted by the present minister, the Rev. R. Chappell. A former Merna minister, Rev. Don Lewis who was there at the 60th Anniversary, delivered the message entitled "If the Church Could Talk". Rev. Lewis was introduced and welcomed by Mrs. Marie Gohy. Mr. and Mrs. Doris Spady gave a brief history of Merna Church from its building in 1907 to the present day. The choir presented an anthem, "The Church in the Wildwood", with some additional verses written especially for the occasion.

Following the service dinner was served, a delicious variety of food being offered. This was a time for visiting and renewing old acquaintances, some of whom had come from quite a distance especially to attend. Folk were still coming when the service ended at 2:30 p.m. and I understand continued to come until past 4 p.m.

The guest book was signed by 286 folk. Among the names found there were: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jacobson from Brooks; Mr. Victor Gray of Barrie, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Hunter of Bentley; Mr. and Mrs. A.O. Lobos of Kelowna, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid and family of High Level; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rimbough of Red Deer; Mr. and Mrs. Art Wildlake, Mr. and Mrs. Don Garbutt and Mrs. Walter Sorenson and family, all of Camrose; Sarah Varner of Spokane, Washington; Jim Sharn and Clinton Huse of Ponoka; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jackson and children of Forestburg; Mr. and Mrs. Marie Gohy, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Simpson and son Scott from Sherwood Park; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Baker of Vancouver; Mrs. Tina Colan, Mr. and Mrs. Nickle, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Neufeld, the Don McAllister family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Potage, Mrs. P. ## Alberta courts undergo major change

The Lougheed government has begun a long-winded effort to keep Albertans who violate provincial traffic laws clear of the criminal courts and free of the threat of landing in police cells over minor charges.

New regulations which go into effect Sept. 1 will allow drivers to plead guilty and pay fines for 335 offences, without ending up in court, or risking time behind bars for carelessly missing appearances.

Penalties are specified for each charge in the long list. Police will only be able to demand hearings before provincial court judges in eight types of cases.

Compulsory court appearances at police discretion will be reserved for the most serious violations, including careless driving, fleeing, abandoning the scene of accidents, reckless starting and failing to stop on police demands.

The charged rules cover the most common offences: failing to obey the best of basic rules of the road, ignoring red lights and stop signs, having defective equipment, failing to provide justice into disrepair", procedures which were dramatized by a much-publicized Calgary case that has been repeated in 124.

The Provincial court process handles its cases as criminal matters. Judges have to issue warrants when accused to fail to appear; and police have no choice but to lock them up pending hearings.

In the Calgary case, a woman failed to show on a summons for running a red light because her husband had a heart attack. She pleaded not guilty and was acquitted, but only after police had locked her up on a warrant when she turned herself in after missing her first date with a judge.

In Edmonton, a 19-year-old girl similarly spent four tearful hours in city jail over a $5 ticket for failing to produce a driver's license.

Sedgewick swim team Strome slow pitch

The Sedgewick Slow Pitch team took top honors in a tournament at Strome on Sun. They lost their first game so dropped into the B Section but then they got into stride and won that section. Then went on to defeat the winners of the A section, Killam, in the finals. Since there were some Daysland players on the Sedgewick team it was suggested that it was really a Sedgewick-Daysland team.

Beauty Is Love's Smile

Charles Kingsley very aptly said, "Beauty is God's handwriting."

Have you ever stopped long enough just to marvel at all the wondrous beauty and harmony of nature which God has surrounded us with?

So much of what we see and hear in our world is negative and depressing, because of man's evil ways, that we need to take a long look at the world of our Lord and reflect upon the beautiful blessings of His creation.

Psalm 24 verse 1 says, "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof... the world and they that dwell therein." The Lord made no mistakes. Everything is for a purpose and in delicate balance in His plan.
True, man can upset the balance of nature, but he also suffers for it. God is still in control. Every day has 24 hours ... every year has 365 days. The sun shines, the winds come and go, the rains fall and the earth hangs on nothing according to God's will. Who can control the things of God?

So let us pause, at least once a day, just to enjoy the beauty that God has created. See the gorgeous colors of a sunrise or sunset... look into the infinite blue of the sky, and let His bright sunbath fill our soul with His light. Glorify God as you catch a glimpse of a beautiful bird, a flower, a dew drop, a lovely flower, the green grass,
the glorious trees.

As summer approaches, and we see the cold bare trees and the dead grass and vegetation being transformed into the living green, can we doubt that God can recreate us through the resurrection power of His own dear Son?

All created things are impor-

"The Dirty Thirties"

A huge black cloud of dust rolled high in the western sky recently. The wind blew with fierce intensity and our tall spruce tree flung its head wildly to and fro scattering cones across the lawn. I thought, "Oh no, not here too!" For I grew up on the treeless prairie and there was nothing there to break the ferocity of the wind. The sky and the wind were similar in those years called, "The Dirty Thirties."

And they were dirty years. The first few storms we experienced had my father hurrying us all down cellar along the west wall for safety should the wind blow and in the wind. The sky darkened till we had to put the lights on and we children were scared as the windows rattled and the house groaned and creaked on its foundation. Russian little balls rolled and bounced across the prairie landscape until they came to rest against some fence still high enough to catch them. Some of the fences almost disappeared in the piles of top soil blown from miles away.

"I piled up on the sills, on the roofs, making in every possible crack — that is what it was over everything. After the storm had blown itself out we swept as much as we could into the dust pan but the rest had to be washed up. There was no other way."

It nearly always happened that our dust storm struck on Friday or Saturday night when the house had been cleaned from top to bottom ready for Sunday. It was an discouraging way to have to begin again and find it harder than the first time.

Those days are long gone and we now live not on the prairie but in the parkland, but when I see the brushing about potatoes and again seedlings going on around the country I fear for it especially when I see that menacing black dust cloud.

Keeping In Touch

OUR ECONOMIC MALAISE

The majority of Canadians, talk of this country's economic problems though they were talking about another country one far removed from their own easy affluence and inhibited only by reputation politicians, business leaders and journalists. The unemployed - often concentrate in the "have-not" hinterland - do not starve in a welfare state and there are few signs of outrage by people for whom society cannot provide for the masses as were seen in the 1930's.

The fact however, the Canadian scene is very like that which prevailed in Britain during the 1930's.

While the storm signals pile up, our nation and its government continue to act as if the problems were merely marginal or temporary. The productive sector of our economy continues to be eroded by government expenditure. In 1966 the government spent 28 per cent of the national output compared with 42 per cent today. This year the federal government budgeted for a 7 billion dollar deficit, more than the total budget for the last year of Mr. Diefenbaker's government.

Incentives to compete and produce the wealth that must carry this burden of debt are increasingly meagre. Taxation continues to climb - in most provinces the individual's tax liability will take a sharp leap upwards this year. We are the second most heavily taxed western industrial nation, not so very far behind Britain's notorious taxation regime which put that country in such serious and deeply rooted difficulties.

In recent years the rush of the federal government into various areas which traditionally had been provincial responsibilities multiplied the numbers and size of bureaucracies in Canada. In recent years there has been a growing tendency to throw money rather than imagination or solution at society's problems. In an attempt to be constructive, might I suggest that some of the following are a few of the examples that could assist us in recapturing our economic security. There should be a concerted effort to cut the overlap and duplication of public programs that have grown on masses by federal and provincial governments. The growth of government spending which has increased 300 per cent in the past ten years and utilizes another 10 per cent of our gross national product should be frozen until such time as our economy has expanded to the degree that the government's share of the nation's wealth is somewhere in the range of 28 to 32 per cent. Obviously, the more money that the government takes for the public programs and redistribution, the less that is left for the private sector, the group in society which economists agree are the creators of wealth.

Moreover, there should be an extensive review of all federal crown corporation and eliminate those whose functions are either obsolete or as in the case of the 8 billion dollar Petro-Canada Project it should have been left to the private sector. Moreover there should be a concerted effort to decentralize the national government so that it is in closer working operation with the people it is intended to serve. The massive public works building programs in Ottawa in recent years to house civil servants whose obligations lie somewhere in Canada's hinterlands simply puts blindfolded those who should be keeping in touch with Canada's needs.

China — a regular wheat customer

AGRI-INSIGHT

by Alberta Wheat Pool

The world's largest population and the third largest country are two well known characteristics of the People's Republic of China. Other features are less well known. Wheat consumption by the Chinese is rising. Canada has developed and maintained a major share of wheat exports to China. In the past ten years China has purchased almost one billion bushels of wheat from Canadian farmers.

China is a large country, nearly the size of Canada. Mountains cover much of the nation and only 14% of the total land area is arable. China's acreage of arable land is, however, about three times as large as Canada's arable acreage. Summerfallowing is not practiced in China and as a result the area sown to cereals is much larger than in Canada.

Eight hundred and sixty million people live in China. Of this total, 400 million are involved in the work force and about 1/3 of these are engaged in agriculture. The Chinese are expected to work one year in every three, producing food. Three types of farms exist - collective farms, state farms and private farms. Collective farms are owned by their members and account for most of the agricultural land and production. State and private farms represent a small portion of farm land and output. Food produced in excess of collective farm needs are purchased by the state.

China is the world's leading producer of rice and that crop is the most important one for the country. About 40% of 1976 grain production was rice. Wheat is next in importance.

Winter wheat represents about 90% of all wheat production. With a 1976 harvest of 48 million tons, China's wheat production was almost twice the volume of Canada's. Wheat is mainly grown in the northern part of China where the climate is similar to the Canadian prairies. Maize, barley, millet and sorghum are also major crops.

Cultivation practices are intensive. Almost 200 million acres are under irrigation. This is about 1/5 of the world's irrigated acreage. Multiple cropping is a special feature of southern China's agriculture. Up to three crops may be grown in a single year. Inter-cropping also helps to maximize production. This involves planting a crop between the rows of another crop before it is harvested. Animal and human waste have been the common fertilizers but the use of chemical fertilizers is expanding. In recent years, China has become the largest importer of nitrogen fertilizer.

Most grain production is for human consumption. Some barley and millet are fed to livestock but most are fed grain residues such as bran plus household wastes. Rice is not the main feed in all parts of China. In the urban centers and in the major food crops, Central China consumes both wheat and rice while rice is still the mainstay of southern China.

Since the early 1960's China has been a regular importer of wheat. It is easier and less costly for China to import wheat than to move it long distances within the country. Transportation facilities are not a priority of the Chinese government. To obtain foreign exchange for the purchase of wheat, China exports rice. The shipments of rice are largest when the rice/wheat price ratio is greatest and do not necessarily correspond to plentiful rice harvests.

In the last ten years, China has purchased an average of 170 million bushels of wheat each year. Canada and Australia have been principal suppliers with almost half their wheat requirements purchased from Canada. During the 1976-77 crop year, the Canadian Wheat Board has sold 200 million bushels of wheat to China. Over half of this volume is for shipment in 1977-78. Chinese wheat consumption is expected to show steady growth and imports will continue to be necessary. China should remain an important market for prairie wheat.

A man rarely succeeds at anything unless he has fun doing it.

Got Nuthin to do? try the Aqua Aces

Has your child told you, especially during the summer holidays that there's nuthin to do? Have you run out of ideas to burn the excess energy out of your youngsters? If so, why not join in with a lot of other County parents!

Are you so busy with your work that your child may go for long periods of time with little supervision? Would you like to re-discover some of your child's abilities? Would you like your child to gain some new abilities. Come on over and join us. Would you like your child to be physically fit? And to enjoy it? Would you like your child to gain new friends, both inside and outside of the County? Why not join our group? We are the Killam Aqua Aces - a competitive swim club of approximately twenty-five youngsters. Whos, don't let the word competitive scare you! We are the world's best swimmers although we wouldn't mind being so! We are taught by excellent coaches and practice a lot. We range in age from six to fifteen. During the summer holidays we travel, on weekends, to such places as Hanna, Red Deer, Wainwright, Provost, Lacombe, & Ponoka to compete against other clubs. While most of us are just happy to be swimming, some members of our team have set records and others have competed in the Provincials. If parents go on holidays, club members are excused from practices. Your child can become a member by picking up his swimming suit and coming to the Killam Agriplex at 5:30 p.m. on weekdays. Or, if you want, call Doug Wilson, our president, at 385-2145. One thing for sure - both children and parents sure have a good time during the summer and there is a lot to do.

A. B. Graham, the founder of 4-H clubs

At the turn of this century, the Springfield Township board of education in Clark County, Ohio, U.S.A., hired a new superintendent of schools. He was a tall energetic 32-year-old teacher named Albert Belmont Graham, who was to turn learning into fun for millions of boys and girls.

Although board members & pupils knew at once that they had a master teacher as their new superintendent, they could not have suspected that within two years he would start perhaps the most creative and successful youth group ever known. On Jan. 18, 1902, Graham organized the first Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Club in the U.S. - a club that was to capture the imagination and participation of countless boys and girls, as well as volunteer leaders, around the world.

Graham's idea of helping young people get education through "learning by doing" had such an appeal that by 1908 more than 3000 boys and girls were enrolled in agricultural clubs in Ohio. First known as 4-H - Head, Heart, Hand - the club became 4-H with the addition of the fourth H - Health - about 1910. Today there are 4-H-type clubs in some 85 countries of the world.

Got Nuthin to do? try the Aqua Aces

Has your child told you, especially during the summer holidays that there's nuthin to do? Have you run out of ideas to burn the excess energy out of your youngsters? If so, why not join in with a lot of other County parents. Are you so busy with your work that your child may go for long periods of time with little supervision? Would you like to re-discover some of your child's abilities? Would you like your child to gain some new shillies. Come on over and join us. Would you like your child to be physically fit? And to enjoy it? Would you like your child to gain new friends, both inside and outside of the County? Why not join our group? We are the Killam Aqua Aces a competitive swim club of approximately twenty-five youngsters. Whoa, don't let the word competitive scare you! We aren't the world's best swimmers (although we wouldn't mind being so). We are taught by excellent coaches and practice a lot. We range in age from six to fifteen.

During the summer holidays we travel, on weekends, to such places as Hanna, Red Deer, Wainwright, Provost, Lacombe, & Ponoka to compete against other clubs.

While most of us are just happy to be swimming, some members of our team have set records and others have competed in the Provincials.

If parents go on holidays, club members are excused from practices. Your child can become a member by picking up his swimming suit and coming to the Killam Aquatics at 5:30 p.m. on weekdays. Or, if you want, call Doug Wilson, our president, at 385-2145.

One thing for sure — both children and parents sure have a good time during the summer and there is a lot to do.

HARDISTY AND DISTRICT NEWS

July 25 saw Marj Korh and Eva Anderson along with Carol, Tami and Lorna, motor to Sylvan Lake to attend a provincial Camp and these girls chose to go from the County of Flanagan. Later Marj and Eva enjoyed coffee with Judy Carr in Rocky Mountain House. Judy's husband used to work with Don Gillies.

July 24th saw a gathering of the Sampson clan, meeting at the Irving Bell home with a few friends included.

About 75 people signed the guest book and with lunch being brought from every direction, the tables were loaded with luscious food, everyone coming back for second helping.

The little dressed up skit put on by Ivy, Marj, Doris Powell, Marion Madden was enjoyed by many.

Pictures taken of 5 generation group, with Haskell Stratie of Camrose, take with niece Mrs. Myrtle Elmqvist, great niece Marion Madden, great-great niece Maureen Hays and to the fifth generation, Darren Hays. Haskell said that it had been one of the highlights of his life, enjoyed it so much.

Then these home-comings which are so popular. Your reporter, also Larverne and Betty MacIntyre enjoyed the Metakow homecoming to the fullest. The crowd attending the program Friday night was estimated at 800 people. The parade on Saturday was wonderful, with a team of horses pulling an old binder, canvas and reels running about 3 buggies, a sulky plow drawn by horses.

Who says a small town can't put out? Mrs. Frank Todd displayed the art of spinning wool, while Mrs. Jim Todd showed how tating was done and Mrs. Nelson from Provost, well in her eighties, was busy carding wool. Marj Fossen showed how home-made ice cream was done and could not keep up with the demand. The art of soap making was also demonstrated. Then there were also hobby collections on display and souvenirs as well as the book "Prairie Echoes" sold. The crowd at the barn dance was immense and the music good. People from all over attended and your reporter saw a man she had not seen since we'd gone to school together. Then there was a gathering of Nitem teachers which was enjoyed by so many. Hope someone writes about it as your reporter will be on a long looked forward trip to Manitoba and hopefully on to Nova Scotia, so won't be back until early September.

The Ken Blackwells are attending the wedding of their son in Saskatoon on August 6th. Sympathy is extended to the Kells family on the passing away of Leslie Kells eldest son, Leslie Dale, who besides all his relatives, leaves a young wife with two little children. He resided at Gull Lake and was employed by Grieb Construction of Red Deer.

Another great gathering of home comers met at Spondin, back in Rob Quast's territory. Bob said, he had a wonderful time meeting people he had not seen for forty years, and to top it all off, Mrs. Quast won an autographed quilt, which she had graciously donated to the Hanna Museum, a great memorial to that wonderful home coming.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koehler (nee Paisy Moody) of Melbourne, Australia, a daughter Lorraine Aimee, on July 9th and weighed 7 pounds. Aimee Moody spent awhile with Patsy before the little girl arrived.

A letter received from Veronica Quast saying that she and sister Karen were working with children at a summer fun day care centre. Karen and her friend work with 4 to 7 age groups and together they work with the 6 to 12 year olds. Veronica is happy to be able to go to the alternate school she was telling us about and is looking forward to working hard each semester, to catch up on her school work. Keep it up girl!

Ian Whitehead has been working for I.P.L. in Edmonton and has just been transferred to Kerrobert. Carl, who works for Traders Finance has left.

- Operator Assisted calls (including Zero Plus Number Dialing) - add 35c
- This applies to - add number billing - time and charges - coast call - 20min

Remember... our new regular rates now start at 8 a.m. instead of 6 a.m.
